'WAR IN MARIN'—SHERIFF'S OFFICERS ATTACK

Marin County sheriff's deputies staged a smoke and tear gas attack today, but without a victim. The occasion was a special drill at the sheriff's firing range near the San Rafael sewage treatment plant. The drill took the form of a simulated gas and smoke attack to rout out a fugitive. Here, officers in gas masks make their way through the smoke and fumes to reach the "enemy." (Independent-Journal photo)

Congress Leaders Back Ike On Berlin

U.S. Won't Yield, Say Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders talked over the Berlin situation with President Eisenhower today and welded a united stand of firmness against Soviet threats, and preparation for any eventuality.

Democrats and Republicans joined in hitting that note after a 90-minute White House conference. Yet they emphasized that firmness does not mean rigidity or unwillingness to negotiate.

"There is no thought of yielding to pressure," Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen.

He added that on the other hand the United States and its allies are determined to explore every possible avenue which could maintain peace with honor.

Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will open talks here March 20 on the situation. Macmillan also will review for the President his recent Moscow conferences with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Announcement of the plans by Macmillan to come here was made by the British and U. S. governments before Eisenhower's conference with the congressional leaders.

Accompanying Johnson were House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.); Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois; and Rep. Charles E. Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP leader.

They said Eisenhower had not proposed that Congress take any specific action regarding the Berlin situation.

Rayburn called the conference very informative .

"The upshot," he added, "is that we are united. We have no parties in this thing."

Board Opposes Putting Span In Bay Authority

Resolution Says Move Would Have 'No Benefit'

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors, in a special meeting today, flatly opposed inclusion of the Golden Gate Bridge in the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

In a strongly worded resolution passed unanimously, the directors called provisions of CB 576, a bill by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy forming the Authority, "detrimental to the best interests of the people of the counties comprising the bridge district."

Attempting to keep away from either endorsement or opposition to the authority itself, the directors said inclusion of the Gate bridge "would afford no benefit whatsoever that the bond-holders, taxpayers and public do not have now."

COUNTIES EXCLUDED

In addition, the resolution pointed out that Mendocino and Del Norte Counties, part of the bridge district, were excluded from the authority, but "would still be liable for payment of bonded indebtedness . . . which would thus effect taxation without representation."

The board action came after a meeting of the bridge's legislative committee at which the bridge attorney, Jerome B. White, answered 13 questions submitted to him by directors and the general manager.

'UNCONSTITUTIONAL'

White said in his opinion the Authority bill is unconstitutional; the legislator did not have the right to delegate powers of the bridge directors to any new agency; the proposed legislation does not anticipate a vote by the people of the district to accept inclusion; either a citizen or bond holder would have a right to sue to prevent the district from joining the authority, and the authority would be under no requirement to extend state gasoline tax funds for maintenance of either the Golden Gate Bridge or other bridges it might acquire.

The bridge board's resolution reaffirmed its intention of eventually making the bridge

Marijuana Jails 2 HAFB Airmen

Two airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base were jailed last night with several packets of marijuana, which San Rafael police said may have been imported from Mexico.

Suspects, held in Marin County Jail, are Airman 1/c Rogelio Flores Castillo, 23, of 78th Fighter Wing, and Sgt. Raymundo Gutierrez Jr., 22, of 43rd Communications Squadron.

San Rafael police and the sheriff's office worked on the case jointly, making both arrests on San Rafael's main street.

Inspector Nick Giampoli of San Rafael police got a tip that marijuana was being kept at an apartment in 1333 Fourth street. He and Sheriff's Inspector Richard Argento went to apartment 16 at the address, where Gutierrez and his 18-year-old wife live. She is expecting a baby in two months.

The officers waited until about 5:20 p.m. when Gutierrez arrived home.

Inside a sport coat pocket in the closet, police found marijuana wrapped in an envelope. Gutierrez said he was holding it for Castillo.

Argento spotted Castillo's car on Fourth street from a description given by Gutierrez. On the floor board of the car, Inspector Argento said he found marijuana seeds. He arrested Castillo at a Fourth street bar, and confiscated two packets of marijuana in the airman's right front pocket.

According to the officers, Castillo admitted buying the narcotic in Tijuana, Mexico, and bringing it back for use by his friends. He denied selling the marijuana.

Sunny Hills Urged As Center To Treat Emotionally Upset

Sunny Hills directors met in special session in San Francisco today to discuss a recommendation for development of a "residential treatment center for emotionally disturbed children."

The recommendation came from William D. Schmidt, executive director of children's services in Cleveland, Ohio. Schmidt just concluded a study of child care needs and facilities in the San Francisco Bay Area. His study was arranged for by the United Fund and his findings were presented to that agency yesterday.

"The number of disturbed children is large (in the Bay Area), and the resources for treatment are so small," Schmidt declared.

He said the growing number of disturbed children come from "families where there is divorce or separation, marital incompatability, emotional and mental illness in parents, and general social maladjustment . . . Their behavior symptoms include severe aggression, exaggerated sexual disturbance, unreasonable fears, fire setting, homicidal attempts, suicidal attempts, stealing, truancy, lying and running away."

Only Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco provides care for treatment of disturbed children, but since it serves residents from the entire state its capacity is "but a token resource" for treatment of all the Bay Area children, he wrote.

Schmidt's report said Sunny Hills children's home in San Anselmo "is in a strategic position to develop such a program. Its present population of about 50 children is heavily weighted with disturbed children. It has had to move in the direction of treatment center care because of this. Of the present population, six children are in treatment arrangements with private psychiatrists. Its case work and other staff has available to its psychiatric consultation. Its board is searching to clarify the appropriate course for Sunny Hills to pursue for the future."

"Sunny Hills could perform a great service to children and the community if it would develop its program as one of residential treatment for emotionally disturbed children . . . This development can come to pass at Sunny Hills only with the help of the entire community," Schmidt concluded.

Schmidt's report explained that present-day "social security," in the form of state contributions for foster home care and other programs, fill the need for which charitable orphanages were founded. Sunny Hills was founded as a Presbyterian orphanage 64 years ago, with initial contributions from two wealthy Marin residents, Capt. Robert Dollar, steamship line owner, and E. K. Wood, lumber magnate.

Schmidt's study and findings coincided with the work of a

Freitas Ranch Annexation Wins Round

The Marin County Boundary Commission gave its approval today to the proposed annexation of the Freitas Ranch and other holdings to the City of San Rafael.

But the boundary commission, headed by Walter R. Castro, warned that such an annexation could lead to double taxation.

For example, some areas that are now in the Gallinas Sanitary District may come under the San Rafael Sanitation District. And portions of the Terra Linda Community Services District might have to pay taxes for San Rafael recreation services.

The commission approved the maps presented, with a warning that the overlapping districts could mean multiple taxation for property owners in the annexed area.

Owners of about 1,090 acres of land are seeking annexation to San Rafael. Owners include the Freitas family, Eichler Homes, Calvin Wheeler, John Kenny and Harry Heifetz.

If the annexation goes through, the boundaries of San Rafael will push north up to the Freitas Parkway ditch and across the highway to include the Professional Parkway development.

Larkspur Man Sues Lehi Skipper For Debt On Radio

DeVere Baker, who sailed his Lehi IV to Hawaii, still owes a Larkspur man $245 for the short-wave radio set used in that voyage, according to a suit on file today in Marin Municipal Court.

Rudy Nelson of 11 Heather way, Larkspur, says he provided Baker with an Apelco short-wave radio transmitter and receiving set in March of 1957. At that time, Baker promised to pay him $275 plus interest for the radio set. As collateral the Lehi skipper left a new "Globe Scout" short wave transmitter, says Nelson. The radio left as collateral sold for $30, which leaves $245 plus interest still owing, Nelson claims. He has hired attorney Wallace S. Myers to back up his claim.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Charles Brown (D-Shoshone) got a roar of laughter during Senate debate on the 65-miles-per-hour speed limit yesterday with this story:

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Raafel) was driving 90 miles an hour through his district with another senator as passenger.

McCarthy kept pointing to each side of the highway, saying, "I know all those people up there, and up there."

The other senator, Brown said, got more and more nervous as McCarthy looked less and less at the road. Finally he said:

"Say, Jack, if you get killed, you will have a big funeral. But I don't know anybody. For gosh sakes, slow down!"

65-Mile Speed Limit To Be Official Jan. 1

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown made it official today: California's high speed limit is going up to an absolute 65 next Jan. 1.

The governor announced he would sign the bill sent to him with an overwhelming vote by both houses. The legislation will replace the state's flexible 55 miles per hour limit.

Brown said he intends to instruct the California Highway Patrol to enforce the new law "to the letter."

However, he acknowledged there probably will be a tolerance of a few miles per hour —how much he couldn't say— to make sure the motorist is actually violating the law.

But the governor said the Department of Motor Vehicles will be strict in suspending licenses for continued violations.

Brown indicated in his news conference discussion that the flat 65 will mean that motorists will have to drive at a lower speed than they have been accustomed to under the existing statute. He said he was informed by experts, however, that it will actually save lives.

School Aide Severely Cut As Car Flips

Mrs. Elizabeth Louise Beatty, 37, of Bear Valley Ranch, Olema, suffered severe cuts of the mouth and left leg at 7:55 a.m. today when her eastbound auto ran off Sir Francis Drake boulevard near Lagunitas, slammed into a tree and rolled over.

The injured woman told the California Highway Patrol she lost control during a coughing spell. Her car, a two-door sedan, hit a redwood tree four and one-half feet in diameter, then flipped over and landed right side up 27 feet away.

Mrs. Beatty is employed in San Anselmo as office manager for the confederated school districts of Fairfax, Kentfield and San Anselmo. An unidentified passing motorist drove her to Marin General Hospital. Police escort from Fairfax was provided by Capt. Clifton Cordes of the Fairfax Police Department.

Hospital attendants said the full extent of Mrs. Beatty's injuries has not been determined. She was admitted for observation and further treatment.

Today's accident happened three-tenths of a mile west of Lagunitas. The car was described as a total wreck.

Mercury Down After Heat Wave

A "cool wave" hit Marin today.

At noon, the thermometer reading atop the San Rafael City Hall was a mere 59 degrees, down 13 points from that at the same time yesterday.

High readings yesterday afternoon reached 82 degrees in San Anselmo and Mill Valley.

The drop today didn't mean any immediate return of winter, the Weather Bureau said. The prediction was still for warm sunshine through the weekend.

Woman Killed As Car Hits Marinite's

A 24-year-old San Francisco woman was fatally injured last night when her foreign car crashed into the rear of a Mill Valley woman's auto in Daly City.

The crash killed Sonia Ellen Shirley of San Francisco. She was dead on arrival at San Francisco Hospital after emergency treatment at Junipero Serra Hospital in Colma.

The Mill Valley driver, Mrs. Alice Cecilia Abramson, 45, of 5 Cornelia avenue, was unhurt.

Officer James Welsh of Daly City police said a car in front of that driven by Mrs. Abramson stopped on Junipero Serra boulevard to make a left turn onto 90th street at 7:25 a.m. Mrs. Abramson stopped behind the other car.

A Volkswagen driven by Miss Shirley crashed into the rear of Mrs. Abramson's Cadillac.

Burglar Hits 3 Homes In Loch Lomond

A silent burglar crept through three homes in Loch Lomond while the occupants slept last night and got away with about $200 in cash and several checks, including cashier's checks.

San Rafael Police Chief Frank Kelly said that in each case, the thief apparently entered through defective or unlocked doors, because there was no sign of a forced entry.

Victims were Peter Cazassa of 50 Manderly road; Helen May Dellwig of 40 Manderly road, and C. E. Humphrey of 55 Lochinvar road.

At the Cazassa home, Officer L. J. Ahern said, the prowler entered through the unlocked kitchen door and stole about $10 from a purse. The purse and papers were found discarded near the rear gate.

Officer Thomas Cheetham went to the Dellwig residence to investigate the burglary this morning. A bulldog growled at him and held him at bay. But the same bulldog had apparently slept soundly through the burglary last night. The thief stole $10 from a piggy bank, and about $20 from a purse on the kitchen drain board. The piggy bank and the purse were later found thrown inside the family car in the garage.

The Humphreys lost about $140 in cash, two personal checks for $1,000 and $15, and several travelers checks in denominations of $50 and $20. Credit cards and Humphrey's driver's license are also gone.

Sun Satellite 'Gone Forever'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer IV raced into mute and endless orbit around the sun today beyond any but a faint hope of future contact by man.

The gold-plate cone with its load of instruments lost its radio voice shortly before noon, more than 400,000 miles out in space.

Scientists at the British station at Jodrell Bank planned to try radio telescope tracking, but the jet propulsion laboratory of the U. S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration had no such plans. At NASA it was felt this would be impossible at such range with a vehicle as small as Pioneer —a 13½ pounder only 20 inches long and 9 inches in diameter.

A spokesman said the laboratory's station at Goldstone Dry Lake in California would continue trying but did not expect further intelligible signals.

"For all practical purposes we have probably lost Pioneer IV for good," he said.

Fairfax Nurse Wins $6,000 In Suit For False Arrest

A Fairfax nurse who was arrested on a citizen's complaint last year won $6,000 last night on her claim that she had been falsely arrested and wrongfully put in jail.

A jury of 10 women and two men heard the case before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court and deliberated from noon to 8 p.m. before bringing in the verdict for Mrs. Virginia Smith, the nurse. The vote was 10 to 2, with the two dissenters failing to agree on the amount of money Mrs. Smith should get.

Mrs. Smith, represented by attorney T. G. Fitzgerald, won the award from Emil W. and Lydia Yanke, who operated Tamalpais Convalescent Home in Santa Venetia until last year. According to Mrs. Smith, she went to the convalescent home to see a patient of hers, when the operators of the home had her jailed by the sheriff's deputies.

Accused of disturbing the peace, Mrs. Smith pleaded innocent and got a trial before Judge Richard M. Sims, who acquitted her. Mrs. Smith then filed the false arrest suit against the Yankes.

'THAT'S A LIE'

Mrs. Duncan Denies Charge Of Murder

VENTURA (AP) — "That's a lie!"

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Duncan made this outcry today as she was accused in court of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson asked her why she had gotten a fake annulment of her son Frank's marriage to Canadian nurse Olga Kupczyk after previously abandoning a plan to kidnap Frank to get him away from her.

"Maybe I changed my mind," said Mrs. Duncan, who is charged with murder of Olga and also with fraudulently obtaining the annulment.

"You interfered by getting an annulment," said Gustafson, "and you also interfered by getting two men to kill Olga Duncan, didn't you?"

"No," cried Mrs. Duncan, "that's a lie!"

It was the first time in three days on the witness stand that Mrs. Duncan was flatly accused of hiring two men to kidnap and murder the dark-haired nurse. Augustine Baldonado and Luis Moya have previously admitted killing Olga.

The prosecution charges she did it because she was intensely jealous of Olga's marriage to her 30-year-old attorney son.

Earlier today Mrs. Duncan hotly denied she plotted to spy on her son in a lovers' lane.

"I don't think my son would stoop so low as to go to a lovers' lane," she exclaimed.

Gustafson had asked her if she had asked doctor's receptionist Mary Ann Dowhower to join her in spying on Frank and a girl he once dated.

Earlier, Gustafson referred to an apartment where Mrs. Duncan and Frank lived in San Francisco in 1955 and asked Mrs. Duncan:

"There was only one bed. You and Frank stayed in that bed together, didn't you?"

"We did not," she replied. She explained there was a pull-down bed in which Frank slept.

As today's session opened with Mrs. Duncan on the stand for the third straight day, Superior Judge Charles F. Blackstock admonished the jury to disregard questions and answers in Thursday's testimony about her many husbands.

Mrs. Duncan admitted having been married to 11 of 12 men mentioned by Gustafson. Said Judge Blackstock in his ruling: "Whether the defendant married any or all of the persons named is immaterial to her guilt or innocence."

She was vague on what became of the many marriages. Some were annulled, she said. Other husband told her they got divorces.

Testimony In Manslaughter Trial Conflicts

Conflicting tesimony was given yesterday at the preliminary hearing in San Francisco Municipal Court of Henry Picard, 62-year-old Kent Woodlands brewing executive charged with felony drunk driving and manslaughter.

Picard, president of Burgermeister Brewing Corp., was involved in an accident on Golden Gate Bridge on Jan. 19, in which Emrys Williams, 52-year-old Sonoma bank manager, was killed.

A Rowe Waller of Greenbrae, testifed yesterday that he saw Picard's car cross the double line into the southbound lane, proceed about 1,200 feet and then hit the car driven by Williams.

Carlton Potter of Mill Valley agreed with Waller—although he told the court he thought Picard moved into the middle lane of the southbound section.

However, Glen Henningsen of Daly City testified that Williams—and not Picard—was driving in the wrong lane.

Officer T. Allyn Bragg of the California Highway Patrol testified that Picard refused to take a blood test for drunkenness unless his personal physician was present. The highway patrol was unable to locate the physician.

The hearings will continue Tuesday before Judge Lenore Underwood.

At today's meeting in San Francisco, the Sunny Hills directors conferred with Schmidt about new facilities, new personnel and new programs that might be needed if the institution were developed in accordance with his recommendations.

The costly undertaking presumably would be financed by heavy grants from the Bay Area United Fund, as well as increased local contributions.

Police Chief Exam Slated Tomorrow

The long-delayed written examination for Sausalito police chief is definitely set for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the city hall, city manager Donald A. Duerr said today.

He said two members of the police department will take the test, but did not identify them. Presumably, Sgt. Howard W. Goerndt, who has served as acting chief since former chief Louis P. Mountanos took over as sheriff, will be one of the two.

Duerr said an oral examination has been set for Thursday, to be given by three outside police chiefs.

Final selection should be accomplished by the middle of the month, Duerr added.

toll-free when all bonds and obligations of the district have been paid in full.

'PERPETUAL TOLLS'

The authority, the resolution said, would be "tantamount to perpetual tolls, contrary to the policy of the board of directors."

Representatives of the Bay Area Council, which is supporting the authority legislation, appeared before the legislative committee.

Edgar Kaiser, council president, urged the directors to give serious consideration to the proposal and suggest changes which would make it more acceptable to them.

MARSH'S VIEW

Frank Marsh of San Rafael, general manager and executive vice president of the council, made a prepared statement in which he also urged the district to cooperate in getting the authority into operation, declaring he believed "it is misleading for anyone to give the impression that tolls can be removed from the Golden Gate Bridge in the foreseeable future. Certainly, under any management, there will have to be tolls for many years to come."

In an hour-long discussion at the legislative committee meeting, directors quizzed the representatives of the council on effects of the authority's creation.

Marin director Leland Murphy declared he could "not see any advantage to the district in being turned over to the Golden Gate Authority. We have operated very successfully for the best interest of our people and I doubt if we would have gotten such things as insurance rate reductions had we been operating under an authority."

Following passage of the resolution, the directors also authorized the president to appoint directors and members of the bridge staff to appear before the meetings of boards of supervisors and other organizations to explain the stand of the directors.

President Dan London appointed Murphy, Marin's other director Matt Graham and General Manager James Adam to appear before the meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, scheduled to discuss the authority this afternoon.

San Geronimo May Set Up Sewer Board

Possibility of forming a sanitary district in the San Geronimo Valley will be discussed at an open meeting of the Woodacre Improvement Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

William L. Desmond, director of sanitation for the Marin County Health Department, will describe the procedure for setting up such a district. County Counsel Leland H. Jordan will discuss legal aspects.

John T. Keilty, improvement club president, said the speakers have been invited as a result of many inquiries by valley residents about the possibility of a sanitary district. Dwellers in the various San Geronimo Valley communities now depend on septic tanks for sewage disposal

Marin Water Officials Meet In Petaluma

Officials of the North Marin Water District and Marin Municipal Water District met with Petaluma city officials in Petaluma last night for informal preliminary discussion of the possibility if importing Russian River water into Marin.

Specifically under discussion was the question of whether a planned water line from the river to Petaluma should be installed with sufficient capacity to serve Marin.

Andrew T. McLaughlin, manager of the North Marin District, pointed out today that no decision could be reached at this time, since questions of how much water can be committed to Marin must be studied and decided.

Tam Valley Club Seeking A President

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club last night seated officers for the year—all except a president.

President Richard H. Perkins had been nominated to succeed himself and had previously accepted, but at the last minute had found that out-of-town commitments would make it impossible for him to serve, members were informed last night.

He was not present at the meeting. Members agreed to hold the office open until the April meeting.

Officers installed were:

Kurt Helmstaedter, vice president; Mrs. Stanley Keldsen, treasurer; Mrs. G. Nick Pendleton, secretary; Bernie Healey and Ovid Porter, members at large.

Basketball Player Breaks His Leg

George E. Vaio Jr. scored 24 points for the Maggi's Flowers basketball team in the San Rafael Industrial League last night, but wound up with a broken leg.

With 2½ minutes to go in the game against Cerutti Brothers in the San Rafael High School gym, Vaio leaped high for a jump shot. As he came down, his right leg crumbled under him.

Maggi's was ahead 50 to 43 when the accident happened. The Cerutti team conceded the game.

Vaio, University of San Francisco student who lives at 77 Via la Cumbre, Greenbrae, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital

Evelyn L. Kennedy Of San Rafael Dies

Mrs. Evelyn L. Kennedy, San Rafael homemaker, died unexpectedly today in a local hospital where she underwent surgery last Saturday. She was 51.

She was the wife of Edward E. Kennedy, a truck driver for Henry Hess Lumber Co. of San Rafael. The two met after she arrived in Sausalito 33 years ago from Seattle. They were married in San Francisco, where Kennedy was employed, but set up housekeeping in Marin County.

Their home was at 256 Union street in San Rafael.

Other survivors are a daughter and son, Mrs. Lorraine Hoy of Novato and Darrell Kennedy, who is on maneuvers with the Naval Reserve; and her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Anderson of Renton, Wash.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary. Inurnment will be private.

Kentfield Resident Philip Crane Dies

Philip A. Crane, retired Illinois grain broker who made his home at 67 Kent avenue in Kentfield, died in a San Francisco hospital yesterday at the age of 80.

He and his wife, Helen, settled in Marin just over a year ago, but they had spent many summers in Inverness since 1934, driving out from Illinois.

Crane was in the grain business 35 years, living in Hinsdale, a suburb of Chicago for 28 years.

He leaves his widow; a daughter and two sons, Barbara Crane of Orange, Bruce Crane of Los Angeles, and Philip A. Crane Jr., who was president of Kentfield Civic League last year. Also surviving are five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

The family has requested memorial gifts be in the form of donations to the Hematology Research Laboratory, Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

Hayden In Tahiti

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI)—Actor Sterling Hayden, who defied a court order to make a "dream cruise" to the South Seas, arrived here yesterday, completing a 4,600-mile voyage from Sausalito.

Aboard the 98-foot schooner Wanderer with the 42-year-old actor were his crew of 13 and seven children—including Hayden's four, whom he had been forbidden to take on grounds the Wanderer was unseaworthy and the crew inexperienced.

Bernice M. Dunphy Of Kentfield Dies

Mrs. Bernice M. Dunphy, 48, of Kentfield died yesterday after a long illness. She had been hospitalized for two and one-half weeks.

A native of San Francisco, she came to Marin 18 years ago, making her home at 18 Locust street in Kentfield. She was a member of Larkspur Circle of Druids.

Surviving are her husband, Robert J. Dunphy, a driver for Railway Express Agency in San Francisco; a daughter and two sons, Mrs. June Marie Wilson of Novato, Robert F. Dunphy, U.S.N., and Donal P. Dunphy of Kentfield; two sisters, Mrs. Elinor Miller of Millbrae and Mrs. Josephine Strong of Castro Valley, and five grandchildren.

A Requiem Mass will be offered Monday at 10 a.m. at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, with the funeral cortege forming at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9:30 a.m. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at the Williams chapel Sunday at 8 p.m.

Bill To Protect Sea Otters Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The sea otter hasn't joined the dodo bird after all and California's Legislature intends to keep things that way.

The Senate gave final approval yesterday to a bill extending a Carmel area game refuge to Cambria in an effort to prevent people from shooting sea otters.

Thought to be extinct, the otters were recently found off Carmel. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee (R-Salinas), said people in cars were picking them off with rifles.

Cancer Quackery Bill Slowed Up

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Action on a bill to curb cancer quackery was delayed a week yesterday by the Senate Committee on Public Health and Safety.

The delay was to study proposed amendments to the measure by Sen. John F. Thompson (R-San Jose).

Maj. Gen. John R. Dean of San Francisco, state president of the American Cancer Society, testified the bill would save lives of cancer victims who seek aid from quacks, and save money for healthy persons who are frightened into phony treatments.

Opponents argued that an individual has the right to choose his medicine, and that the bill might create a price monopoly for orthodox therapists.

Trucking Aide Ordered To Belvederean's Trial

An East Bay trucking executive and former associate of Edward W. Elliott of Belvedere, who is on trial for allegedly operating a C.O.D. business without posting bond, has been ordered to obey a San Francisco Municipal Court subpena or face the consequences.

Wallace M. Fanning was ordered yesterday to appear in court March 19 to help explain why now-defunct Intercity Transport Lines, Inc. pocketed $12,176 in C.O.D. payments which should have gone to its customers. Intercity was one of the firms in a two million dollar statewide trucking empire that collapsed after state and federal agencies began investigating hundreds of complaints against the firm.

Judge Lenore D. Underwood told Fanning's lawyer, M. F. Hallmark of Oakland, "you see he's here on March 19 or we'll have to send for him."

PLEADS NERVOUSNESS

Fanning said he had undergone an operation on Jan. 19 and had been "nervous" ever since.

If convicted on the charge of not posting bond as required by law, Elliott could receive as much as 35 years in jail and $35,000 fine.

Elliott and his associates in the truck network which operated from San Diego to Arcata, also are under investigation for alleged offenses including failing to pay drivers' wages, paying taxes and bills with bad checks, and ignoring a large number of traffic tickets.

IN COMBINE

Other members of the trucking combine, formed only two years ago, include Alves Service Transportation, All-State Transportation and Collier Transportation.

Witnesses have testified that Intercity and its affiliates took in $2,287 in C.O.D. collections last fall while under a 35-day state ban forbidding them to handle any C.O.D. business. They said the firm continued this action even after shippers protested to the state Public Utilities Commission that Intercity had allegedly pocketed the C.O.D. collections.

Apartments Top Sausalito Building

A building permit for a 28-unit apartment structure at 134 Bulkley avenue, to cost $182,000, topped Sausalito's building permits for February. The total reached $213,230, according to Building Inspector William Hynes.

The apartment structure, designed by Mill Valley architect A. Jane Duncombe, is under construction on the former Ernie Smith property opposite the Alta Mira Hotel. It is being built for L. Bruce Bernhard.

Permits issued in February of last year totaled $99,885, Hynes reported.

Kentfield Boy Wins Lions Speech Prize

John Chambers of Kentfield, junior at Redwood High School, last night was winner of the Corte Madera Lions Club annual student speakers' contest.

Chambers talked on public complacency toward high school education. Beverly A. Sill, contest chairman, said Chambers will compete sometime this month in a zone contest against Daniel McLean, Tamalpais High School senior who won the Mill Valley Lions Club contest.

Runner-up last night was Donna Mickleson of Kentfield, also a junior at Redwood High. The assigned topic of talks was "Complacency—a danger to America."

Judges were Joseph Crammer of Kentfield Toastmasters Club 890, E. Dewart Lewis of the College of Marin English Department and A. L. Nieri of First National Bank in San Rafael.

The competition is part of the 22nd annual speaking contest of the Lions Clubs of California and Nevada. Top prize in the contest is a $1,500 scholarship.

Springett's Store Moves Location

In its new location, the shop will be known simply as the Outdoor Store. Henriod plans to feature garden supplies and nursery stock but will continue to carry a limited stock of sporting goods. He plans a special opening event soon.

Assemblyman Ired At Lobbyist Hiring

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Freshman Assemblyman Paul J. Lunardi (R-Roseville) says he can represent his district without any help from Francis Lindsay, the veteran Republican he defeated last November.

Lunardi was miffed because the South Sutter Water District hired Lindsay for $1,000 a month to lobby for a bill introduced by Lunardi.

"Utter waste of district funds," said Lunardi.

The bill would authorize a $1,260,000 loan to the district so it could qualify for $4,875,000 in federal aid for construction of a dam on the Bear River.

"I am perfectly capable of obtaining passage of this legislation without interference from Lindsay," said Lunardi.

"And after this unfortunate development, I can only say that if the bill doesn't pass, the taxpayers of the South Sutter Water District will only have Lindsay to thank."

Romano Beauty Salon Goes To New Owner

Average residential use of gas in San Francisco

Easy telling the time of year by your P. G. and E. bill. When it's cold and the nights are long, it takes more gas and electricity to make you comfortable.

Winter makes extra work for most all your appliances. Even this winter, which is milder than usual, you're indoors more...using more heat, more lights . . . brewing more coffee, watching more TV and so on. And if your home is like most, you have more appliances this year helping you to live better.

The chart at right shows how the use of natural gas, for example, goes up when the weather is colder and nights are longer . . . and why your P. G. and E. bill is higher. Of course, the unit cost of gas and electricity goes down as your use increases giving you even greater value for your utility dollar!

S.F. Police Shoot, Kill Young Robber

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco police shot one young gunman to death and captured another early today shortly after a service station robbery.

The victim was Stanley Forte, 23. His companion, James Charles Faria, 23, surrendered without a struggle.

Police said the two men held up a Geary street service station, but the attendant took their license number. The car was spotted by patrolmen and nine shots were fired during a chase that followed.

The gunmen abandoned their car on Golden Gate avenue, and attempted to fleet on foot. Inspector William Porter found Forte under a car and ordered him to come out. The youth pulled a gun, and Porter shot him.

Meanwhile, other officers were taking Faria into custody.

Singer Says Mate Held Her Captive

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police booked singer Helen O'Connell's 225-pound husband on two battery charges when she said he beat her and pulled her hair.

A policeman said novelist Thomas Chamales took a swing at him.

Miss O'Connell, 37, who once sang with the late Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, said Chamales held her captive in a bedroom 12 hours.

Chamales, 45, author of "Never So Few" and "No Rent In My Hand," married the singer two years ago.

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE TO KEEP SECRET IN SUCH A CASE

DENVER (AP)—"I'm going downtown on a little business," Leonard H. Wilson remarked slyly the other day.

"Anything I can take care of? I'm going downtown too," said his wife.

The Wilsons parted, only to meet a few hours later—in traffic court where each had been charged with a minor violation.

"I should have known better," said Wilson later. "I haven't been able to keep a secret from her for 32 years."

Jury Clears Clerk In Coffee Pot Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lorraine DeWolfe, a 35-year-old department store clerk, was found innocent yesterday on charges she stole the lid of a jewel-studded coffee pot valued at $90,000.

The jury of seven women and five men returned the verdict after deliberating an hour and 10 minutes. The trial lasted eight days.

The jeweled coffee pot was on display at a downtown San Francisco store, where Mrs. De Wolfe was employed. The lid disappeared, but Mrs. DeWolfe took officers to where it was hidden.

During the trial, the attractive widow testified she suffered from lapses of memory and had "no recollection" of having taken the valuable percolator knob.

Mexico Trains Crash, 11 Die Engineer Runs

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police hunted today for the engineer of a speeding freight which slammed into a passenger train, killing 11 persons and injuring more than 70.

The collision occurred yesterday near Xometla, about 27 miles south of Mexico City.

Javier Garcia Travesi, an investigator for the federal district attorney, said both engineers may have been at fault. Preliminary investigation indicated the engineer of the passenger train halted to repair a bearing without putting out warning flags. Garcia said the freight engineer apparently failed to give the passenger train a required 10-minute head start and was traveling at high speed.

The freight engineer fled after the crash.

Business To Get Voice In Capitol

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown wants a panel of leading businessmen to serve as a non-political sounding board for his economic policies.

"I want to know how you feel about anything this administration does that affects you," Brown said he told the first meeting of his Business Advisory Council yesterday.

The meeting was private, but Brown released a statement afterwards. He said he wanted the 41 businessmen to feel free to speak frankly without worrying about publicity.

Dirt In Fuel Tank Damages Tractor

Vandals put dirt in the fuel tank of a tractor in San Rafael and caused about $200 worth of damage to the equipment, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

The tractor, owned by Carey Brothers Construction Co. of San Anselmo, was parked on Irwin street about a half block from Bret Harte Park. William R. McGregor, foreman for Carey Brothers, found dirt in the fuel tank, oil tank and radiator. Various parts were smashed and the starter was pulled off.

Canada Indians On Warpath, Oust Council

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP)—Indians on the warpath have proclaimed a vest-pocket independent state in Ontario and demanded immediate recognition..

They threaten to go to the United Nations if Canada doesn't play ball.

The Canadian government's first reaction was to wait and see. A veiled offer was held out to smoke the pipe of peace.

BLOODLESS COUP

Rebellious warriors, carrying hatchets and wearing warpaint and feathered headdress, staged the bloodless coup yesterday and overthrew the Canandian government-sponsored council of 11 men in the Six Nations Reserve.

Some 20 hereditary tribal chiefs branded the council a puppet government and seized administrative control of the 12-mile-square reserve west of Toronto and Buffalo, N. Y.

ON ITS WAY

The old council slipped out the back door just before the assault.

"We are satisified that the revolution is a success and will not be put down," a rebel spokesman declared.

The chiefs ruled the reserve and its community of Oshweken until 1924, when the Canadian government stripped them of power and vested authority in an 11-man elected council. The dissident faction refused to recognize the council and continued to hold meetings in their traditional long houses.

MOUNTIES ARRIVE

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police force of eight men on the reserve made no attempt to crush the revolt when 1,000 Indians marched on the Council House, smashed open the locked door and took over control.

The insurgents nailed their declaration of independence on the wall with a historic ceremonial club.

CLERK LOSES EMBEZZLED FUNDS ON DOG RACES—TAKES GAMBLE

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI) — John Seve, a clerk in a fruit store, embezzled $1,400 from his employer and lost almost all of it at the dog races.

He panicked, left his wife and daughter and fled to London to consider the situation. He decided to take the chance of winning back the money.

He went to the dog tracks in London and placed a few bets. He lost the first night, the second, the third and the fourth. He was down to $84 before fortune smiled on him.

He began winning against 3-1 and 5-1 odds, placing his bets carefully because he decided he knew nothing about dog racing.

In 11 nights of agonizing worry he recouped his losses. On the night he won back all the money he sent his wife a telegram: "I have raised the money and am sending it back before I give myself up to the police."

Seve kept his word. Yesterday a Southampton court decided not to send him to jail. He was fined $56 and put on probation for three years.

Seve promised his wife he would never gamble again.

Moving State Fair Site Faces Delay

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Plans to move the State Fair to a new site in Sacramento should be held up while the Legislature reviews fair financing, two Assembly subcommittees recommended yesterday.

A Ways and Means subcommittee headed by Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) voted to delete $68,105 from the budget for salaries and expenses of employees working on the proposed move.

The state has purchased the new site ,estimated to be worth five million dollars, and the fair was scheduled to move in 1961.

Subcommittees headed by Rees and Bruce Sumner (R-Newport Beach) asked that expenses of all 79 fairs held throughout the state be reviewed by the full Ways and Means Committee.

Your Taxes Pay $46,380 In Rent For County Offices

In recent weeks there has been much one-sided condemnation of the proposal to build a civic center on the county's Santa Venetia property. This has been discouraging to many who have gone through the literally years of debate over a civic center. The major objection is to the cost when "there is no need."

As one of our recent correspondents put it, "We need this about as much as the Board of Supervisors need more rocks in their heads."

We call this one-sided condemnation because it obviously does not consider the actual need for county office space. We doubt that the most virulent critics have bothered to look into the county's space problem. And, just as important, they haven't looked into what the county is paying out, in rent to provide space and in inefficiency in operation.

In San Rafael alone, county offices are scattered in 13 different locations. Nine of these are rental units, the other four are owned by the county.

Rent being paid out in the present fiscal year totals $46,380.24.

Next fiscal year, starting July 1, with the anticipated addition of a third municipal court plus other expansions, the rent is being budgeted for an additional $16,380. This makes the total next year paid in San Rafael alone by Marin taxpayers, $62,760, if none of the landlords raise the rent.

That's an awful lot of money to pay out and have just rent receipts to show for it.

Now take a look at the map in the adjacent column. Try to imagine all the lost time and manpower in running from office to office.

The probation department, the school department, the welfare department and the county medical office, for example, are supposed to work closely together. The probation office (No. 6) is at Fourth and A streets, the middle of town. Welfare (No. 2) is Fourth and the Skyway; the school department (No. 5) at the far east of Fourth street, and the medical office at the far west (No. 7) on Second street. The problems of communication and cooperation are legion. Other offices have the same problem.

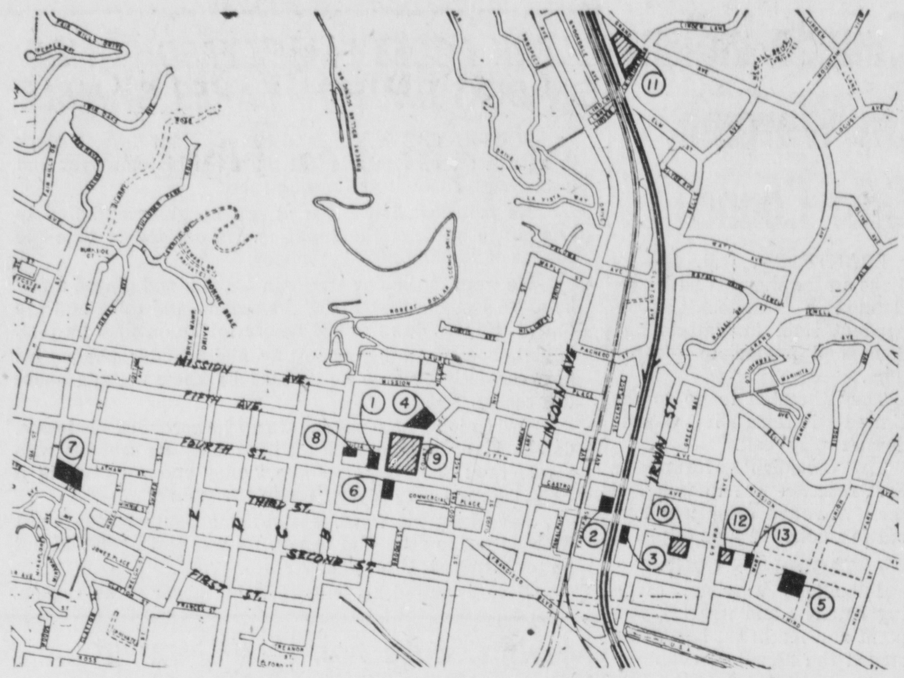

Civic center opponents who say "there is no need," just don't know what they're talking about.

There is more reason for criticism of exactly what the board of supervisors plan to do. Here there is room for a definite difference of personal opinion.

But the supervisors acted after they received overwhelming support for Frank Lloyd Wright as the center's architect. There were public meetings and hearings galore. Opponents were heard and the supervisors interviewed representatives of some 50 architects and engineers of various kinds.

After it was all over and Wright selected, the board received a letter of appreciation from the American Institute of Architects for their fair and thorough treatment of the design problem.

The county has definite need for a civic center of some type. The supervisors have been moving in an orderly, constructive fashion toward that end. We hope they continue toward their goal. We hope that the general public will get behind them so that there will be no unnecessary roadblocks placed in the way.

WHERE THE COUNTY DOES BUSINESS

Marin County does business in 13 offices in San Rafael. Four of the buildings, including the courthouse, are owned by the county (cross-hatched). Nine of the offices (solid black) are rented at a cost this year of $46,380. The offices, as numbered, are: 1—County Counsel; 2—Welfare Department; 3—Purchasing Department and Weights and Measures Department; 4—Administrator's Office and Civil Defense; 5—School Department; 6—Probation Office; 7—Medical Office; 8—Public Defender; 9—County Courthouse; 10—County Garage, Veterans Service Office, Agriculture Department, Communications; 11—Public Works Department, Planning Commission, County Library; 12—Health Department; 13—Audio-Visual Division, School Department.

Laugh At Yourself—It's Healthful

Many of us become so wrapped up in the earnest daily race for dollars and security that we begin to take ourselves too seriously. We start to think that we are the axis upon which the world revolves.

All of us have our laughable sides, our weaknesses, our foibles, but some of us have lost the perspective with which to laugh at ourselves.

Sincerity is the catchword of our time. Implied is a picture of a dedicated, hardworking, intense fellow who doesn't waste his valuable time laughing or trying to find humor in everyday situations. Everyone seems to want to feel that he is a man of destiny.

Some of this heady wine may be a good thing. But for us ordinary mortals, it is wise to stop now and then and prick our self-inflated balloon with laughter.

Not only will it be good for our mental health, it will make us more bearable to our associates.

Here Are Things You'll Hate To Overhear When You Get Old

NEW YORK (AP) — Things I hope never to hear in my old age:

"Let's give this job to the Old Man. Even he can't foul up this one."

"Now Dad, you're too sensitive. Of course, we're glad to see you every time you drop in. What makes you think we're not?"

"It's hard to know what really will amuse them at that age."

"Stop arguing and put on your muffler. You know you catch colds so easily."

"You do? You should have seen how he looked when he was only 60."

"Sh-h-h-h! Don't talk so loud. Everything's gone but his ears."

"Of course he still likes that suit. After all it was fashionable in his time."

"But really, Grandpa, you must have at least SEEN some covered wagons."

"We've got too many older people working for us now. What this organization needs is young blood."

"Go ahead and have another drink. The doctor says it's good for you."

"Our paper is planning to run a series of interviews with the town's oldest citizens, and we thought you'd—"

"Sorry about the health insurance. You're beyond the age bracket. However, we can still sell you an accident policy."

"Wonder who left their false teeth in the men's washroom?"

"Let's give him something really useful for his birthday. How about a rocking chair?"

"THAT'S THE TROUBLE with men your age, Dad. You're afraid to gamble on the future. Now, if you'll just lend me—"

"He's so forgetful. If he tells the story just one more time, I'll scream."

"Wonder what he thinks about when he sits there just staring."

"It's not that he's underfoot exactly. He's just there."

Adults Responsible For Hoodlums

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May a teen-ager be permitted to speak his piece?

I see by the papers that perhaps the hoodlums of Hillsborough may not be entirely to blame for the fighting that took place at a party given recently at a home there.

Now according to the press the hostess, a mother, permitted the party crashers to drink all kinds of liquor.

Isn't it still illegal to serve minors liquor and if you do aren't you, the adult, responsible for the actions of the juveniles?

An Old Friend Comes Back

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

An old friend of mine is back — Hurrah!!

This may sound like sentimental drivel, but we are so glad to hear our "fire horn" at eight, noon and five again. Like the old grandfather clock we didn't miss it — 'til it was silent.

My children were taught to come for meals "when the whistle blows," as was I, and although they are grown now, that whistle still makes them think of "home."

It is San Rafael's individual signature, as well as a mother's friend and a local alarm in time of disaster. Keep it blowing for us old San Rafaelites — We love it!

In Re Utilities, Aerial Or Buried

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

If the County Board of Supervisors would like an unanswerable argument in re aerial and buried utilities, let them compare the electric poles the highway commissioners gave the taxpayers for his money at the Tiburon wye, with the eyesore the utilities present along the highway leading toward Tiburon and what will eventually become the nucleus of a slum district, within a decade, and also a factor conducive to depreciated property values, lower tax yields, health menaces, police considerations and juvenile delinquency.

This is an integral part of a problem that is as age-old as housing and slum clearance. Three fourths of our white-collar and labor force live and work here. This new neighborhood is breaking down before it gets a chance to get old.

Our suburbia has the potential chance to grow old beautifully and attractively. Let this downtown approach to our homes, schools, downtown nerve centers, banks, food centers, etc., be a welcome on the doormat to tourists, new dwellers and taxpayers.

The level of leadership is the utilities themselves and the politicians whom they can not pass. Subdividers, planners, architects, economists and the public must recognize and respect this aspect of suburbia's growth and development.

Teen-Agers Only Want A Chance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I sincerely wish that people could institute a column or even devote front page space for the good works teen-agers do.

Juvenile delinquency is always spread over the entire paper. Nothing is ever said about teen-agers' good works.

If a teen-ager does something good, it rates a quarter of a column in the middle of the paper, but if a teen-ager does something wrong, it's on the front page.

All we teen-agers want is a chance to prove that we can do more than steal things and do harm to people. Please give us a chance.

Dufficy Tries To Do Best He Can

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Last week there was an article in your paper telling of another squabble and harsh words at a supervisors meeting, between Doctor Dufficy and the quarrelsome Mr. Fusselman. It seems that Mr. Fusselman doesn't like people and that he doesn't get along with the average person.

I have found in the past two years that Doctor Dufficy tries to please everyone, but there is no pleasing Mr. Fusselman about anything unless he thinks he is right. . . .

Mr. Fusselman said that he had just one vote and if he had five, Doctor Dufficy would be out. Thank God he has only one. . . .

He is always squabbling with Mrs. Schultz. It is monotonous to hear his NO votes. I hope Mr. Fusselman gets his five votes from his constituents at the next election. Doctor Dufficy does his best and he has a tough job, so stay off his back and give him a chance.

Don't Raise Driving Age

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have heard much controversy concerning the age for a boy to get his driver's license, that that age, 16, is going to be changed to 18.

I am almost 15 and have over a year to wait for my license. That is long enough, but to add two years would make many boys impatient.

I think 16 is a good age for a boy to get his license for I think the average boy's reflexes are fully developed by then. This is my opinion, but I would be pleased to get more information and get other people's views on this matter.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A neighbor went to a venerable Turkish landowner one day to ask for the loan of a donkey. The landowner explained he had loaned his donkey to somebody else. The donkey, however, chose that moment to bray loudly in his stall. "You should be ashamed to lie at your age!" exclaimed the neighbor angrily. "Your own donkey testifies against you."

The landowner replied disdainfully, "I refuse to argue with a person who gives greater credence to the braying of a donkey than to the words of a fellow-man!"

Another neighbor approached the same doughty Turk with, "I understand, my friend, that you have vinegar which is 40 years old. Will you please let me have some?"

"Sorry," said the Turk, "you see, it wouldn't be 40 years old if I kept giving it away all the time."

Larkspur Folk Don't Act As Predicted; Library Has Phone And New Problem

Sometimes it seems like those folk down in Larkspur just enjoy making a liar out of this reporter.

We predicted heavy argument in discussions over development of the Rice family property in the Larkspur business district. The meeting however ended up with most everyone relatively friendly and willing to go along with the proposal.

Now they have done it again. The Larkspur merger study committee, we figured, would collide head on with the Corte Madera group. So, like "They'll Do It Every Time," the first joint session was comparative love making.

It seems this business of arguing up to the time of making a decision is one of the characteristics of the Larkspur people — and perhaps a good one at that.

OH, THESE governmental problems: Mrs. Helen Wilson, boss of Larkspur's fine library, says the establishment is now the proud possessor of one of those new-fangled Bell devices . . . a telephone.

Mrs. Wilson said the phone has proved an outstanding aid in getting overdue books returned, so much in fact that it may have backfired.

Says Mrs. Wilson, "I don't know if its so good or not, we are getting fewer fines now and still have to pay for the phone."

Gosh, and we thought the freeways were the only things causing problems.

WORTHWHILE ITEM not in the news: Plans of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission to start a "Tween-teens" group for kids in the two towns.

Asked for a definition, we were told tween-teens were kids "too old for playing with dolls and too young for teen dances."

Sounds like another good project for this active commission and its youth leaders.

HOW'S THIS for the title of an imaginary book? "Terror Stalks the Waterfront" by John Ehlen.

We might note that John, legal slayer of Sausalito arks and city attorney of Sausalito and Corte Madera, softened considerably the other night before the Corte Madera council.

John in pleading leniency for struggling merchants with sign violations, even brought prose to bear.

"The Letter Killeth, but the Spirit Bringeth Life" quoth the colorful barrister.

NEWS AND VIEWS: We're getting sort of used to the College of Marin trustees referring to some of their special meetings as "conferences," but found another or two this week. . . .

Corte Madera's Mayor William (Bill) Hansen suggested that the councilmen "get together over at my place Saturday night" to review the proposed format for this year's town budget.

We must admit we missed coverage too of the Friday night meeting of the Larkspur School District board. Apparently a meeting was called at the last minute on Friday, apparently without the usual day's written notice, to approve the withdrawal of the low bid for the third elementary school and award the job to the second lower bidder.

One public official who in several years of meetings had seen few members of the public reminded us, "You know, sometimes its hard to remember the public really is interested."

Democratic Nominee Will Be Man Who Goes Out And Works For It

Now that the Democrats have picked Los Angeles for their 1960 national convention, there remains for them only the diverting task of picking their 1960 presidential nominee.

Selecting the convention site wasn't easy; there was quite a bit of wrangling. But selecting the nominee—that's going to be something. That's going to be the hottest, hardest political contest since John W. Davis won it in the 103rd round in Madison Square Garden in 1924.

Right now you can get odds on a dozen different candidates. They will tell you it is Kennedy against the field or Symington on the fifth ballot or Adlai by default.

IT IS USUALLY safer to bet against a candidate than for one. At this stage of pre-convention jockeying, it is possible to cite more arguments why each candidate can't get it than why he can.

I certainly do not know any reputable political writers who think they know how it's coming out or would pretend to guess with any degree of confidence.

But it is possible to lay down a few guide lines which can be useful in appraising the costest as it takes shape. The political professionals are not making any public forecasts, but they nearly all agree on one basic premise which has the effect of narrowing the field. Their premise is:

THAT THE 1960 Democratic nomination is going to be won by a man who contends for it and is not going to be won by default.

This is going to be pretty much a new experience for the Democratic party leaders because only once in the previous 28 years has the Democratic nominee had to fight to win the nomination. That was in 1956 when Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver had it out all over the country.

In 1936, 1940, and 1944 F. D. R. did not have to contend for the nomination. In 1948 President Truman had it all along and in 1952 Gov. Stevenson was the obvious, unopposed choice from the day Truman announced his retirement.

When the professionals say that the Democratic nomination is going to be won by a contender and not by default, they are referring to what they call the "dynamics" of the political situation.

They mean that Democratic party strength, which has mounted in Congressional election after election during the Eisenhower administration, makes the 1960 nomination a very precious prize.

BECAUSE IT IS a precious prize, because this time the Democrats will likely have a better than even chance of taking the presidency, they mean that the nomination is going to be sought and fought for as it hasn't been for a long time.

They mean that a side-line candidate — a candidate who is waiting around for the leaders to knock each other out — is not likely to be the recipient of this prize. The professional view is that if one contender can't win, another contender will.

ON THIS PREMISE Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey will head the list because they are going to be the most vigorous and probably the most effective campaigners. Sen. Stuart Symington and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson will have to get in the race or declare out. Adlai Stevenson recedes to the background. Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and Gov. Edmund Brown of California, do not look formidable.

If this is the "dynamics" of the political situation, it suggests that for the first time in a century the Democrats will choose their nominee from the Senate.

'Homemaker Service' Sought For Needy

By DIANA BRUCE

The blueprint for a Marin County Welfare Department "homemaker service" was unveiled this week by Betty L. Presley, county welfare director. Miss Presley described cases where a homemaker service would be "better and less expensive than what is possible now."

For example:

1. The mother of three young children in unexpectedly hospitalized for an indefinite period. The father works and must continue to do so to support the family and pay medical bills. Instead of sending the children to foster homes until the father can hire a housekeeper, the Welfare Department "homemaker" could step in for a short while and keep the household going.

2. An aged couple has managed without aid for years until one of them falls and breaks a hip. After the necessary hospitalization, the patient could return home if the spouse were able to carry on the normal household chores and care of the patient. His or her age prevents this. Instead of nursing home care for the patient, the homemaker would visit the home once or twice a week, shop, cook one adequate meal, keep the house reasonably clean and orderly, and help the spouse organize the house with a minimum of effort.

3. A working daughter's elderly mother, whom she has supported for years, becomes bedridden. Although willing to provide a home for her mother, the daughter cannot leave her alone all day, so requests nursing home placement. If a homemaker were to visit the mother an hour a day, fix a meal and report any change in her condition, the daughter could continue to keep her mother at home.

Miss Presley proposed to the county board of supervisors that two positions as "homemaker" be established at the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1, at a total salary cost of $7,260. If only indigent persons received the aid of the homemakers, the county would receive federal reimbursement for half the cost.

Miss Presley offered an alternate suggestion that persons with some ability to pay be allowed to use the service and pay, according to ability, up to a maximum of $1.85 an hour for the homemaker's help.

Miss Presley cited the mounting number of elderly convalescent cases which must be placed in private nursing homes (thereby costing more) because there is not room for them at the County Hospital in Lucas Valley..

During a three-month period that the Marin Council of Community Services studied the idea of a homemaker service with representatives of county departments, Red Cross, Family Service Agency and Catholic Social Service, 25 requests were made for this type of service. Sixteen of the cases involved families with children and nine were for aged and chronically ill persons, she reported.

The board put Miss Presley's report in its "budget file" for consideration later this spring.

Club At Stinson Endorses Chapel

The Stinson Beach Progressive Club has voted support of plans for a chapel to be constructed as the third unit of the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Directors were instructed to study the costs involved and report to the membership.

THIS WILL BE MODERN APARTMENT HOUSE

An unusual remodeling project is under way on an old 14-room home on Fifth avenue at H street in San Rafael. The building is being converted into a four-unit apartment house for Mazza Brothers, the owners. A towering chimney, dormers and attic have been stripped off. When completed by May 1, the house will look brand new, and will have a complete coating of beige-colored stucco, said Walter Mazza. The house was purchased at auction last year from the estate of the late Annie Strain. Antonioli Brothers are general contractors on the remodeling, a $14,000 job. (Independent-Journal photo)

Solons Briefed On 'Herculean' Water Problem

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the Legislature got a thorough briefing on California's water situation last night.

Harvey O. Banks, state director of water resources, made a lengthy presentation of the state's water problems, programs and plans at the governor's suggestion.

Banks said that if the current session of the Legislature gives its go ahead, "it will be 1961 before we can start and a good 10 years before we get water to the south.

'TRULY HERCULEAN'

"And we don't even know if we can do it by 1971," Banks admitted. "This will be one of the world's greatest construction efforts—a truly herculean task."

The first stage starts in 1960 and would be complete by 1982 at a cost of at least $1,600,000,000.

"And we have to remember, too, that the construction industry is limited in what it can do.

"If we offer them too much work when they're busy with other things, construction costs will skyrocket far beyond the figures we've been working with."

COST STAGGERING

The cost for the aquduct system alone to the year 2020 is $1,900,000,000, Banks said.

Using figures "more conservative than the federal census bureau's estimates, there will be a population of 56 million in California by 2020," Banks said. "There'll be 28½ million in Southern California and 12 million in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"And as areas grow, water needs and problems continually increase.

"Our water problems right now can hardly be called sectional. We have them throughout the state from the Oregon border to Mexico. All kinds of problems—supply, quality, salinity and flood control."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Farmer Gets Deduction For Cost Of Conservation

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

A farmer is allowed to take a deduction up to 25 per cent of his gross income from farming for sums spent for soil and water conservation in 1958. If he has expended more than 25 per cent of his gross income from farming for soil and water conservation, then he can deduct the excess in later years.

Peter J. Wikel

In general, a taxpayer engaged in the business of farming may make expenditures during the taxable year for the purpose of soil or water conservation, or for the prevention of erosion of land used in farming. The expenditures shall be allowed as a deduction.

This is subject to the following limitation. The amount deductible shall not exceed 25 per cent of the gross income derived from farming during the taxable year.

If for any taxable year the total of the expenditures exceeds 25 per cent of the gross income from farming, such excess shall be deductible for succeeding taxable years in order of time; but the amount deductible for any one succeeding taxable year (including the expenditures actually paid or incurred during the taxable year) shall not exceed 25 per cent of the gross income from farming during that year.

This covers only expenditures paid or incurred for the treatment or moving of earth, including (but not limited to) leveling, grading and terracing, contour furrowing, the construction, control and protection of diversion channels, drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses, outlets, and ponds, the eradication of brush and the planting of windbreaks.

It does not cover the purchase, construction, installation or improvement of structures, appliances, or facilities which are of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation or any amount paid or incurred which is otherwise allowable as a deduction.

This does include any amount not otherwise allowable as a deduction, paid or incurred to satisfy any part of an assessment levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district.

The term "land used in farming" means land used (before or simultaneously with the expenditures described above) by the taxpayer or his tenant for the production of crops, fruits, or for livestock.

By LEON C. SMITH

Before World War II the coffee break was about as unknown as Whistler's father. (For the students who skipped art class this is a reference to the painting, Whistler's "Mother.") However, during the days of "Rosie the Riveter" the coffee break became as common as peanut shells at a ball game. Now I see that Everett Landon, General Chairman of the National Swimming Pool Institute, says that workers need an afternoon dip in the company pool. "The swimming pool break will one day take its place alongside the coffee break in modern industry," he said. He could be biased. For smaller businesses there could be showers or water pistols. Pretty soon there'll be so many breaks they'll have to have a work break.

New Sewer Cost Pegged At $61,500

Residents of Mill Valley's Corte Madera avenue in Blithedale Canyon were told Wednesday that reconstruction of the broken, inadequate ancient sewer line that traverses the wooded stretch is to cost $61,500.

Recurring breaks in the line and cloudy history of easements being used have kept the matter under study for many years, according to City Manager A. E. Almcrants. At the preceding city council meeting, he asked that City Engineer Albert H. Siemer make a cost estimate of replacing the line.

The matter was submitted at Wednesday's council meeting but no action was taken. Mayor Rober D. Huber indicated a future meeting will decide whether the cost should be classed as a capital outlay item, to be borne by the city as a whole, or financed by special assessment district.

Terra Linda Park Chairman Named

Donald Gordon Black of 710 Montecillo road, Terra Linda, member of a San Francisco law firm, was appointed chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District park and recreation commission on Tuesday evening.

He replaces Joseph R. Gunn, recently appointed as one of five directors of the district.

The directors accepted a quit claim from developer John Kenney for a parcel of land in Terra Linda Oaks 1 for park use.

Fire Commissioner Elmer Johnson reported that cars had been parked blocking the firehouse and that curbs in front of the firehouse would be painted red.

Adoption of bylaws for the district is scheduled for the directors' next meeting, March 17, 8 p.m., at Bernard Hoffman School.

Ross Players Announce 'Matchmaker' Cast

Casting has been completed for the Ross Valley Players' production of "The Matchmaker," announced Cliff Badger of Mill Valley, who will direct.

The fast-paced farce by Thornton Wilder will open April 9 and will run on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for four successive weekends at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center, in Ross.

Badger directed last year's production of "Squaring the Circle" for the Tamalpais Valley Players and before that had extensive experience with the Lakewood (Ohio) Little Theater.

Cast in the title role as Mrs. Dolly Levi is Iolanda (Mrs. Leo) Diner of San Francisco, a longtime member of the Players who returns to more active participation in this play. Her last previous appearance was as Tillie Sparker in "Strange Bedfellows."

Ralph Alden of Ross will be seen opposite her as Horace Vandergelder, the aging, widowed merchant who decides his wealth entitles him to collect another wife to keep his home in order. Alden will be remembered for supporting roles in the recent presentations of "No Time For Sergeants" in which he played two parts, and "The Desperate Hours." He was also in "Stalag 17" and "Mr. Roberts."

Vandergelder's three rascally clerks, who enjoy their own brand of fun when the boss isn't looking, will be played by Alfred Spalding of Ross, who was last seen in "No Time For Sergeants," Richard J. Webster of San Rafael, who previously played the romantic lead in "The Bad Man," and William G. Morrissey of Ross.

Vandergelder's niece will be played by Phyllis Meyer of Sausalito, and her fiance by Richard Brown of San Rafael. Jean Brown of San Rafael will be the milliner whom Vandergelder thinks he will marry until his mind is changed ,and her assistant will be Barbara Morrissey of Ross.

Others in the cast include Erminia Sayers of San Anselmo; Marjorie Ross of Kentfield; Don R. Wilson and George Shistar of Ross; Dorothy Schuster, Ben Borden and Rudi Golyn of San Rafael.

Alan Atkins of San Rafael will design the scenery, John Sarlatte of Mill Valley will construct the set.

New Service Station Opens

Donald Minto, service station operator for eight years in Kentfield, has opened a new Texaco station at 1119 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur.

Minto said his station will do minor tune-up jobs as well as perform regular Texaco services.

He resides at 104 Cascade drive, Fairfax, with his wife, June, and two children. He has resided most of his life in Marin County.

Minto said the hours for the new station will be 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Sundays. The station will close at 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Summer School Plans

The proposed children's summer school program will be discussed at a Reed Union School District trustees' meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Tiburon boulevard offices, according to administrative assistant Lloyd R. O'Connor.

A report on the status of the naval net depot land for a possible school site will be given, O'Connor said. New bus schedules will be reviewed in the superintendent's report.

Marin Citians To Paint Auditorium

A community "painting party tomorrow morning to refurbish the interior of the Marin City auditorium will require only a paint brush for admission, according to Harry N. Bailey, chairman. It will start at 10 o'clock.

The repainting job will be for the benefit of the Marin City Community Theater, Bailey said. Paint for the project is being contributed by the county housing authority. The county fire department is making extension ladders available.

SANTA VENETIA FIFTH GRADERS WATCH RESCUE

Sixty fifth grade pupils from John MacPhail School in Santa Venetia this week visited 12th Coast Guard District headquarters as part of a San Francisco trip. The youngsters called at the Coast Guard Search and Rescue Center in time to watch as Lt. Charles Haley and a quartermaster handled the distress case of the fishing vessel "Baby," which had just gone hard aground on rocks near the Cliff House. With the children are a teacher, Mrs. Ruth Reist, and a mother, Mrs. Betty Jorgenson.

Africa Missionaries To Speak In Fairfax

Four South African missionaries will speak at the Sabbath School of the Fairfax Seventh-day Adventist Church at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, announced Mrs. Alyce Pudewell, superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bradfield and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Inggs, all with teaching experience in South Africa, will also show slides and African wood carvings and basket work after a noontime potluck dinner at the church.

Inggs, who is assistant librarian at Pacific Union College at Angwin, also will be speaker at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield returned to this country two months ago after spending six years in Southern Rodesia. Inggs, a native of South Africa, and Mrs. Inggs came here two years ago.

The Sabbath School has collected clothing to send to the Inyazura Mission, where Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield were teachers.

More Pupil Guards Urged For Schools

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More school kids with signs and fewer adult crossing guards were proposed yesterday by the Senate Committee on Governmental Administration.

The committee said the school safety patrols would better protect children crossing streets, and their expansion would save $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

Many Grocers Plan Evening Meat Sales

Most major grocery stores in Marin County have decided to follow the lead of San Rafael's United Market by keeping their meat departments open evenings and Sundays for the convenience of shoppers.

United announced Wednesday that its meat department henceforth would be open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Fridays until 10 p.m., and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Previous closing time was 6 p.m.

"This has been in the works for a long time," James L. Painter, manager of the Purity Stores market in San Rafael, said today. "From the customer's standpoint, it's a good thing."

Painter said his store yesterday adopted the same meat department hours announced Wednesday by United. He added that the change drew "a lot of favorable comment from our customers."

The new schedule has not been adopted as yet for the meat departments of Purity stores in San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Sausalito. The Mill Valley store was expected to make the change momentarily, however.

Starting Sunday, the Mill Valley Safeway store will keep its meat department open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays and until 6 p.m. on Sundays.

The Safeway store in San Anselmo today adopted a new schedule for the sale of fresh meats, as follows: Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Thursdays and Fridays, to 10 p.m., and Sundays to 6 p.m.

San Rafael's Safeway store will have its meat department hours coincide with store hours, effective today. The store is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 9 p.m. on Friday. It is closed on Sunday.

Littleman markets in Corte Madera and Santa Venetia have adopted this meat department schedule, effective immediately: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Homer Rickards, owner of the Drake Market in San Anselmo, said his store will shift soon to late meat department hours and predicted that all other major independent grocers in the county will do likewise. He expressed doubt that smaller operators could bear the added expense. Rickards is president of the Marin County Grocers Assn.

At least one of the major independents, Bon Air Supermarket in Greenbrae, made the change yesterday. James W. Kilpatrick, Bon Air owner-manager, said his meat department now is open Monday through Thursday until 9 p.m., Friday until 10 p.m. and Sunday until 8 p.m.

Family Service Convention Set For San Rafael

Eight hundred representatives of Family Service Assn. of America will convene in San Rafael Nov. 11-13.

Mrs. Charles L. Schafer of Corte Madera will be general chairman and Family Service of Marin will be the host agency.

Keyntoe speaker is to be Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, internationally known semanticist.

Board members and executives attending the conference will represent family agencies in 13 western states, western Canada, Alaska and Hawaii.

Drop Kidnap Charge

ONTARIO (AP)—Betty Jean Yocum, 38, who took a 9-weeek-old Eric Leon Flores from his crib and kept him five days, is charged with child stealing.

The charge was reduced yesterday from suspicion of kidnaping.

"I just love children," the bleached blonde said, sobbing.

She offered to babysit for widowed Ruth Flores, 35, last Friday night. While Mrs. Flores was gone, she took the baby—a twin—to her home a few miles away.

Mrs. Yocom convinced her husband, a truck driver who frequently is away from home, the baby was her own.

"I wanted to have a son," she said. "It was the one thing I wanted more than anything else to give my husband."

Depot Land Seen Out As Library Site

Possibility that the site of the city-owned bus depot on Mill Valley's Lytton Square might be acquired for a new public library dimmed considerably at last night's meeting of the library trustees, when it was learned that the land is a part of the city's special parking assessment district which functions until 1970.

President Robert Jenkins of the library board said today the trustees will consult with City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to determine whether there are any circumstances under which the property may be legally used for library purposes. Trustees will also continue to investigate other sites to replace the current structure on Lovell avenue, built in 1910.

The board set for March 19 a special meeting to prepare recommendations for a five-year capital improvements program as requested by City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

Trustees also agreed to seek formal backing of the city council for proposed state legislation under the California Library Services Act. Jenkins said the legislation is designed to raise library standards through the use of some state funds.

Conrad Lands Plane In Rome

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ferry pilot Max Conrad landed today at Ciampino Airport, completing a 4,806-mile nonstop flight from Chicago. It was his 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane.

Conrad made the flight in 34 hours and 3 minutes.

The flight in a single-engine Piper Comanche did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by M. L. Boling. who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.

'Chalk Garden' Plays In Tiburon Tonight

The Cove Players will present the third and fourth performance of "The Chalk Garden" at the Tiburon playhouse tonight and tomorrow with the curtain at 8:30.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Donald Robinson of 741 Tiburon boulevard, and are reserved on a first-come, first-served basis, according to William Carter, Cove Players president.

No Music For Minors

Music for Minors has no production scheduled for tomorrow. Last week's Marin Datebook in the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine incorrectly listed "The House That Jack Built," which played Feb. 28.

Next performance will be April 4.

'Complete Reversal' Charged In Sewer Row

The Ross Valley Sanitary District board today charged the Corte Madera Sanitary District board with "complete reversal of your previous position" in the latest in a long-drawn-out war of communiques over enlargement of the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant.

Last week, the Corte Madera board sent the Ross Valley board a letter setting forth objections to the latter body's latest proposal on financing the plant enlargement to handle Corte Madera sewage. The plant belongs to the Ross Valley district.

Today, president Peter A. Ribar of the Ross Valley board released the contents of his board's reply. It said further negotiations between the two districts on the plant enlargement are unnecessary.

The Corte Madera board's letter "is a complete reversal of your previous position and in direct conflict with the original proposed contract and our negotiations of the past three years," wrote Ross Valley manager Ralph C. Noah at direction of the board of directors.

"On or about Feb. 20, 1958," the reply states, "your board met with ours and specified certain objections to the contract as originally proposed (in 1956).

"These objections were fully considered by our board and each and every such objection was removed by appropriate changes in the contract," the letter continues. "We feel that there is no necessity for further negotiation and that your board should act upon the revised contract."

The Corte Madera directors, whose proposed $850,000 bond issue was soundly defeated by the voters Jan. 13, now are faced with the problems of providing treatment of increasing sewage in their district.

Bids Opened On Hill School Construction

The Ed Eoff Co. of Richmond submitted the lowest base bid on building an addition to Novato's Hill School, but because there were 14 alternate items on the bids, there is uncertainty as to which of three bidders will be awarded the job.

Bids were opened late yesterday. The base bids were all within a range of less than $1,000. The Eoff firm's base bid was $141,980. Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross submitted a base bid of $142,407, while David C. Walker and Associates of Cloverdale bid $142,800 as a base figure.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said today that architects John Lyon Reid and Associates will present a summary of the bids, including alternates, to district trustees Tuesday night. Decision as to awarding the job will depend on which alternates are finally considered essential.

The project will add a music room, arts-crafts-shop room, boys' and girls' locker-shower room and administrative space to the 19-classroom Hill School. The expansion of the school includes adding eight acres to the site's present 12 acres.

Smith said the district hopes to have the addition completed by the opening of school next September, but a recent delay caused by rejection by the state of the first set of bids on the job may make that impossible.

Copper Mine Struck

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Two railroad unions called 225 members off their jobs yesterday and thus began a gradual shutdown of mining and smelting operations of the Anaconda Co., Montana's largest single employer.

As many as 8,000 workers may be idled by Saturday because of the jurisdictional dispute.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive, Firemen and Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen touched off the work stoppage. They claim jurisdiction over loading ore into railroad cars at an open pit here.

The work has been performed by Anaconda crews who are members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind).

Main Replacement To Cost $61,000

Directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District have accepted the low bid of $61,000 by the MGM Construction Co. of Concord for replacing a 3,000-foot force main from a pumping station near the Greenbrae Bowling Alley to the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant.

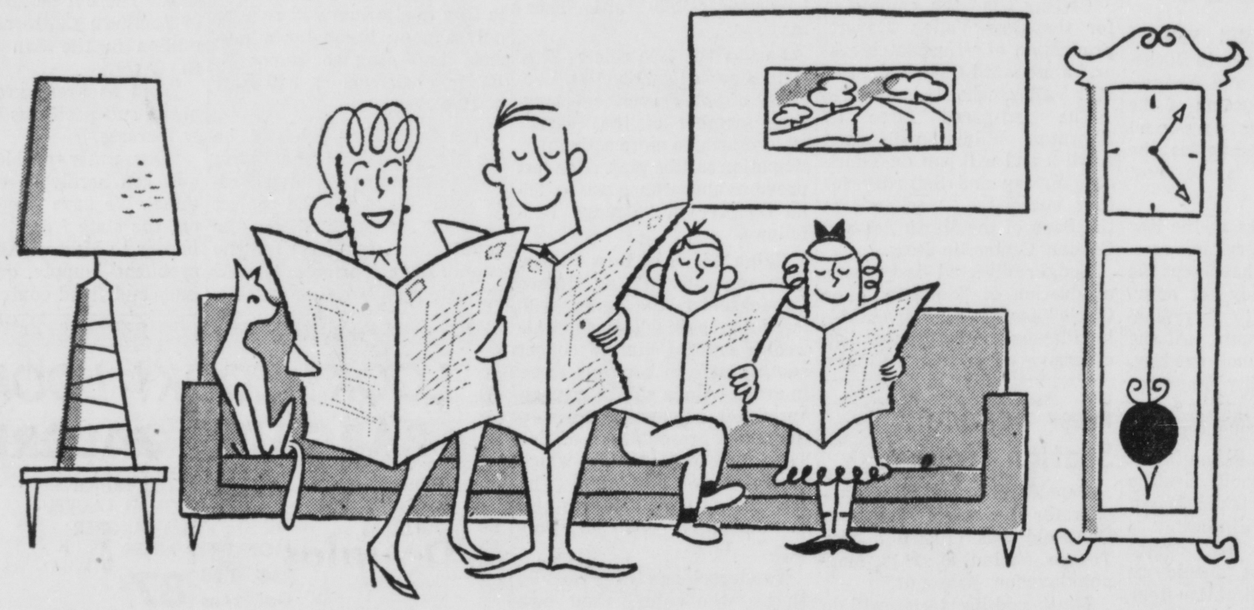

Work on the replacement should begin within two weeks and must be completed within 90 days under terms of the contract, according to Ralph C. Noah, district manager.

Five other bids were submitted, ranging to a high of $119,000, said Noah.

Nurses' Superintendent Gets Leave Of Absence

Mrs. Estelle A. McCall, superintendent of nurses at San Rafael General Hospital, has been granted a leave of absence to accompany her husband, Norman, to Florida because of illness in the family, John H. Prescott, newly appointed acting administrator, announced today.

She is expected to be away about two months. Mrs. Patricia Leonard of Novato is acting superintendent while Mrs. McCall is away.

J.C. All-Stars Vie In Marin Tonight

The cream of the Golden Valley Conference basketball crop will be on display at Kentfield tonight when the champion College of Marin Tars take on a formidable array of all stars from the five other teams in the junior college circuit.

To start at 8 o'clock, the game is being staged to help raise expense money for Marin's trip to the California J.C. Tournament at Santa Monica beginning next week. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Marin Coach Cal Riemcke announced his starting lineup would include Bill Breuner at center, Larry Fulton and Jerry Reese at forwards and Claude Curley and Pat Anthony at guards.

Breuner, the 6-foot-8, 190-pound freshman from Marin Catholic, averaged 14 points a game this season and is expected to lock up in a big duel tonight with Bob Wright, the 6-5, 200-pound scoring machine from Sierra.

The balance of Marin's squad includes John Brookman, Dennis Slavich, Pete Stampa, Larry Trick, Junior Banuelos, Robbie Harvey and Milt Woods. ....

The All-Star squad will be coached by Woody Hutchison of American River J.C. and George Kutras of Shasta, whose teams placed second and third, respectively, behind Marin.

The All-Star lineup includes:

American River—Chad Germaine, 6-1, 173; Bill Witaker, 6-5, 200; Ray Vinall, 6-1, 171.

Shasta—Al Smith, 6-2, 190; Joe Brouillard, 5-10, 160.

Sierra—Bob Wright, 6-5, 210; Tim Burke, 5-10, 155; Terry Banderas, 6-0, 160.

Napa—Don White, 6-1, 175; Larry Hart, 5-11, 165; Joe Fuccy, 6-1, 185.

Yuba—Russ Mayfield, 6-3, 185; Harry Broumas, 5-10, 160.

Marin Athletic Director Harry Pieper said this morning that advance ticket sales indicate one of the largest crowds at Marin in recent years.

A preliminary game at 6:45 o'clock matches the Mill Valley Boys Club against St. Rita's of Fairfax.

S.R. Draws Unbeaten Macks In Champs Tourney Opener

San Rafael Bulldogs last night were selected to represent the North Bay League in the Tournament of Champions high school basketball classic next week at Berkeley.

San Rafael had tied Vallejo for the NBL championships, so the league's principals were called together in Sebastopol to vote for one representative. The secret ballot vote was 5-3 for San Rafael, presumably on the strength of the Bulldogs' two victories over Vallejo in NBL play.

With that good news under their belts, the Bulldogs went to school this morning only to be informed of some rather dismal news. That is they must face mighty, undefeated McClymonds High in the tournament's first round next Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

The Oaklanders, defending champs of the T of C, currently boast a 19-0 record for the season and are working on a 40-game victory streak over a two-year span. In one game this season the Macks ran up 100 points.

Said San Rafael Coach Bob Lincoln: "McClymonds plays a race horse style of basketball, but it doesn't scare us. We'll slow them down with our deliberate style."

San Rafael goes to the tournament with a 16-4 record. Its losses were to Santa Rosa, Tamalpais, Drake and Marin Catholic.

Lincoln said his tournament squad would include 15 players and a manager. He said Athletic Director Angelo Colombo, former head coach, would assist him.

Other teams in San Rafael's bracket besides McClymonds are Stagg High of Stockton (20 wins, 1 loss) and Richmond or Hayward of Alameda League.

All games will be played in University of California's Men's Gymnasium.

Other first round games next Thursday: Las Lomas (Diablo Valley League) vs. Poly or Washington (San Francisco); Santa Cruz (Coast Counties) vs. Sacramento (Metropolitan) and Stagg (Central) vs. Richmond or Hayward (Alameda League).

Last year the Drake Pirates represented the NBL admirably by winning the tournament's consolation champion. The year before Drake placed third.

Grammar School Cage Tournament Standings

Following are team standings of the Redwood Recreation Department's first annual grammar school basketball tournament going into this afternoon's final games: Ross School, 3-0; Kentfield, 2-1; Neil Cummins, 1-2; Larkspur-Corte Madera, 1-2; Reed, 0-3.

Bam-Bam! S.F. Batsmen Murder Own Hurlers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants scheduled only a light drill today with no batting practice, presumably to give the pitchers a much-needed breather.

Three of the Giants' top hurlers—Johnny Antonelli, Stu Miller and Mike McCormick—had all they could do to protect themselves from the little white ball yesterday in the final intra-squad game of the training season.

Antonelli gave up two homers and six runs in two innings of work; Miller gave up another four-bagger, and McCormick dished up a three-run circuit clout in the one inning he pitched.

The six-inning game was won by Coach Wes Westrum's squad, 9-4, giving the second stringers a 2-1 edge over Coach Bill Posedel's crew.

Don Taussig accounted for much of the heavy belting with two homers and five runs batted-in. Hank Sauer had a three-run blast, and rookie Roger McCardell provided the varsity with its only round-tripper with a solo shot in the second.

Rookie pitcher Gaylor Perry and Ron Herbel, plus Phoenix veteran Dom Zanni, followed the three front-liners to the mound and were considerably more impressive, giving up only one run among them.

Manager Bill Rigney gave outfielder Leon Wagner a shot at third base in what was billed as the beginning of "Operation Late Inning Power." Wagner was fortunate to escape with his life, stopping two balls with his chest and ducking from a screaming liner off the bat of Jim Davenport.

Rigney said he plans to move Orlando Cepeda to third and put Bill White on first in future contests when the situation calls for more power in the lineup.

Another position switching experiment yesterday also had less than impressive results. Rightfielder Felipe Alou was tried out in left, where he booted one fly ball, then threw it way wide of home plate.

"I do believe that Felipe is a better rightfielder," Rigney observed.

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS

San Rafael American Little League will conduct tryouts for 11 and 12-year-old players tomorrow morning, 9 a.m. at the San Rafael Little League park. Younger boys will be tried out the following Saturday, it was reported.

Glover, Snow Star As Tam Swimmers Clobber Lincoln

Veteran freestyler Sid Glover and sophomore Rick Snow each won two events as the Tamalpais High School swimming team rolled up an impressive 78-17 victory over Lincoln of San Francisco yesterday at Tam's pool.

Glover won the 50-yard free in 26 seconds and the 100 in 59.7 while Snow swam the 400 freestyle in 5:00 3 and the 150 individual medley in 1:56.6. Tam won every event, including 100 butterfly, Mark Cory, 1:08.0; 200 free, Chris Coulon, 2:17.6; 100 back, Mike Harrison, 1:16.2; 100 breast, Kirk Laurie, 1:16.4; medley relay (Harrison, Jerry Gunn, Cory, Bill Emerson); 200 freestyle relay (Coulon, Stuart Anderson, Bob Mosher, Jack Lucas) and diving (Dennis Johnson).

Tam's Class B team also won, 35-33.

Willie Discusses Past, Present, Future In Chat With Connolly

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — You can bet all the schmalz herring in Tel Aviv that Willie Mays will not wind up his baseball career on the inside of the nut cracker.

The big squeeze won't find Willie short. Not if he continues to play his future hunches like he played his past hunches.

And Willie, the Say Hey Kid, right now is mapping his plans for the day when he no longer hogs the spotlight in baseball. In the heat of this thriving Giant baliwick yesterday, I cornered Willie. And that is no cinch. He hardly has a minute to himself from the time he plants his feet on the diamond until he retires to the dressing room. And what's more, Willie doesn't like interviews of any duration.

"What I have to say, doesn't take long," was Willie's way of granting me the floor.

"Yep, baseball sure has changed since I busted in back in 1952," explained Willie.

"Ball players today are faster, smarter and more ambitious. And they have a distinct advantage. The older ball players help the young fellows. So the young fellow doesn't have to make so many mistakes.

"WHEN I broke in, the oldtimers were just starting to soften up and welcome kids.

'Today if a young player asks for counsel or for specific knowledge, he gets it without any strings attached."

Mays' comment on the biggest change since he came into the ranks is his own observation. He still ranks as one of the fastest men in the National League. But he says it isn't all due to speed.

"You got to use your own judgment in using your speed," he started off.

"I never have to be told I made a mistake. I know it the moment I make the boot. But I only make the mistake once."

"What are your plans when your playing days or over?" sezzi, explaining that I was asking the question only because I felt baseball people would like to know.

"I'M LOOKING right now for to get into some business," he answered. "I think this is very important. I would like a business of my own and one that wouldn't take too big of an investment."

Did Willie like San Francisco?

"That's a hard question for me to answer," stated the Giant outfielder.

"My wife and I were strangers. Still are, for that matter. I felt about San Francisco just like I felt about New York when I landed there. I was strange and nervous. My wife was the same. We're both getting over it now. But I can't just pick up stakes and quit New York all of a sudden. So it is going to take us another year or two to decide whether we want to make San Francisco our permanent home."

WHAT PLANS has Willie and his wife for the adopted boy?

"None right now," Willie laughs. "We ain't even really too much acquainted. But my wife and I feel that we are just going to try and let the little shaver grow up and if he decides to become an athlete it's okay."

Does Willie ever worry over getting hurt?

"I just never give it a thought," he explained. "I have only been hurt once and that was off the ball field. But I never even think of getting hurt, injured or spiked. And because I'm not thinking about it I just never seem to be unlucky."

Does he worry when he is in a slump?

"I never worry if I'm in a slump, just so long as the ball club is winning. But I do worry if I'm in a slump and we're losing at the same time. I worry because I can't help us win."

Did he play as hard as he is doing since getting into the high salary bracket?

"I GUESS I played harder when I was getting less money because I wasn't too sure of myself. But I've always played my best since I began baseball at the age of 8.

"Of course getting big money helps me work hard. I know I can earn more if I am able to please the baseball fans. They are the people who tell Mr. Stoneham how much I am worth to him. And I think he has been pretty much of a right guy with me ever since I joined the team."

What pitcher causes you the most trouble?

"All of 'em," yells Willie. "I can't ever think of a pitcher who can't trouble a hitter.

"BUT AS a general rule I'd say that the pitchers who have fluffy deliveries and sneaky slow stuff are the hardest to hit. With those kind of pitchers, the batter has to supply his own power. But with fast ball pitchers and curve ball pitchers, who are fast, they help a hitter deliver long drives."

How come you can run so fast and still be looking over your shoulder?

"I never watch the ball," explains Willie. "I just watches the player and move accordingly. I know if some outfielder fakes a throw and doesn't throw perfectly, I'll beat his throw."

WHAT CHANCE have the Giants of becoming world's champions in 1959?

"We've got a very young club and some of 'em are inexperienced," Willie replied. "But with our speed and our power hitters, we got just as good a chance as any club. In fact when we win the championship you can just say it is the start of a seven year span."

If I overlooked any questions to ask Willie, it isn't because I didn't think of them, but because it was his turn at bat and he just ran away and left me there getting sun burned in the hot Arizona weather.

Redl Favored Over Unbeaten Foe In TVer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stefan Redl has a burning ambition to win the welterweight championship. But he is not banking entirely on achieving that feat.

The Hungarian-born, German-reared fighter, now living in Passaic, N. J., meets unbeaten Eddie Jordan of Brooklyn in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jordan, 23, is subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. A victory over Ortega could have boosted the unranked Redl into the top ten. Fighting Jordan, a newcomer to TV fans, means just another payday for Steve. He is a 7-5 favorite.

A purse of $4,000-plus, however, is a big thing for the industrious European. He has taken his boxing earnings and his earnings as a truck driver and poured most of it into the purchase of a farm in Pennsylvania. He plans to raise beef cattle.

Redl's fight record is 22-3, including 13 kayos. He has failed in his major tests —against Gale Gerwin, Gil Turner and Vince Martinez. A loss to the unknown Jordan would knock him out of the big time main event class.

Jordan has plenty of incentive to win this one, too. This is his debut as a TV performer and Garden main eventer.

He stands 5-10 compared to Redl's 5-5. His record is 16 victories and two draws.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast—NBC, 7 p.m., PST.

Robertson Heads AP All-Amercan Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati—"A greater player this year than last."

Jerry West of West Virginia —"There's no one who can compare to him in all-around ability."

Bob Boozer of Kansas State —"Hardest to stop big man in college basketball."

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State—"Greatest player in the Southeastern Conference since Bob Pettit."

Johnny Cox of Kentucky — "Best when the going is tough."

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by The Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game.

Don Hennon of Pitt; Johnny Green of Michigan State; Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame; Leo Byrd of Marshall and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State were named as a second team. Hennon, a first team All-America last season, missed out this time because of Pitt's poor record. He and Pucillo, at 5-8½ and 5-9, respectively, are the smallest players on the squad.

Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech; Bob Ferry of St. Louis; Ron Johnson of Minnesota; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern and York Larese of North Carolina were chosen as a third team.

12 Go Tomorrow In Anita Derby

ARCADIA (AP) — Twelve 3-year-olds go to the post Saturday in the rich Santa Anita Derby and most eyes probably will focus on Silver Spoon, the lone filly in the field.

Upwards of 50,000 are expected to see the 22nd running of the event at a mile and one-eighth, out of which might develop a prospect for the Kentucky Derby and the other two gems of the triple crown.

Leading threats for the probable purse of $150,000 include Neil S. McCarthy's entry of Ole Fols and Finnegan; Royal Orbit from the estate of the late Jacques Braunstein, and C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon.

Others entered are Linmold, Prince Lewker, Tuleg, Fightin' Indian, Friar Roach, Mr. Deep Well, Die Hard and Jungle Dancer, son of Native Dancer and running companion of Silver Spoon.

Post time is about 5:05 p.m., PST.

Tanfo Opens To Hungry, Thirsty Fans

SAN BRUNO (AP)—Tanforan's 55-day thoroughbred race meeting opens today despite a strike of the Culinary Workers and Bartenders Union.

Management was assured by the union there would be no picketing.

Negotiations broke down yesterday between the union and Sports-service of San Bruno, Inc., which holds food and drink concessions. The strike is against the concessionaire, not the track.

Fred H. Ryan, vice president and general manager of Tanforan Co., Ltd., said "It looks as if our fans will have to bring their own coffee. We will operate without either bar or restaurant service."

Tanforan has its own contracts with the Teamsters, Pari-Mutel, Building Service and Operating Engineers unions. In 1957 a strike by the pari-mutuel clerks closed operations of a meeting here for 27 days.

Tanforan's opening means two major California tracks overlap. Santa Anita does not finish until March 11.

OPEN LETTER TO MARIN COUNTY CITIZENS!

Last year about this time everyone was talking recession. The Americans' morale was at low tide. In order to break the spell of recession talk the Automotive Industry put on an all-out drive called "YOU AUTO BUY NOW."

This drive was successful, it lifted Morale . . . Unemployment decreased sharply, people began to spend their money. It was successful enough to receive an outstanding tribute from the President of the United States.

Today as I see local business and residential people supporting the foreign trade I just wonder if it isn't time we take another look at our American economy. What would happen if:

1. Citizens in need of eye glasses would order them directly from Germany.
2. All new furniture customers ordered items from England.
3. Our auto manufacturers ordered their steel from Austria.
4. All the people desiring a new television or radio would order them from German or Italian exporters.

Wouldn't our country be in a sad state of affairs?

This very thing is happening every day right here in our back yard. You purchase your new radio, Hi-Fi or TV set and it's delivered to your door in a foreign vehicle. You buy your new set of eye glasses from our local doctor and he supports foreign economy by purchasing a foreign vehicle.

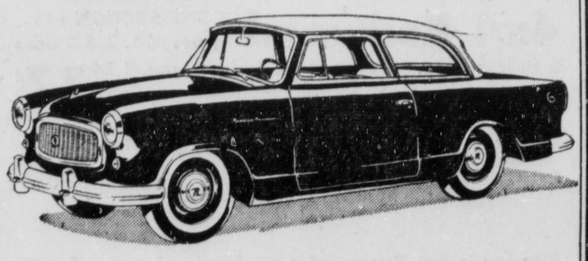

I appeal to you as good American Citizens to support your economy by purchasing American made merchandise.

We have a slogan here at Larry Brink Motors Inc., "Be An American, buy an 'American,' Made in America, by Americans for Americans."

We cordially invite you to visit our showroom at 450 Miller Ave., Mill Valley. We have "Americans" to suit your budget.

Cordially yours,

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

ANCHORS & ANCHORING

The most comfortable feeling in power boating is to have a power plant so efficient and well maintained that you know it will get you to your destination.

But next to that, I can think of no greater satisfaction than knowing that you have the equipment necessary to hold fast to the bottom when mechanical failure or other reasons make it necessary. There is nothing more helpless than a small boat (in a big sea) neither able to propel itself nor hang on to the bottom.

Fortunately, this helpless feeling need never be yours. For equipped with the proper ground tackle (anything used in securing a boat at anchor) you will be able to hold on and wait it out. Nor is ground tackle solely an emergency need. Anchoring is necessary under most ordinary conditions and therefore you should, as basic knowledge, know the why and how of it.

HERE THEN are some observations and the U.S.C.G.R. recommendations for ground tackle.

There are a good many types of anchors and we will not go into a technical dissertation, but you should know that the weight of an anchor rarely determines its holding ability.

Holding ability depends upon how quickly and efficiently the fluke (sharp holding points or blades on the anchor) dig into the bottom and how they react to surge and swell. Generally a new type patent anchor weighing 8 pounds will hold better than the old type anchors weighing 5 or 6 times as much.

It is not our intention to recommend any particular brand of anchor, but it would be difficult to discuss anchors without mentioning the names Danforth and Northhill, for these types of anchors revolutionized ground tackle thinking. They are lightest, most efficient, compact and certainly a boon to small boats. They do not depend upon their weight to hold.

FOR WHAT will fit your needs best, discuss your boat with your boat shop people.

No boat of any size should leave the dock without at least one anchor. If your boat is in the cruiser class, you certainly need two anchors. To be most effective, attach about 10 feet of chain to the anchor and then fasten the line to the chain.

Try to picture what happens when you lower your anchor: first the anchor itself touches bottom, lies down and will begin to dig in as soon as you start backing off. The chain now plays an important part because it is heavy and lies on the bottom, thus preventing the anchor from breaking out. The anchor line will float with the action of the water but the chain will not.

It is most important to know the depth of water in which you intend to anchor. For this you will need either an electronic depth finder (about $200.00) or a plain old lead and line (about $5.00).

LET OUT 6 times as much line as you have depth. Example: Depth—5 feet, anchor line 30 feet. That's a good average ratio. More line cannot hurt, but less line may prove ineffective, so stick to the 6 to 1 ratio.

Never, never throw your anchor out! It may get fouled up in its own line and it could also take you along with it! Lower the anchor straight down and as it touches bottom, go slowly astern (back up) until your slack has been taken up and the anchor has taken hold.

Under some conditions you will want to use two anchors forward in a V formation. Sometimes you will use your heavier anchor forward and a lighter one aft.

Before bringing in your anchor, start your engine and keep it at idling speed. Your anchor line should be taken in as you slowly go toward the anchor under power. Now when you are a few feet from the anchor, fasten the line to the bit, and give your engine a short burst of speed. This action will cause your bow to rise sharply and under ordinary conditions should break your anchor loose. Make it a habit to use your engine for the heavy work.

ANCHOR manufacturers have put out excellent small anchors and anchoring pamphlets that are yours for the asking. So get some from your boat shop.

Now just a word on care. When you have hauled in your anchor, give the line a chance to dry out before stowing below. Coil it loosely so that the air circulates through. And avoid kinking. A sharp pull against a kink will weaken the fibre and so lessen your holding potential.

Your ground tackle is an important part of your working gear. Give it the attention it deserves.

Schaefer's, a hustling quintet, kept the Dugout going all out during the entire game. Milt Hain, with 7 field goals and 2 free throws for a total of 16 points, led the Sports Shop attack. He was followed by Clark Muldavin and Don Munton, each with 10 points.

3 Marin Teams Vie Sunday In CYO Cage Semi-Finals

Three St. Raphael's Parish basketball teams trek to Berkeley Sunday afternoon to meet East Bay champions in the semi-final round of the San Francisco Archdiocese CYO Basketball Championships.

They are the 90 and 100-pound division teams that last weekend downed Sonoma County titlists in quarter-finals plus the 120's who were unopposed in quarter-finals. Two other St. Raphael's teams, 70's and 80's, were eliminated last week.

Sunday's semi-finals will be played in the St. Mary's High School gymnasium. San Rafael's 90's and 100's tackle St. Louis Bertrand's of Oakland while the 120's take on St. Elizabeth's, also of Oakland.

Eddie Malley scored five points to pace the St. Raphael's 90's to a thrilling 19-15 decision over St. Rose last Sunday at Marin Catholic. Field goals by Don Hanson and Bob Redding in the final minutes provided San Rafael's winning margin.

In St. Raphael's 23-22 win over St. Rose in the 100-pound class Ron O'Connell scored two key baskets and also led total scoring with 10 points to star for the victors.

New Shark Gun To Be On Display At Sports Show

A powerful shark gun will be among many new pieces of diving equipment on exhibit at the Marin Skin Divers Club booth at the Marin Rod and Gun Sports Show March 13-15 at Bermuda Palms.

The speargun, which is double-barreled, fires two steel shafts propelled by carbon dioxide.

It was made especially for hunting sharks by Alfred Giddings Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Marin Skin Divers Club.

He intends to take it on a forthcoming club diving trip to La Paz, Mexico, where he hopes to run into a shark or two.

The skin divers will display a large variety of other diving gear, including several new underwater cameras.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES

Former President Harry Truman and Britain's former prime minister Clement Attlee enjoy a laugh together during a chat yesterday at a downtown Kansas City hotel. Adlai Warns Russia U.S. Will Fight

BOSTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says the Soviets should understand that if they interfere with the West's freedom of access to Berlin they run the risk of war.

The two-time Democratic candidate for president advised the Soviet leaders in a speech last night "not to mistake the underlying temper of our people."

"When the President says we will not give in to force, he speaks for all of us. I pray there are no illusions in Moscow on this vital score."

Stevenson spoke at a dinner in honor of former Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody, a Democrat.

At an earlier news conference Stevenson said he agreed with Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that Stevenson would not seek the nomination in 1960.

"I agree with Mr. Butler. I am not a candidate in 1960."

In his speech Stevenson berated Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for "a tirade of abuse and threats" while British Premier Harold Macmillan was in Moscow.

Nikita Wisecracks Way Through Leipzig Fair

LEIPZIG, East Germany (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev swept through the East German Trades Fair today with a roving eye for German girls—"pretty, pretty, pretty"—and a series of off the cuff wisecracks.

He drank toasts to Alfried Krupp, the West German industrial magnate, and to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

He traveled at a pace that left his aides breathless but found time to call for stepped up trade between Russia and West Germany, to invite more Swedes to visit Russia and to plug the merits of plastic bathtubs over rockets.

He told the representatives of one big West Germany iron and steel firm which already is exporting heavily to the Soviet Union, "What you are sending us is not enough; we can buy your entire output of steel tubes."

A visit to the fair ostensibly was the reason of Khrushchev's visit here. But in two major political speeches he has offered to postpone a Berlin showdown beyond his May 27 deadline, but warned he will conclude a separate peace treaty wtih the East German Reds if the West continues to reject his cold war peace terms.

Western observers said his postponement of the May 27 deadline merely delays the crisis and does not ease it.

Russia's ambassador to East Germany, Mikhail Pervukhin, has scheduled a reception in Khrushchev's honor at the Soviet Pavilion tonight.

Tomorrow he goes to Berlin and reports here said he would make two speeches—to a mass rally at 9 p.m. Saturday in East Berlin's prinicpal street, the Stalin Allee, and a second in the big Werner Seelinbinder hall in East Berlin.

At the British exhibit Khrushchev was struck by the good looks of girls at a chemical booth. He asked if they were English. When told they were German he said, "pretty, pretty, pretty."

Then he turned to John Peel of Britain's Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., and said, "I do not want to offend your national pride but they seem to be better looking than English girls."

Anti-U.S. Riots Ease In Bolivia

LAS PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—The U. S. Embassy planned to reopen today after a letup in anti-American demonstrations.

The Bolivian Foreign Ministry said it did not expect any more trouble and advised embassy workers they could return to their homes in the capital. They were evacuated to the suburbs Monday to escape roters. None was hurt.

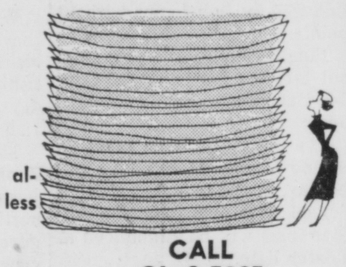

French Hunt Rebels Who Slew American

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — French troops fanned out in western Algeria today in an intense search for nationalist rebels who ambushed and killed an American and a German, and wounded another American.

The dead men were Homer Flint Kellems, 65, of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Airele Raimund Allen, 19, of Bonn, Germany, an interpreter. Kellems, was a brother of Vivien Kellems, tax-fighting Connecticut woman industrialist and unsuccessful aspirant to the U.S. Senate.

'Sealed In Easter Style' Theme For Tuesday's Fashion Luncheon

Fashionable outfits "Sealed in Easter Style" will be presented at Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus Luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, honoring Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc.

Seal of approval readied by R and M Style shops of San Rafael and Mill Valley which have seen twenty Easter parades go by and are well familiar with the needs of the fashion conscious Marin woman.

Not quite twenty years old is the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. whose Easter Seal drive is now underway.

Fashions stamped with approval by all age groups and figure types will be stressed in order that each guest may see herself in the "Easter Parade."

The spring of '59 is a hat year and hair styles created by Tone's House of Beauty will accent the spring bonnet. Beauty Counselor will coordinate spring make-up related to age, face and fashion.

This is the first time that the Marin Society and the other three groups working for Crippled Children and Adults have put their "Seal of Approval" on one event. It means a great deal for the Marin Society has just "sealed" some 40,000 envelopes which have been received by Marin residents.

Fashions will be modeled by Mrs. John Ehlen and Mrs. E. C. Brown of the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults; Mrs. A. C. Saul and Mrs. Ray Ehmke of the "Hobby Group," whose funds are used to further the work of the case policy committee, sending people to "Easter Seal Camp" and "Holiday House"; Mrs. Merton Preston and Mrs. Gunhild Brown of the "Recreation Unit" whose members operate a recreation program for adults, the year around, and for children during the summer, with funds provided by the Society; Mrs. Walter Moreno and Mrs. Donald Smith of the "Friends of Arequipa" whose many hours spent in volunteer work for funds raised to purchase equipment, put on parties, provide materials and for Case Work are greatly appreciated by the Society.

Handicapped members of the Recreation Program will be luncheon guests of John Rickey.

Table decor will be "lily" corsages made by various Units of the Friends of Arequipa; these symbols of Easter may be taken home by guests to be worn on milady's shoulder for a donation into the Easter Seal Can, placed on the table for that purpose.

These popular luncheons are open to the public and reservations may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

'PORTS OF CALL' TO BE THEME FOR SAUSALITO SCHOOL DANCE

Has your fondest dream been to sail to faraway islands? Your dreams can be fulfilled on Saturday, April 11, at least for one evening. You can board ship in the costume of the land you long to see and sail to the Corinthian Yacht Club for an evening of dancing and merriment via "Ports of Call," the Sausalito Nursery School's traditional dance.

Promising to be more exciting than ever before, this year two boats have been chartered to transport guests to and from the gala affair. A supper will be served at midnight.

The Nursery School's major fund-raising event of the year, the maintenance of the school's high standards is dependent upon the success of the dance. All interested persons in the county are invited to attend.

The price of the ticket to "Ports of Call," which is to be held on Saturday, April 11, will include dancing, midnight supper and the boat ride to and from the dance. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Berdahl in Sausalito, reservations chairman.

The weekend of March 6, 7 and 8 has been set aside for participating mothers of the school to sell tickets to the dance and to receive donations for the fund drive. The awards include a round-trip ticket for two to Lake Tahoe by Commodore Aviation, two dinners at the Alta Mira Hotel, a case of Masson Vin Rose, two dinners at the Ondine Restaurant and many others.

Square Dance Class

A beginners' square dance class will be formed on Monday, March 9, at Hammond Hall, Church of Our Saviour, Lovell and Old Mill streets in Mill Valley. The class, sponsored by the Redwood Rompers, Square Dance Club, with Al Malone as caller-instructor, is open to all couples who wish to receive instruction in basic square and round dance figures, and to progress through the intermediate stages.

Reed School District Holding Book Drive

Currently underway in the Reed School District is a drive for books of all kinds and in any condition. Purpose of the drive, which is being sponsored by the Reed Parent-Teacher Club and the Belvedere Nursery School during the month of March, is to round-up good titles, many of which are out of print, for both student and teacher libraries, to increase the supply of reference books and to complete the Reed District's set of topical bindings of articles in the National Geographic Magazines which are also being solicited.

Surplus books will be sold to defray handling costs. Many books have worn covers but the text and illustrations are still worthwhile and these can be salvaged by repairs and rebinding at minimum costs.

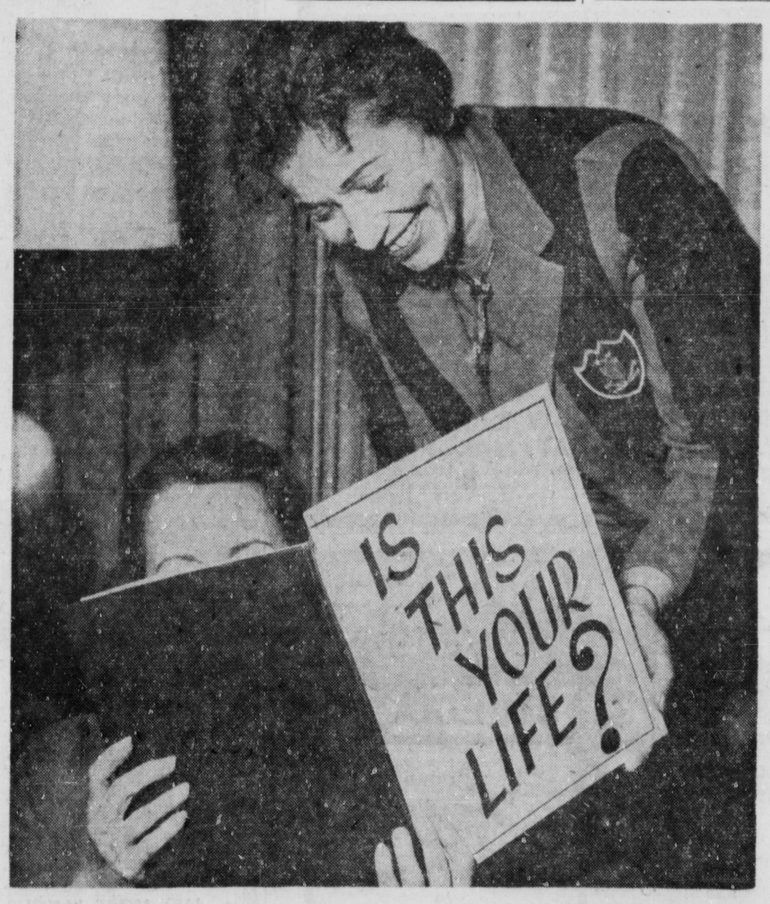

Any book, including paperbound editions, will be received, sorted for suitability and sent to the bindery for repair if necessary. Juvenile books for all ages are particularly desirable with pre-school level going to the nursery school which will pay its own charges for repairing damaged books.

A collection center and workshop has been set up on the Belvedere Boardwalk which is being staffed on a weekly basis by the four Units of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. This week Belvedere school mothers will staff in the morning under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Peterson and Tiburon mothers in the afternoon with Mrs. Harry Winblad in charge. Next week the Reed school mothers will be in charge, headed by Mrs. George McKegney; final week will be handled by the Bel Aire unit as arranged by Mrs. Lester Gorsline.

In addition to the Boardwalk collection center, books may be left at the four district schools, the Belvedere Nursery School and the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon.

Already donated are several sets of books including an encyclopedia of ten volumes which, although 20 years old, will be useful for many social studies and historical references. Art books, historical novels, detective fiction and current novels are among the first donations according to Mrs. Ralph Meyers, chairman of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club's library committee which has arranged the drive.

Assisting Mrs. Meyers are members of her committee composed of representatives from the four units: Mesdames McKegney, Reed; Gorsline, Bel Aire; Winblad, Tiburon, and Robert Bastian, Belvedere; school principals, Mrs. Edna Wessell, John Fitch and Robert Gaw; Mrs. William Polhemus, Book Fair chairman, who will solicit special donors; Mrs. Erwin Farley; Mrs. Stanley Dick, in charge of pick-up; Miss Joyce Wilson and James Wilson, Reed District teachers. Also assisting are Mrs. Melvin Gautier, posters; David Allen of the Boardwalk and the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department which has furnished tables.

Stewart-Futrell Nuptials Read Sunday In First Presbyterian

The First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael was the setting Sunday for the wedding of Marjorie Ann Futrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Futrell of Novato, and Edwin Duane Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Stewart of Corte Madera.

Officiating for the 2 o'clock ceremony was the Rev. Herrick J. Lane.

Arrangements of snapdragons and gladioli were at the altar and special nuptial music was sung by Mrs. Robert Marshall of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin ending in a chapel train. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline and fitted bodice and long lace sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a sweetheart shaped coronet of lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Shirley C. Wright of Napa, as matron of honor for her sister, wore a waltz length gown of emerald green satin. An emerald bandeau of lace over satin matched emerald shoes and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Mrs. Roger de La Montanya and Joanne Locati of San Rafael, as bridesmaids, wore ensembles which matched the matron of honor's.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Futrell wore a blue brocade sheath with matching three-quarter length coat and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige taffeta dress with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

John Stewart of Omaha, Neb., the bridegroom's cousin, was best man and ushers were Richard Foster of Corte Madera and Harry Loftus of San Francisco.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony at the Corte Madera Recreation Center where gardenias were used on the bridal table and arrangements of snapdragons and gladioli in the rooms.

For a wedding trip, the bride wore a beige sheath with blue accessories.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles C. Baker of St. Louis, Mo., who was present at the wedding.

The bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is employed at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mr. and Mrs. Einar Hansen of Sioux City, Iowa, close friends of the bridegroom attended the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside in Corte Madera.

Ross School P-TA Announces Dates For Two Events

As a public service the Ross P-TA is sponsoring the showing of a film released by Walter Reed Hospital and concerning oral resuscitation, the new method of life-saving, on Wednesday, April 1, at 8 o'clock in the school's activities room. The public is cordially invited.

Dr. Joseph Guthrie will be present to answer questions along with members of the American Red Cross and the Marin Medical Assn.

With swimming season close at hand the film takes on tremendous importance and may well be the means of saving a life. Oral resuscitation is the mouth to mouth method of breathing life into an unconscious person and received wide attention recently when a San Francisco doctor saved the life of a child by this method.

At the meeting of the P-TA Tuesday night, March 10, 75 Ross students will participate in the school's annual Spring Concert under the direction of Thompson Chesnut. One band and two orchestras will take part.

Preceding the concert the election of P-TA officers will be held and in honor of Girl Scout Week, members of Girl Scout Troop 121 of Ross will perform the flag ceremony.

Sunshine Peat Moss by itself is ideal for acid-loving Azaleas, Camellias, or Gardenias, because it provides lots of humus, fast drainage, plenty of water. Sunshine supplies these three needs better than any other material. Reason: it's Sphagnum Peat Moss—holds the most water, has the highest, long-lasting organic content — humus — of all!

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Music Box Boasts Fine Pianist; Sun Lures Diners To Alta Mira

Last Wednesday Mrs. C. and I went to the Music Box to sample one of Gene Pah's fine stakes and also his crab Newberg and what did we find but that Leo Cramer had engaged a bambino called Nino at the piano, and he is something to give meaning to the restaurant's name.

What Nino Delgado does to the keyboard is matched by what he does to people. I dare you to spend an hour or two and not discover you're an undiscovered entertainer. He's that good.

He has Eddie Knott, the mixologist, singing Irish tenor songs and it wouldn't surprise me any if Leo himself started practicing crooning on the side.

Nino breezed in one day and talked Leo into signing him for four nights a week, Wednesdays through Saturdays. He places an innocent looking pair of maracas on the piano bar and once you pick them up you're lost in your own talent.

That same night a nice little chap named Jimmie Schmidt got in the act with an old Cudahy's ham can and a pair of jazz brushes, and Spence Watkins coming in to pick up his wife, Emma, who handles the tables, stayed to sing "Compare."

Nino, by the way, is recently from the Gangplank in San Francisco; was formerly with Ciro's in Los Angeles, and Ted Fiorito. No wonder.

OVER COFFEE with Harry Abras, whose finger is in more than one transfer of restaurants and liquor licenses, I learned that the Red Fox in San Rafael is due to be taken over March 15 by two French chefs, Paul De Vaux and Pierre Frobert. Present operators Don McLaughlin and Peggy De Mars will assume management of restaurant facilities at the new Greenbrae bowling lanes on that date.

Hard to tell yet exactly what changes will occur in the Red Fox cuisine. Presumably it will go continental.

Nature of the service at the Greenbrae Lanes is such that Don and Peggy will be handling mostly short orders.

SUNSHINE in Sausalito always means one thing for sure—luncheon crowds on the Tree Top Terrace of the Alta Mira Hotel.

Difference this year seems to be a heavier representation of the male element — business groups from both San Francisco and Marin .

Last Tuesday was a good example. The day was bright and clear, and attendance at the time I showed looked to be somewhere between 150 and 200. Probably 40 per cent were men. This was past the peak hour. Biggest run seemed to be on Max Huigi's salads.

THE BRICK LODGE on San Rafael's Fourth street, acquired by Guido Farina in a swap deal for Novato Joe's continues as before serving lunches daily—Guido handling the cooking himself while Mario Gattorna does the same at San Rafael Joe's, Guido's other eatery a few doors down the street.

Look for possible future expansion in space and service at the Brick Lodge—dinners probably, in which case Guido will set up a menu to attract all comers, including Teriyaki steaks, lobster tails and such.

Meanwhile he can handle banquet and group dinners for up to 50 by reservation. Nice place for color and atmosphere, and a fireplace which isn't used much in this kind of weather, but it's good scenery.

Starting Sunday, the Lodge will be open for gin fizz breakfasts at 10 a.m.—ham'n eggs, steaks—whatever you like at that hour.

FRAN O'NEILL, waitress at The Cellars, let the cat out of the bag. Marin old-timer Charlie Hutchison, who leaves for Tulsa next week on a fortnight's vacation, does so thanks to Fran's boss, Johnnie Mangini.

Johnnie found out that Charlie had a condition which has been growing worse as the months go by. Charlie's 65th birthday came up, so a dinner was held with Johnnie donating the food. All proceeds went for Charlie's trip home, and an unnamed donor provided round trip airplane tickets.

Good thing to look into is the Cellars' $1.25 lunch—steak sandwich with paste or salad. Also the New York cut on Thursday and Friday night dinners.

ONE PARTY who is not pleased with San Rafael's "Big Circle" one-way street traffic plan is ex-restaurateur Hector Rubini.

Hector bought the Yacht Club tavern on Irwin street and he claims the northbound one-way setup past his door does anything but help business. He was all geared up to remodel and serve food, too, but now—I dunno.

Fireman Can Park Truck Until June

County Fireman Loren A. Hall of Larkspur can continue parking a fire truck in the carport of his home at 60 Diane lane until June as far as the city of Larkspur is concerned.

The city council Wednesday night voted to delay decision on Hall's request for a zoning ordinance variance until July. In effect, this gives Hall the right to continue parking the truck in his carport until that time.

A new fire county station, to be constructed by June, will then house the truck, reported City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

Several New Films Opening Sunday At Marin Theaters

By LESLIE DARD

Several new movies are opening in Marin Sunday. Here are the details, along with capsule comment on other weekend fare:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Clifton Webb takes a firm stand for bigamy in a new comedy (color and CinemaScope), "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," which comes to this theater on Sunday. His views are not meant to be taken seriously, of course.

Webb has settled into a happy marriage, with a large and noisy family, in Harrisburg, Pa., around the turn of the century. He likes the set-up so much that he establishes a similar household in Philadelphia, where he frequently spends time on business.

He insists, when he's discovered, that he was merely a generation or two ahead of his time and calls on the children of his first marriage to be his judge, which sets up a mad trial scene.

It adds up to a spoof of family life in the Gay 90s, with Clifton Webb running the show.

Through tomorrow night, the feature is "The Big Country," starring Gregory Peck, Burl Ives and Jean Simmons.

RAFAEL THEATER

Gary Cooper is a combination of frontier psychiatrist and fast gun in "The Hanging Tree" (color), an offbeat Western which will sprout on the Rafael screen Sunday.

Cooper's co-star is Maria Schell as a girl confronted by illness, both mental and physical, after being abandoned to die during a stagecoach robbery.

She was burned and blinded by the sun, and while Cooper is able to cure these ailments, he still must overcome her shock at seeing her father slain in the holdup. His devious therapy throws her into a prospecting partnership with Karl Malden, the village bully, which leads, in turn, to a full-scale shooting match as well as an animated lynching bee.

Through tomorrow night, the feature is "Separate Tables," just nominated for an Oscar as best film of the year. It stars Burt Lancaster, Deborah Kerr and David Niven (the latter two were nominated in the best performance category).

LARK THEATER

Currently showing at the Larkspur theater is "Albert Schweitzer," a worshipful film biography of the great humanitarian who has combined music, philosophy, theology and medicine to become a contemporary hero.

It is composed of two parts: an examination of the haunts of Schweitzer's youth in the picturesque Alsatian village of Gunsbach, and a study of his famed hospital community in Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa.

Schweitzer himself prepared the narrative, which is spoken by Frederic March. It adds up to a film which shows a great man at work.

FAIRFAX

"Houseboat" (color and CinemaScope) is a sophisticated fairy tale, full of the hokum fairy tales are made of, but with some entertaining types on hand. The cast is headed by Cary Grant and Sophia Loren.

Cary plays a widower whose only problems are his three kids, all straight from the pages of Dr. Spock. Sophia is the daughter of a visiting Italian musician who is out to Find a Man. Instead, she finds one of Grant's offspring (all are slightly mad), and winds up as the family maid.

The houseboat of the title comes in after the house in which Grant plans to live is hit by a train! Because of the Washington, D.C., housing shortage, the family moves into the broken down ark on the Potomac, which provides the setting for the capture of Grant by the luscious Sophia.

SEQUOIA

Tonight and tomorrow, the Sequoia will be showing "The Robe" and "Demetrius and the Gladiators." The first-named was the first CinemaScope movie ever made and still stands up as a rousing hit of biblical film-making.

On Sunday, "Separate Tables" is slated to move over from the Rafael.

Basically, this is two stories, both set at an English resort hotel. The first deals with an American writer (Burt Lancaster) whose ex-wife (Rita Hayworth) trails him to the place and, by her presence, evokes memories he'd rather forget.

The second tale tells of a very British major (David Niven) who talks constantly of the good old days when he fought in Africa, and a spinster (Deborah Kerr), who hangs on to his every word. Then the major is arrested for molesting a woman, and unmasked as a former lieutenant who never saw action.

How the relationships of these people are resolved makes up the gist of this surprisingly frank film, which was scripted by playwright Terence Rattigan.

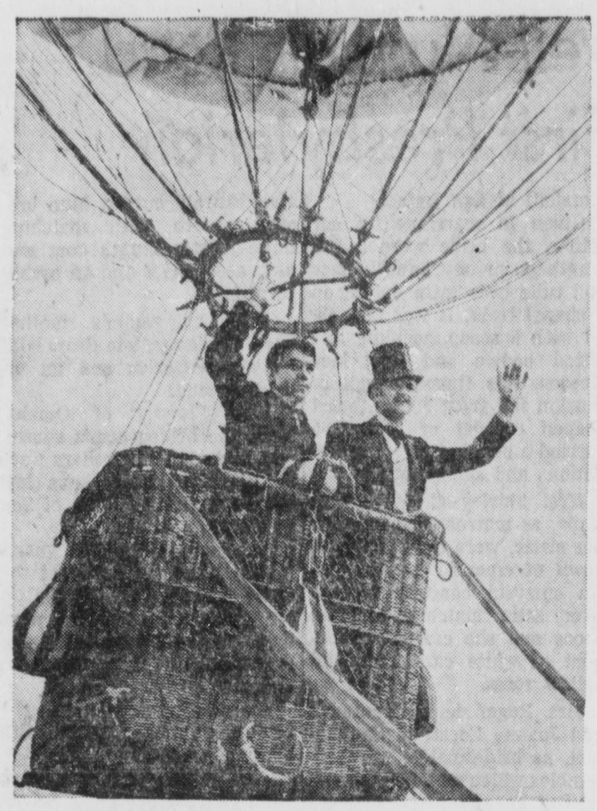

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

Gary Cooper in "Man of the West" (CinemaScope and color) is the weekend feature. In it, he portrays a reformed outlaw turned pillar of the community who is entrusted with the town's savings to go east and hire a schoolteacher.

His train is robbed, and Coop winds up stranded with a somewhat tarnished dance hall singer (Julie London) and a con man (Arthur O'Connell). His gun and the money are gone.

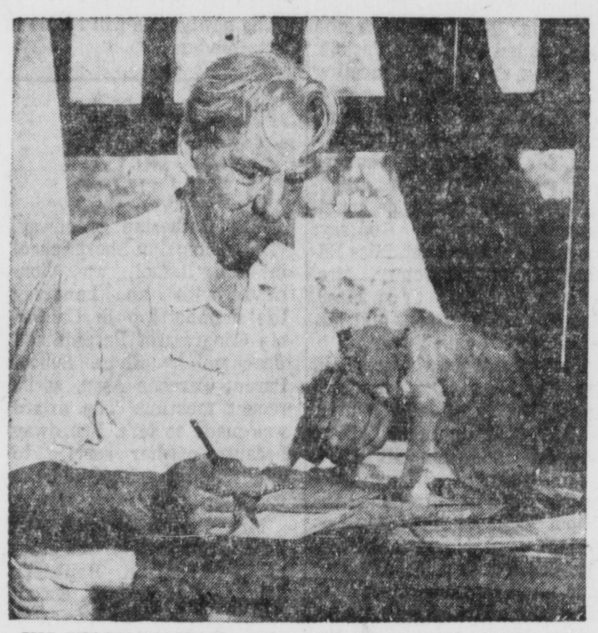

We won't reveal the details, but suffice that Cooper winds up returning to outlaw status in company with his chums from the past, a rugged crew headed by Lee J. Cobb. Cobb, gone soft in the head, decides to stage a bank holdup, with Cooper helping out.

The hair-raising scenes are frequent before Gary is safely back in the saddle once more, the proper number of gunmen dispatched to Boot Hill.

'AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS'

Phileas Fogg, intrepid adventurer, right, and his antic servant use a balloon as a means of transportation for their trip around the world. Fogg is played by David Niven and the Mexican comedian Cantinflas is the servant in the technicolor production of "Around the World in 80 Days," which will open at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael Wednesday. A special matinee has been arranged for opening day and three complete shows may be seen Saturday and Sunday and nightly at 8 p. m.

Red Cross 'Roll Call' Under Way

The Marin County Chapter of American Red Cross this week launched its annual "roll call" by mail.

By agreement with the Marin United Fund, letters were mailed only to a selected list who did not include their total gift for Red Cross in their Crusade donation.

When the Red Cross became a member of the United Crusade the door-to-door solicitation in March was discontinued. "This agreement still stands," said Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, chairman of the Marin County Chapter, "but we are charged by National Red Cross to hold an annual 'roll call' during 'Red Cross Month.'"

Mrs. William R. Eastman Jr., fund chairman, adds anyone who would like to send an additional gift earmarked for the recent disasters would be serving where the need is great. During January and February, 10,731 families applied for help from the widespread floods.

Work Starts Soon On Catholic School Faculty Building

Preparation of the site for a new two-story and basement faculty building for Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School in Mill Valley will begin next week, Rev. John J. O'Brien, pastor, announced today.

Contract for the work was let to Edward W. Burgar, Inc., of San Rafael at $96,000, lowest of 10 bidders.

"The structure will be used essentially as a residence hall for the Sisters who are teachers at the school," Father O'Brien said. "There will also be a chapel, visiting rooms and complete maintenance facilities.

The new structure will be located on Buena Vista avenue opposite the school and directly to the rear of the Mill Valley Post Office. An old residence on the property will be demolished to provide space, Father O'Brien said.

San Rafael Skier Hurt In Squaw Valley Mishap

Peter Stragnola, 21, son of San Rafael bail bondsman James V. Stragnola returned home from Squaw Valley Wednesday night on crutches.

He suffered a long gash below his right knee while on a slalom course with several buddies Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-six stitches were taken to close the wound.

A student at University of Oregon, young Stragnola was serving as a member of the ski patrol at the "Junior Olympics" at Squaw Valley.

New Set Of Experts In Schools Make Difference In Delinquency

We've a new set of experts in our schools, teachers of classes for the mentally retarded. Until recently, inferior teachers were often assigned the classes for the retarded. Usually they hated the assignment. Everybody suffered.

Those days are going, thank goodness. We know now that nearly all of the children labeled "retarded" will make good citizens. Almost all of them will earn their own way. They may not play chess, and they won't read the tragedies of Aeschylus. But they'll build homes, raise families, vote and pay taxes. They'll live normal lives.

We're learning how to teach them. We don't set up impossible goals for them in class, then punish them for failing. We set up goals they can reach if they really try. We teach them at their own slower speed. That's why we need special classes. They thrive in them and they don't hold back the kids in the regular classes.

Their teachers need special preparation. Some of our best teachers now are going back to college for training. Good teachers are asking for the job of working with retarded children. Many schools pay them a salary bonus. They earn it. Textbooks for their pupils are few and far between. They rewrite or adapt other books. Their classes usually stress hand activities. Gardening and woodwork for the boys, homemaking for the girls. Teachers of retarded children need to know how to do practically everything.

I helped bring special classes for mentally retarded pupils to one big city. Previously a shocking percentage of the kids were delinquent. Now very few of them are. Their special class teachers made the difference

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "A psychologist says our girl has an I.Q. of 75. Do children of her ability ever learn to read?" —M.I.

(A) Yes, they do. They should not start to learn to read until they're 8 or 9. Most of them can learn readily then.

Rockefeller Assailed By NAACP Aide

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has refused to support civil rights legislation the NAACP favors.

"That's completely untrue," the Republican governor replied in a statement.

Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, headed a group of 40 state NAACP representatives who met privately with Rockefeller yesterday.

Hill told reporters that Rockefeller would not pledge support for bills to fix minimum wages for migrant workers, give added power to the State Commission against Discrimination, authorize a study of alleged segregation in New York City schools, and ban bias in private housing.

Rockefeller denied that he said he would not support the programs.

"I expressed complete sympathy with the objectives discussed by the NAACP representatives," he said.

The governor said he asked for specific additional information on the first three proposals and reaffirmed his support of the objectives of legislation to ban discrimination in private housing.

Mill Valley Building Reaches $179,854

Building permits for three apartment houses valued at $133,575 plus two residences totaling $41,000 swelled Mill Valley's total for February to $179,854, according to a report today by Building Inspector Preston L. Canfield.

Permits issued in February last year totaled $12,400, Canfield said.

Tight Budget Best Solution To U.S. Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — How can Uncle Sam finance the record national debt without inviting a fiscal crisis or fostering the inflation he hopes to avoid?

President Eisenhower and his top advisers on money matters argue that a balanced budget offers a basic solution. They say a budget in the red threatens financial stability on two counts:

1. Directly, by forcing the Treasury to borrow more cash. This promotes inflation of the money supply because the government must rely heavily on bank credit when it borrows.

2. Psychologically, by increasing inflation fears.

NOW'S THE TIME

Officials say that if the budget isn't balanced in the coming fiscal year, in a time of relative prosperity, people will doubt that red ink spending can ever be controlled.

People who expect continued budget deficits are less apt to save and lend, lest the value of their savings be whittled by inflation.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson recently told Congress: "If we ever reach the point where people believe that to speculate is safe but to save is to gamble, then we are indeed in trouble."

He was unquestionably thinking (1) of the present reluctance of many people to save through investment in government securities (treasury I.O.U.'s) and (2) of the rush of money into the stock market.

Anderson and other administration policymakers have made the balanced budget a major article of faith because they believe even a small deficit would do great harm. They think any unbalanced budget would have a psychological impact that would promote gambling and discourage saving.

Besides hoping to balance the budget, the administration sees another possible solution to the Treasury's debt management problems: more borrowing on an intermediate and long-term basis.

No one will guess when the government will be able to do this. Officials say they expect to have the chance later in the year.

Right now, because lenders are motivated by fear of rising interest rates and inflation, the Treasury has to do most of its borrowing for short terms.

Long-term loans generally are much less inflationary because a smaller proportion of long-term money is provided by the banks. Bank credit means inflation of the money supply.

ONLY ONCE

Since last July, the Treasury has gotten only one loan which comes due in more than five years. It borrowed 885 million dollars in January on a 21-year bond priced to yield 4.07 per cent interest.

This brings up another problem. By law, the Treasury can't pay more than 4¼ per cent interest on a bond.

Some people want the ceiling raised. They say the Treasury should obtain more long-term loans even if it has to offer record interest rates to get the money.

SINCE 1918

The present interest ceiling has been in effect since 1918. The Treasury is determined to avoid asking Congress to increase it except as a last resort.

Many congressional Democrats would tear into any such request. They would accuse the administration of trying to line the pockets of the rich at the taxpayers' expense. There would be, no doubt, an investigation of Treasury policy and interest rates.

Interest on the debt now totals more than eight billion dollars a year and is second only to defense as the largest single category of federal spending.

The administration wants to avoid a donnybrook over the interest ceiling. However, if the Treasury has to continue relying on short term loans, and sees real trouble ahead, an increase may be requested.

ANOTHER CHOICE

Still another suggestion is to have the Federal Reserve System peg the price of government securities at pre-determined levels. When prices fell below these levels the reserve system would buy; if prices rose, it would sell.

While this would increase confidence in the stability of bond prices, it might also touch off an inflationary rise in bank credit if the Federal Reserve were forced to buy vast amounts of Treasury securities.

The Treasury is opposed to this plan.

Anderson and his aides hope, in fact, that they can avoid any drastic solution. They say they are optimistic the problem won't get acute enough to require this.

Hearing Held On Methods Of Builder

A hearing on alleged failure of George Edward Kupka of 104 San Gabriel drive, Fairfax building contractor, to pay certain bills to suppliers and subcontractors and also his alleged failure to follow building plans exactly, was continued until April 7 after a long session Wednesday.

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on April 7 before Jerome P. Herst, hearing officer of the State Contractors License Board, at 507 Polk street, San Francisco.

One of the accusations concerns a three-year-old bill for $245 owed to Ongaro Plumbing Co. of San Anselmo on a Larkspur job.

The hearing officer has the authority to dismiss the charges or to order Kupka's contractor's license suspended or revoked.

War Correspondent To Speak In Marin

A British war correspondent and world traveler, William Courtenay, will present two lectures at Fts. Baker and Berry on Tuesday.

Courtenay will speak on "The Role of Man in Modern War" at the Ft. Baker theater Tuesday at 9:15 a.m., and at the Ft. Berry theater at 1:30 p.m.

In addition to Army missilemen, military dependents and civilian guests are invited to attend either of Courtenay's presentations, said Maj. Gen. E. J. McGaw, commander of the 6th Region, Army Air Defense Command.

Rogers Won't Run Again For Post On Sausalito Board

Robert E. Rogers, senior member of the Sausalito School District board, announced today that he will not file for re-election to his post. He was first elected in 1953.

The term of Mrs. Minnie Sievers, board chairman, also expires. She has announced that she will seek re-election.

"It is my firm conviction that no member should serve more than two successive terms," Rogers said. "New blood should take over at that time."

Rogers is an executive of Mark-A-Line Co. of Sausalito.

Fairfax Recreation Director To Resign

Fairfax Recreation Director James Gallagher is quitting at the end of May because of conflicts with his work as a San Rafael real estate agent.

Gallagher told the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission Wednesday that he would stay as recreation director until the spring boxing matches are over at Fairfax Pavilion.

"We are in the process of finding a new recreation director," said Ralph E. Ford, chairman of the commission.

U.N. Day Planning Committee Named

A committee to arrange activities for United Nations Day Oct. 24 has been named by the board of the Marin County Chapter, American Assn. for the United Nations.

Richard Best of San Anselmo will be chairman. Committee members include Mrs. C. C. Meredith at Ross; Mrs. Peter Sutter, Belvedere; Ross Turney, Ross, and Miss Jane Scribner, Sausalito.

Sali Lieberman of Mill Valley will serve as program chairman for the annual UN celebration.

KTIM's Dixieland Man Got His Drawl In Maine

LEE CROSBY
Led first band at 10

Lee Crosby, the Dixieland jazzman of radio station KTIM, has a deceptive Southern drawl. He was born and educated in Bridgton, Maine.

Lee's interest in music began early. He was 10 when he organized his own band. This little five-piece outfit was kept busy on weekends playing Grange halls, bean suppers and county fairs.

During World War II, Crosby flew with the Air Transport Command in the Pacific Theater and upon his return from combat duty was stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base. After his discharge, he returned home to attend the University of Maine where he was in the well-known Bearcat Band.

He completed his education at San Francisco State College and he received a bachelor's degree in marketing advertising in 1951.

Lee came to KTIM in 1952. His current programs are heard in the early morning and late afternoon. A Dixieland musician as well as a disc jockey, Lee and his band of "disgruntled Confederates and outcast Northerners" ply the trade as Dixieland music makers around the Bay Area.

Timothy Crosby, Lee's 2-year-old son, has broken 14 guitar strings to date. It is a record, Lee proudly claims, that not even Elvis can match.

Radio Man With Big Prize Coming To Marin Tomorrow

Owen Spann, KCBS radio personality, will make an appearance in Marin tomorrow morning, and the person lucky enough to spot him first will win 52 weeks of free entertainment in Bay Area amusement spots.

How can he be found? Elementary, my dear readers—he's been spouting clues all week.

The opening contest was won last week by a San Francisco couple, Barbara and Dick Rosenberg, who found the elusive Mr. Spahn at Seals Stadium.

Sometime between 9 and 10 a.m. tomorrow Spahn will appear at the Marin mystery spot. The clues he has given include these couplets:

"Near the water, near the hill
Outside busy, inside still."

"Just over the ridge,
After crossing the bridge."

"Where children play and buses park,
You'll find me an easy mark."

"Palm trees sway, though just a few,
Water spouts, sometimes on you."

"Two circus pets side by side,
And in the center, those who died."

Prizes include dinners at 11 restaurants, tickets to five movie theaters, three plays, to concerts, lectures, and sporting events as well as night club admissions and special events.

Marinites who shop at the Terra Linda Shopping Center are readily serviced by as many as 12 different businesses, each providing separate goods and services in a modern setting. The center, first store in which opened for business less than three years ago, today serves residents from throughout the Las Gallinas Valley. Several new stores have opened recently. Fire, Explosions Cause Fear Of Nike Disaster

The combination of heavy smoke and the sound of repeated explosions near Ft. Cronkhite yesterday afternoon caused a rash of telephone calls as frightened residents called to inquire whether Nike installations were exploding or being threatened by fire.

Neither was the case.

The coincidence of controlled burning on the Dean Witter ranch immediately north of Ft. Cronkhite territory just as Army ordnance details were exploding "outdated and deteriorated" ammunition near the Ft. Cronkhite lagoon combined to raise fears in Marin and San Francisco.

Spokesmen at 6th Army headquarters at the Presidio and Army Air Defense Command headquarters at Ft. Baker confirmed that the entire operation was routine and that no installation was in trouble

The Marin County Fire Department sub-station at Marin City said the ranch operators had obtained permission for the burning from the Air Pollution Control District. Fire Capt. Frank Machado from Marin City was on the scene observing the operation.

No fire equipment was present, firemen said.

200 Entries Expected In Marin Science Fair

At least 200 scientific entries —one-third more than last year, are expected for the second Marin County Science Fair at Tamalpais High School on March 17 and 18.

Andrew McClain, Tam science instructor who is directing the fair for the second time, has again opened the contest to pupils from seventh through 12th grades of public, private and parochial schools.

Invitations for entries have been issued to science teachers in schools throughout the county. Contestants will vie for blue ribbons in three grade classifications and for a sweepstake prize.

Deadline for entries is next Monday, McClain said.

Members of the Tam Science Club will set up the exhibits in preparation for the judging, scheduled March 16 at 7 p.m., with the following two days to be open to the public from 7 to 9 p.m.

Judges have been chosen from representatives of Bay Area scientific and research installations.

The judges are Dr. Paul Wilson, professor of biological sciences, College of Marin; Gregor A. Vincent, chemical engineer, Bechtel Corp.; Dr. Joe Gustafson, San Francisco State College, professor of biology; Dr. Florence Haimes, professor of physical science, San Francisco State: Mrs. Marion Page, teacher of biology at San Mateo High School; Dr. N. W. Mellars, research dentist, in San Francisco; Rev. John Cunningham of Marin Catholic High School; Robert Rice, director of the Bay Area Science Fair and head of the science department at Berkeley High School; Dr. Richard A. 'WAR IN MARIN'—SHERIFF'S OFFICERS ATTACK

Marin County sheriff's deputies staged a smoke and tear gas attack today, but without a victim. The occasion was a special drill at the sheriff's firing range near the San Rafael sewage treatment plant. The drill took the form of a simulated gas and smoke attack to rout out a fugitive. Here, officers in gas masks make their way through the smoke and fumes to reach the "enemy." (Independent-Journal photo)

Board Opposes Putting Span In Bay Authority

Resolution Says Move Would Have 'No Benefit'

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors, in a special meeting today, flatly opposed inclusion of the Golden Gate Bridge in the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

In a strongly worded resolution passed unanimously, the directors called provisions of CB 576, a bill by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy forming the Authority, "detrimental to the best interests of the people of the counties comprising the bridge district."

Attempting to keep away from either endorsement or opposition to the authority itself, the directors said inclusion of the Gate bridge "would afford no benefit whatsoever that the bond-holders, taxpayers and public do not have now."

COUNTIES EXCLUDED

In addition, the resolution pointed out that Mendocino and Del Norte Counties, part of the bridge district, were excluded from the authority, but "would still be liable for payment of bonded indebtedness . . . which would thus effect taxation without representation."

The board action came after a meeting of the bridge's legislative committee at which the bridge attorney, Jerome B. White, answered 13 questions submitted to him by directors and the general manager.

'UNCONSTITUTIONAL'

White said in his opinion the Authority bill is unconstitutional; the legislator did not have the right to delegate powers of the bridge directors to any new agency; the proposed legislation does not anticipate a vote by the people of the district to accept inclusion; either a citizen or bond holder would have a right to sue to prevent the district from joining the authority, and the authority would be under no requirement to extend state gasoline tax funds for maintenance of either the Golden Gate Bridge or other bridges it might acquire.

The bridge board's resolution reaffirmed its intention of eventually making the bridge

Congress Leaders Back Ike On Berlin

U.S. Won't Yield, Say Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders talked over the Berlin situation with President Eisenhower today and welded a united stand of firmness against Soviet threats, and preparation for any eventuality.

Democrats and Republicans joined in hitting that note after a 90-minute White House conference. Yet they emphasized that firmness does not mean rigidity or unwillingness to negotiate.

"There is no thought of yielding to pressure," Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen.

He added that on the other hand the United States and its allies are determined to explore every possible avenue which could maintain peace with honor.

Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will open talks here March 20 on the situation. Macmillan also will review for the President his recent Moscow conferences with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Announcement of the plans by Macmillan to come here was made by the British and U. S. governments before Eisenhower's conference with the congressional leaders.

Accompanying Johnson were House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.); Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois; and Rep. Charles E. Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP leader.

They said Eisenhower had not proposed that Congress take any specific action regarding the Berlin situation.

Rayburn called the conference very informative .

"The upshot," he added, "is that we are united. We have no parties in this thing."

Marijuana Jails 2 HAFB Airmen

Two airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base were jailed last night with several packets of marijuana, which San Rafael police said may have been imported from Mexico.

Suspects, held in Marin County Jail, are Airman 1/c Rogelio Flores Castillo, 23, of 78th Fighter Wing, and Sgt. Raymundo Gutierrez Jr., 22, of 43rd Communications Squadron.

San Rafael police and the sheriff's office worked on the case jointly, making both arrests on San Rafael's main street.

Inspector Nick Giampoli of San Rafael police got a tip that marijuana was being kept at an apartment in 1333 Fourth street. He and Sheriff's Inspector Richard Argento went to apartment 16 at the address, where Gutierrez and his 18-year-old wife live. She is expecting a baby in two months.

The officers waited until about 5:20 p.m. when Gutierrez arrived home.

Inside a sport coat pocket in the closet, police found marijuana wrapped in an envelope. Gutierrez said he was holding it for Castillo.

Argento spotted Castillo's car on Fourth street from a description given by Gutierrez. On the floor board of the car, Inspector Argento said he found marijuana seeds. He arrested Castillo at a Fourth street bar, and confiscated two packets of marijuana in the airman's right front pocket.

According to the officers, Castillo admitted buying the narcotic in Tijuana, Mexico, and bringing it back for use by his friends. He denied selling the marijuana.

Sunny Hills Urged As Center To Treat Emotionally Upset

Sunny Hills directors met in special session in San Francisco today to discuss a recommendation for development of a "residential treatment center for emotionally disturbed children."

The recommendation came from William D. Schmidt, executive director of children's services in Cleveland, Ohio. Schmidt just concluded a study of child care needs and facilities in the San Francisco Bay Area. His study was arranged for by the United Fund and his findings were presented to that agency yesterday.

"The number of disturbed children is large (in the Bay Area), and the resources for treatment are so small," Schmidt declared.

He said the growing number of disturbed children come from "families where there is divorce or separation, marital incompatability, emotional and mental illness in parents, and general social maladjustment . . . Their behavior symptoms include severe aggression, exaggerated sexual disturbance, unreasonable fears, fire setting, homicidal attempts, suicidal attempts, stealing, truancy, lying and running away."

Only Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco provides care for treatment of disturbed children, but since it serves residents from the entire state its capacity is "but a token resource" for treatment of all the Bay Area children, he wrote.

Schmidt's report said Sunny Hills children's home in San Anselmo "is in a strategic position to develop such a program. Its present population of about 50 children is heavily weighted with disturbed children. It has had to move in the direction of treatment center care because of this. Of the present population, six children are in treatment arrangements with private psychiatrists. Its case work and other staff has available to its psychiatric consultation. Its board is searching to clarify the appropriate course for Sunny Hills to pursue for the future."

"Sunny Hills could perform a great service to children and the community if it would develop its program as one of residential treatment for emotionally disturbed children . . . This development can come to pass at Sunny Hills only with the help of the entire community," Schmidt concluded.

Schmidt's report explained that present-day "social security," in the form of state contributions for foster home care and other programs, fill the need for which charitable orphanages were founded. Sunny Hills was founded as a Presbyterian orphanage 64 years ago, with initial contributions from two wealthy Marin residents, Capt. Robert Dollar, steamship line owner, and E. K. Wood, lumber magnate.

Schmidt's study and findings coincided with the work of a

Freitas Ranch Annexation Wins Round

The Marin County Boundary Commission gave its approval today to the proposed annexation of the Freitas Ranch and other holdings to the City of San Rafael.

But the boundary commission, headed by Walter R. Castro, warned that such an annexation could lead to double taxation.

For example, some areas that are now in the Gallinas Sanitary District may come under the San Rafael Sanitation District. And portions of the Terra Linda Community Services District might have to pay taxes for San Rafael recreation services.

The commission approved the maps presented, with a warning that the overlapping districts could mean multiple taxation for property owners in the annexed area.

Owners of about 1,090 acres of land are seeking annexation to San Rafael. Owners include the Freitas family, Eichler Homes, Calvin Wheeler, John Kenny and Harry Heifetz.

If the annexation goes through, the boundaries of San Rafael will push north up to the Freitas Parkway ditch and across the highway to include the Professional Parkway development.

Larkspur Man Sues Lehi Skipper For Debt On Radio

DeVere Baker, who sailed his Lehi IV to Hawaii, still owes a Larkspur man $245 for the short-wave radio set used in that voyage, according to a suit on file today in Marin Municipal Court.

Rudy Nelson of 11 Heather way, Larkspur, says he provided Baker with an Apelco short-wave radio transmitter and receiving set in March of 1957. At that time, Baker promised to pay him $275 plus interest for the radio set. As collateral the Lehi skipper left a new "Globe Scout" short wave transmitter, says Nelson. The radio left as collateral sold for $30, which leaves $245 plus interest still owing, Nelson claims. He has hired attorney Wallace S. Myers to back up his claim.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Charles Brown (D-Shoshone) got a roar of laughter during Senate debate on the 65-miles-per-hour speed limit yesterday with this story:

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Raafel) was driving 90 miles an hour through his district with another senator as passenger.

McCarthy kept pointing to each side of the highway, saying, "I know all those people up there, and up there."

The other senator, Brown said, got more and more nervous as McCarthy looked less and less at the road. Finally he said:

"Say, Jack, if you get killed, you will have a big funeral. But I don't know anybody. For gosh sakes, slow down!"

65-Mile Speed Limit To Be Official Jan. 1

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown made it official today: California's high speed limit is going up to an absolute 65 next Jan. 1.

The governor announced he would sign the bill sent to him with an overwhelming vote by both houses. The legislation will replace the state's flexible 55 miles per hour limit.

Brown said he intends to instruct the California Highway Patrol to enforce the new law "to the letter."

However, he acknowledged there probably will be a tolerance of a few miles per hour —how much he couldn't say— to make sure the motorist is actually violating the law.

But the governor said the Department of Motor Vehicles will be strict in suspending licenses for continued violations.

Brown indicated in his news conference discussion that the flat 65 will mean that motorists will have to drive at a lower speed than they have been accustomed to under the existing statute. He said he was informed by experts, however, that it will actually save lives.

School Aide Severely Cut As Car Flips

Mrs. Elizabeth Louise Beatty, 37, of Bear Valley Ranch, Olema, suffered severe cuts of the mouth and left leg at 7:55 a.m. today when her eastbound auto ran off Sir Francis Drake boulevard near Lagunitas, slammed into a tree and rolled over.

The injured woman told the California Highway Patrol she lost control during a coughing spell. Her car, a two-door sedan, hit a redwood tree four and one-half feet in diameter, then flipped over and landed right side up 27 feet away.

Mrs. Beatty is employed in San Anselmo as office manager for the confederated school districts of Fairfax, Kentfield and San Anselmo. An unidentified passing motorist drove her to Marin General Hospital. Police escort from Fairfax was provided by Capt. Clifton Cordes of the Fairfax Police Department.

Hospital attendants said the full extent of Mrs. Beatty's injuries has not been determined. She was admitted for observation and further treatment.

Today's accident happened three-tenths of a mile west of Lagunitas. The car was described as a total wreck.

Mercury Down After Heat Wave

A "cool wave" hit Marin today.

At noon, the thermometer reading atop the San Rafael City Hall was a mere 59 degrees, down 13 points from that at the same time yesterday.

High readings yesterday afternoon reached 82 degrees in San Anselmo and Mill Valley.

The drop today didn't mean any immediate return of winter, the Weather Bureau said. The prediction was still for warm sunshine through the weekend.

Woman Killed As Car Hits Marinite's

A 24-year-old San Francisco woman was fatally injured last night when her foreign car crashed into the rear of a Mill Valley woman's auto in Daly City.

The crash killed Sonia Ellen Shirley of San Francisco. She was dead on arrival at San Francisco Hospital after emergency treatment at Junipero Serra Hospital in Colma.

The Mill Valley driver, Mrs. Alice Cecilia Abramson, 45, of 5 Cornelia avenue, was unhurt.

Officer James Welsh of Daly City police said a car in front of that driven by Mrs. Abramson stopped on Junipero Serra boulevard to make a left turn onto 90th street at 7:25 a.m. Mrs. Abramson stopped behind the other car.

A Volkswagen driven by Miss Shirley crashed into the rear of Mrs. Abramson's Cadillac.

Burglar Hits 3 Homes In Loch Lomond

A silent burglar crept through three homes in Loch Lomond while the occupants slept last night and got away with about $200 in cash and several checks, including cashier's checks.

San Rafael Police Chief Frank Kelly said that in each case, the thief apparently entered through defective or unlocked doors, because there was no sign of a forced entry.

Victims were Peter Cazassa of 50 Manderly road; Helen May Dellwig of 40 Manderly road, and C. E. Humphrey of 55 Lochinvar road.

At the Cazassa home, Officer L. J. Ahern said, the prowler entered through the unlocked kitchen door and stole about $10 from a purse. The purse and papers were found discarded near the rear gate.

Officer Thomas Cheetham went to the Dellwig residence to investigate the burglary this morning. A bulldog growled at him and held him at bay. But the same bulldog had apparently slept soundly through the burglary last night. The thief stole $10 from a piggy bank, and about $20 from a purse on the kitchen drain board. The piggy bank and the purse were later found thrown inside the family car in the garage.

The Humphreys lost about $140 in cash, two personal checks for $1,000 and $15, and several travelers checks in denominations of $50 and $20. Credit cards and Humphrey's driver's license are also gone.

Sun Satellite 'Gone Forever'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer IV raced into mute and endless orbit around the sun today beyond any but a faint hope of future contact by man.

The gold-plate cone with its load of instruments lost its radio voice shortly before noon, more than 400,000 miles out in space.

Scientists at the British station at Jodrell Bank planned to try radio telescope tracking, but the jet propulsion laboratory of the U. S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration had no such plans. At NASA it was felt this would be impossible at such range with a vehicle as small as Pioneer —a 13½ pounder only 20 inches long and 9 inches in diameter.

A spokesman said the laboratory's station at Goldstone Dry Lake in California would continue trying but did not expect further intelligible signals.

"For all practical purposes we have probably lost Pioneer IV for good," he said.

Fairfax Nurse Wins $6,000 In Suit For False Arrest

A Fairfax nurse who was arrested on a citizen's complaint last year won $6,000 last night on her claim that she had been falsely arrested and wrongfully put in jail.

A jury of 10 women and two men heard the case before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court and deliberated from noon to 8 p.m. before bringing in the verdict for Mrs. Virginia Smith, the nurse. The vote was 10 to 2, with the two dissenters failing to agree on the amount of money Mrs. Smith should get.

Mrs. Smith, represented by attorney T. G. Fitzgerald, won the award from Emil W. and Lydia Yanke, who operated Tamalpais Convalescent Home in Santa Venetia until last year. According to Mrs. Smith, she went to the convalescent home to see a patient of hers, when the operators of the home had her jailed by the sheriff's deputies.

Accused of disturbing the peace, Mrs. Smith pleaded innocent and got a trial before Judge Richard M. Sims, who acquitted her. Mrs. Smith then filed the false arrest suit against the Yankees.

'THAT'S A LIE'

Mrs. Duncan Denies Charge Of Murder

VENTURA (AP) — "That's a lie!"

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Duncan made this outcry today as she was accused in court of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson asked her why she had gotten a fake annulment of her son Frank's marriage to Canadian nurse Olga Kupczyk after previously abandoning a plan to kidnap Frank to get him away from her.

"Maybe I changed my mind," said Mrs. Duncan, who is charged with murder of Olga and also with fraudulently obtaining the annulment.

"You interfered by getting an annulment," said Gustafson, "and you also interfered by getting two men to kill Olga Duncan, didn't you?"

"No," cried Mrs. Duncan, "that's a lie!"

It was the first time in three days on the witness stand that Mrs. Duncan was flatly accused of hiring two men to kidnap and murder the dark-haired nurse. Augustine Baldonado and Luis Moya have previously admitted killing Olga.

The prosecution charges she did it because she was intensely jealous of Olga's marriage to her 30-year-old attorney son.

Earlier today Mrs. Duncan hotly denied she plotted to spy on her son in a lovers' lane.

"I don't think my son would stoop so low as to go to a lovers' lane," she exclaimed.

Gustafson had asked her if she had asked doctor's receptionist Mary Ann Dowhower to join her in spying on Frank and a girl he once dated.

Earlier, Gustafson referred to an apartment where Mrs. Duncan and Frank lived in San Francisco in 1955 and asked Mrs. Duncan:

"There was only one bed. You and Frank stayed in that bed together, didn't you?"

"We did not," she replied. She explained there was a pull-down bed in which Frank slept.

As today's session opened with Mrs. Duncan on the stand for the third straight day, Superior Judge Charles F. Blackstock admonished the jury to disregard questions and answers in Thursday's testimony about her many husbands.

Mrs. Duncan admitted having been married to 11 of 12 men mentioned by Gustafson. Said Judge Blackstock in his ruling: "Whether the defendant married any or all of the persons named is immaterial to her guilt or innocence."

She was vague on what became of the many marriages. Some were annulled, she said. Other husband told her they got divorces.

Testimony In Manslaughter Trial Conflicts

Conflicting tesimony was given yesterday at the preliminary hearing in San Francisco Municipal Court of Henry Picard, 62-year-old Kent Woodlands brewing executive charged with felony drunk driving and manslaughter.

Picard, president of Burgermeister Brewing Corp., was involved in an accident on Golden Gate Bridge on Jan. 19, in which Emrys Williams, 52-year-old Sonoma bank manager, was killed.

A Rowe Waller of Greenbrae, testifed yesterday that he saw Picard's car cross the double line into the southbound lane, proceed about 1,200 feet and then hit the car driven by Williams.

Carlton Potter of Mill Valley agreed with Waller—although he told the court he thought Picard moved into the middle lane of the southbound section.

However, Glen Henningsen of Daly City testified that Williams—and not Picard—was driving in the wrong lane.

Officer T. Allyn Bragg of the California Highway Patrol testified that Picard refused to take a blood test for drunkenness unless his personal physician was present. The highway patrol was unable to locate the physician.

The hearings will continue Tuesday before Judge Lenore Underwood.

special study committee appointed four months ago by Mrs. Wallace Hickman of Ross, Sunny Hills president. The committee is composed of E. T. Hermann of San Rafael and Mrs. George Egleston of San Francisco, who are members of the Sunny Hills governing board, and William Waste of Ross, Harrison Leppo of Mill Valley and Frank Marsh of San Rafael.

At today's meeting in San Francisco, the Sunny Hills directors conferred with Schmidt about new facilities, new personnel and new programs that might be needed if the institution were developed in accordance with his recommendations.

The costly undertaking presumably would be financed by heavy grants from the Bay Area United Fund, as well as increased local contributions.

Police Chief Exam Slated Tomorrow

The long-delayed written examination for Sausalito police chief is definitely set for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the city hall, city manager Donald A. Duerr said today.

He said two members of the police department will take the test, but did not identify them. Presumably, Sgt. Howard W. Goerndt, who has served as acting chief since former chief Louis P. Mountanos took over as sheriff, will be one of the two.

Duerr said an oral examination has been set for Thursday, to be given by three outside police chiefs.

Final selection should be accomplished by the middle of the month, Duerr added.

Bowling Alley Open Tonight

The doors of Greenbrae Lanes Bowling Alley at Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Highway 101 in Larkspur, will open to the public tonight at 6 o'clock.

Manager Thomas R. Coates said he expects the doors "to stay open for the next 20 years at least" at the 24-hour establishment on Sir Francis Drake boulevard near Highway 101.

He said the 24 automatic lanes will be open tonight. An adjacent nursery for children will be open on Monday, and the tavern and coffee shop will be open by next Friday.

toll-free when all bonds and obligations of the district have been paid in full.

'PERPETUAL TOLLS'

The authority, the resolution said, would be "tantamount to perpetual tolls, contrary to the policy of the board of directors."

Representatives of the Bay Area Council, which is supporting the authority legislation, appeared before the legislative committee.

Edgar Kaiser, council president, urged the directors to give serious consideration to the proposal and suggest changes which would make it more acceptable to them.

MARSH'S VIEW

Frank Marsh of San Rafael, general manager and executive vice president of the council, made a prepared statement in which he also urged the district to cooperate in getting the authority into operation, declaring he believed "it is misleading for anyone to give the impression that tolls can be removed from the Golden Gate Bridge in the foreseeable future. Certainly, under any management, there will have to be tolls for many years to come."

In an hour-long discussion at the legislative committee meeting, directors quizzed the representatives of the council on effects of the authority's creation.

Marin director Leland Murphy declared he could "not see any advantage to the district in being turned over to the Golden Gate Authority. We have operated very successfully for the best interest of our people and I doubt if we would have gotten such things as insurance rate reductions had we been operating under an authority."

Following passage of the resolution, the directors also authorized the president to appoint directors and members of the bridge staff to appear before the meetings of boards of supervisors and other organizations to explain the stand of the directors.

President Dan London appointed Murphy, Marin's other director Matt Graham and General Manager James Adam to appear before the meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, scheduled to discuss the authority this afternoon.

San Geronimo May Set Up Sewer Board

Possibility of forming a sanitary district in the San Geronimo Valley will be discussed at an open meeting of the Woodacre Improvement Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

William L. Desmond, director of sanitation for the Marin County Health Department, will describe the procedure for setting up such a district. County Counsel Leland H. Jordan will discuss legal aspects.

John T. Keilty, improvement club president, said the speakers have been invited as a result of many inquiries by valley residents about the possibility of a sanitary district. Dwellers in the various San Geronimo Valley communities now depend on septic tanks for sewage disposal

Marin Water Officials Meet In Petaluma

Officials of the North Marin Water District and Marin Municipal Water District met with Petaluma city officials in Petaluma last night for informal preliminary discussion of the possibility if importing Russian River water into Marin.

Specifically under discussion was the question of whether a planned water line from the river to Petaluma should be installed with sufficient capacity to serve Marin.

Andrew T. McLaughlin, manager of the North Marin District, pointed out today that no decision could be reached at this time, since questions of how much water can be committed to Marin must be studied and decided.

Tam Valley Club Seeking A President

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club last night seated officers for the year—all except a president.

President Richard H. Perkins had been nominated to succeed himself and had previously accepted, but at the last minute had found that out-of-town commitments would make it impossible for him to serve, members were informed last night.

He was not present at the meeting. Members agreed to hold the office open until the April meeting.

Officers installed were:

Kurt Helmstaedter, vice president; Mrs. Stanley Keldsen, treasurer; Mrs. G. Nick Pendleton, secretary; Bernie Healey and Ovid Porter, members at large.

Basketball Player Breaks His Leg

George E. Vaio Jr. scored 24 points for the Maggi's Flowers basketball team in the San Rafael Industrial League last night, but wound up with a broken leg.

With 2½ minutes to go in the game against Cerutti Brothers in the San Rafael High School gym, Vaio leaped high for a jump shot. As he came down, his right leg crumbled under him.

Maggi's was ahead 50 to 43 when the accident happened. The Cerutti team conceded the game.

Vaio, University of San Francisco student who lives at 77 Via la Cumbre, Greenbrae, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital

Evelyn L. Kennedy Of San Rafael Dies

Mrs. Evelyn L. Kennedy, San Rafael homemaker, died unexpectedly today in a local hospital where she underwent surgery last Saturday. She was 51.

She was the wife of Edward E. Kennedy, a truck driver for Henry Hess Lumber Co. of San Rafael. The two met after she arrived in Sausalito 33 years ago from Seattle. They were married in San Francisco, where Kennedy was employed, but set up housekeeping in Marin County.

Their home was at 256 Union street in San Rafael.

Other survivors are a daughter and son, Mrs. Lorraine Hoy of Novato and Darrell Kennedy, who is on maneuvers with the Naval Reserve; and her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Anderson of Renton, Wash.

Kentfield Resident Philip Crane Dies

Philip A. Crane, retired Illinois grain broker who made his home at 67 Kent avenue in Kentfield, died in a San Francisco hospital yesterday at the age of 80.

He and his wife, Helen, settled in Marin just over a year ago, but they had spent many summers in Inverness since 1934, driving out from Illinois.

Crane was in the grain business 35 years, living in Hinsdale, a suburb of Chicago for 28 years.

He leaves his widow; a daughter and two sons, Barbara Crane of Orange, Bruce Crane of Los Angeles, and Philip A. Crane Jr., who was president of Kentfield Civic League last year. Also surviving are five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

The family has requested memorial gifts be in the form of donations to the Hematology Research Laboratory, Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

Hayden In Tahiti

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI)—Actor Sterling Hayden, who defied a court order to make a "dream cruise" to the South Seas, arrived here yesterday, completing a 4,600-mile voyage from Sausalito.

Aboard the 98-foot schooner Wanderer with the 42-year-old actor were his crew of 13 and seven children—including Hayden's four, whom he had been forbidden to take on grounds the Wanderer was unseaworthy and the crew inexperienced.

Bernice M. Dunphy Of Kentfield Dies

Mrs. Bernice M. Dunphy, 48, of Kentfield died yesterday after a long illness. She had been hospitalized for two and one-half weeks.

A native of San Francisco, she came to Marin 18 years ago, making her home at 18 Locust street in Kentfield. She was a member of Larkspur Circle of Druids.

Surviving are her husband, Robert J. Dunphy, a driver for Railway Express Agency in San Francisco; a daughter and two sons, Mrs. June Marie Wilson of Novato, Robert F. Dunphy, U.S.N., and Donal P. Dunphy of Kentfield; two sisters, Mrs. Elinor Miller of Millbrae and Mrs. Josephine Strong of Castro Valley, and five grandchildren.

A Requiem Mass will be offered Monday at 10 a.m. at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo, with the funeral cortege forming at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9:30 a.m. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at the Williams chapel Sunday at 8 p.m.

Cancer Quackery Bill Slowed Up

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Action on a bill to curb cancer quackery was delayed a week yesterday by the Senate Committee on Public Health and Safety.

The delay was to study proposed amendments to the measure by Sen. John F. Thompson (R-San Jose).

Maj. Gen. John R. Dean of San Francisco, state president of the American Cancer Society, testified the bill would save lives of cancer victims who seek aid from quacks, and save money for healthy persons who are frightened into phony treatments.

Opponents argued that an individual has the right to choose his medicine, and that the bill might create a price monopoly for orthodox therapists.

Bill To Protect Sea Otters Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The sea otter hasn't joined the dodo bird after all and California's Legislature intends to keep things that way.

The Senate gave final approval yesterday to a bill extending a Carmel area game refuge to Cambria in an effort to prevent people from shooting sea otters.

Thought to be extinct, the otters were recently found off Carmel. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee (R-Salinas), said people in cars were picking them off with rifles.

Trucking Aide Ordered To Belvederean's Trial

An East Bay trucking executive and former associate of Edward W. Elliott of Belvedere, who is on trial for allegedly operating a C.O.D. business without posting bond, has been ordered to obey a San Francisco Municipal Court subpena or face the consequences.

Wallace M. Fanning was ordered yesterday to appear in court March 19 to help explain why now-defunct Intercity Transport Lines, Inc. pocketed $12,176 in C.O.D. payments which should have gone to its customers. Intercity was one of the firms in a two million dollar statewide trucking empire that collapsed after state and federal agencies began investigating hundreds of complaints against the firm.

Judge Lenore D. Underwood told Fanning's lawyer, M. F. Hallmark of Oakland, "you see he's here on March 19 or we'll have to send for him."

PLEADS NERVOUSNESS

Fanning said he had undergone an operation on Jan. 19 and had been "nervous" ever since.

If convicted on the charge of not posting bond as required by law, Elliott could receive as much as 35 years in jail and $35,000 fine.

Elliott and his associates in the truck network which operated from San Diego to Arcata, also are under investigation for alleged offenses including failing to pay drivers' wages, paying taxes and bills with bad checks, and ignoring a large number of traffic tickets.

IN COMBINE

Other members of the trucking combine, formed only two years ago, include Alves Service Transportation, All-State Transportation and Collier Transportation.

Witnesses have testified that Intercity and its affiliates took in $2,287 in C.O.D. collections last fall while under a 35-day state ban forbidding them to handle any C.O.D. business. They said the firm continued this action even after shippers protested to the state Public Utilities Commission that Intercity had allegedly pocketed the C.O.D. collections.

Apartments Top Sausalito Building

A building permit for a 28-unit apartment structure at 134 Bulkley avenue, to cost $182,000, topped Sausalito's building permits for February. The total reached $213,230, according to Building Inspector William Hynes.

The apartment structure, designed by Mill Valley architect A. Jane Duncombe, is under construction on the former Ernie Smith property opposite the Alta Mira Hotel. It is being built for L. Bruce Bernhard.

Permits issued in February of last year totaled $99,885, Hynes reported.

Kentfield Boy Wins Lions Speech Prize

John Chambers of Kentfield, junior at Redwood High School, last night was winner of the Corte Madera Lions Club annual student speakers' contest.

Chambers talked on public complacency toward high school education. Beverly A. Sill, contest chairman, said Chambers will compete sometime this month in a zone contest against Daniel McLean, Tamalpais High School senior who won the Mill Valley Lions Club contest.

Runner-up last night was Donna Mickleson of Kentfield, also a junior at Redwood High. The assigned topic of talks was "Complacency—a danger to America."

Judges were Joseph Crammer of Kentfield Toastmasters Club 890, E. Dewart Lewis of the College of Marin English Department and A. L. Nieri of First National Bank in San Rafael.

The competition is part of the 22nd annual speaking contest of the Lions Clubs of California and Nevada. Top prize in the contest is a $1,500 scholarship.

Assemblyman Ired At Lobbyist Hiring

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Freshman Assemblyman Paul J. Lunardi (R-Roseville) says he can represent his district without any help from Francis Lindsay, the veteran Republican he defeated last November.

Lunardi was miffed because the South Sutter Water District hired Lindsay for $1,000 a month to lobby for a bill introduced by Lunardi.

"Utter waste of district funds," said Lunardi.

The bill would authorize a $1,260,000 loan to the district so it could qualify for $4,875,000 in federal aid for construction of a dam on the Bear River.

"I am perfectly capable of obtaining passage of this legislation without interference from Lindsay," said Lunardi.

"And after this unfortunate development, I can only say that if the bill doesn't pass, the taxpayers of the South Sutter Water District will only have Lindsay to thank."

Average residential use of gas in San Francisco

Easy telling the time of year by your P. G. and E. bill. When it's cold and the nights are long, it takes more gas and electricity to make you comfortable.

Winter makes extra work for most all your appliances. Even this winter, which is milder than usual, you're indoors more...using more heat, more lights . . . brewing more coffee, watching more TV and so on. And if your home is like most, you have more appliances this year helping you to live better.

The chart at right shows how the use of natural gas, for example, goes up when the weather is colder and nights are longer . . . and why your P. G. and E. bill is higher. Of course, the unit cost of gas and electricity goes down as your use increases giving you even greater value for your utility dollar!

S.F. Police Shoot, Kill Young Robber

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco police shot one young gunman to death and captured another early today shortly after a service station robbery.

The victim was Stanley Forte, 23. His companion, James Charles Faria, 23, surrendered without a struggle.

Police said the two men held up a Geary street service station, but the attendant took their license number. The car was spotted by patrolmen and nine shots were fired during a chase that followed.

The gunmen abandoned their car on Golden Gate avenue, and attempted to fleet on foot. Inspector William Porter found Forte under a car and ordered him to come out. The youth pulled a gun, and Porter shot him.

Meanwhile, other officers were taking Faria into custody.

Singer Says Mate Held Her Captive

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police booked singer Helen O'Connell's 225-pound husband on two battery charges when she said he beat her and pulled her hair.

A policeman said novelist Thomas Chamales took a swing at him.

Miss O'Connell, 37, who once sang with the late Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, said Chamales held her captive in a bedroom 12 hours.

Chamales, 45, author of "Never So Few" and "No Rent In My Hand," married the singer two years ago.

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE TO KEEP SECRET IN SUCH A CASE

DENVER (AP)—"I'm going downtown on a little business," Leonard H. Wilson remarked slyly the other day.

"Anything I can take care of? I'm going downtown too," said his wife.

The Wilsons parted, only to meet a few hours later—in traffic court where each had been charged with a minor violation.

"I should have known better," said Wilson later. "I haven't been able to keep a secret from her for 32 years."

Jury Clears Clerk In Coffee Pot Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lorraine DeWolfe, a 35-year-old department store clerk, was found innocent yesterday on charges she stole the lid of a jewel-studded coffee pot valued at $90,000.

The jury of seven women and five men returned the verdict after deliberating an hour and 10 minutes. The trial lasted eight days.

The jeweled coffee pot was on display at a downtown San Francisco store, where Mrs. De Wolfe was employed. The lid disappeared, but Mrs. DeWolfe took officers to where it was hidden.

During the trial, the attractive widow testified she suffered from lapses of memory and had "no recollection" of having taken the valuable percolator knob.

Mexico Trains Crash, 11 Die Engineer Runs

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police hunted today for the engineer of a speeding freight which slammed into a passenger train, killing 11 persons and injuring more than 70.

The collision occurred yesterday near Xometla, about 27 miles south of Mexico City.

Javier Garcia Travesi, an investigator for the federal district attorney, said both engineers may have been at fault. Preliminary investigation indicated the engineer of the passenger train halted to repair a bearing without putting out warning flags. Garcia said the freight engineer apparently failed to give the passenger train a required 10-minute head start and was traveling at high speed.

The freight engineer fled after the crash.

Canada Indians On Warpath, Oust Council

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP)—Indians on the warpath have proclaimed a vest-pocket independent state in Ontario and demanded immediate recognition..

They threaten to go to the United Nations if Canada doesn't play ball.

The Canadian government's first reaction was to wait and see. A veiled offer was held out to smoke the pipe of peace.

BLOODLESS COUP

Rebellious warriors, carrying hatchets and wearing warpaint and feathered headdress, staged the bloodless coup yesterday and overthrew the Canandian government-sponsored council of 11 men in the Six Nations Reserve.

Some 20 hereditary tribal chiefs branded the council a puppet government and seized administrative control of the 12-mile-square reserve west of Toronto and Buffalo, N. Y.

ON ITS WAY

The old council slipped out the back door just before the assault.

"We are satisified that the revolution is a success and will not be put down," a rebel spokesman declared.

The chiefs ruled the reserve and its community of Oshweken until 1924, when the Canadian government stripped them of power and vested authority in an 11-man elected council. The dissident faction refused to recognize the council and continued to hold meetings in their traditional long houses.

MOUNTIES ARRIVE

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police force of eight men on the reserve made no attempt to crush the revolt when 1,000 Indians marched on the Council House, smashed open the locked door and took over control.

The insurgents nailed their declaration of independence on the wall with a historic ceremonial club.

CLERK LOSES EMBEZZLED FUNDS ON DOG RACES—TAKES GAMBLE

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI) — John Seve, a clerk in a fruit store, embezzled $1,400 from his employer and lost almost all of it at the dog races.

He panicked, left his wife and daughter and fled to London to consider the situation. He decided to take the chance of winning back the money.

He went to the dog tracks in London and placed a few bets. He lost the first night, the second, the third and the fourth. He was down to $84 before fortune smiled on him.

He began winning against 3-1 and 5-1 odds, placing his bets carefully because he decided he knew nothing about dog racing.

In 11 nights of agonizing worry he recouped his losses. On the night he won back all the money he sent his wife a telegram: "I have raised the money and am sending it back before I give myself up to the police."

Seve kept his word. Yesterday a Southampton court decided not to send him to jail. He was fined $56 and put on probation for three years.

Seve promised his wife he would never gamble again.

The state has purchased the new site ,estimated to be worth five million dollars, and the fair was scheduled to move in 1961.

Subcommittees headed by Rees and Bruce Sumner (R-Newport Beach) asked that expenses of all 79 fairs held throughout the state be reviewed by the full Ways and Means Committee.

Your Taxes Pay $46,380 In Rent For County Offices

In recent weeks there has been much one-sided condemnation of the proposal to build a civic center on the county's Santa Venetia property. This has been discouraging to many who have gone through the literally years of debate over a civic center. The major objection is to the cost when "there is no need."

As one of our recent correspondents put it, "We need this about as much as the Board of Supervisors need more rocks in their heads."

We call this one-sided condemnation because it obviously does not consider the actual need for county office space. We doubt that the most virulent critics have bothered to look into the county's space problem. And, just as important, they haven't looked into what the county is paying out, in rent to provide space and in inefficiency in operation.

In San Rafael alone, county offices are scattered in 13 different locations. Nine of these are rental units, the other four are owned by the county.

Rent being paid out in the present fiscal year totals $46,380.24.

Next fiscal year, starting July 1, with the anticipated addition of a third municipal court plus other expansions, the rent is being budgeted for an additional $16,380. This makes the total next year paid in San Rafael alone by Marin taxpayers, $62,760, if none of the landlords raise the rent.

That's an awful lot of money to pay out and have just rent receipts to show for it.

Now take a look at the map in the adjacent column. Try to imagine all the lost time and manpower in running from office to office.

The probation department, the school department, the welfare department and the county medical office, for example, are supposed to work closely together. The probation office (No. 6) is at Fourth and A streets, the middle of town. Welfare (No. 2) is Fourth and the Skyway; the school department (No. 5) at the far east of Fourth street, and the medical office at the far west (No. 7) on Second street. The problems of communication and cooperation are legion. Other offices have the same problem.

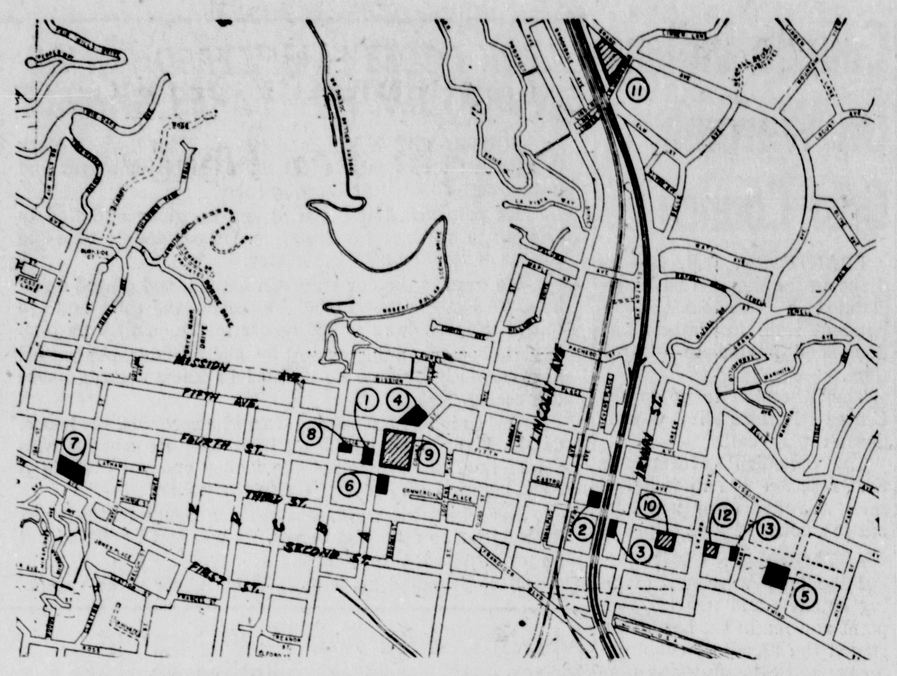

Civic center opponents who say "there is no need," just don't know what they're talking about.

There is more reason for criticism of exactly what the board of supervisors plan to do. Here there is room for a definite difference of personal opinion.

But the supervisors acted after they received overwhelming support for Frank Lloyd Wright as the center's architect. There were public meetings and hearings galore. Opponents were heard and the supervisors interviewed representatives of some 50 architects and engineers of various kinds.

After it was all over and Wright selected, the board received a letter of appreciation from the American Institute of Architects for their fair and thorough treatment of the design problem.

The county has definite need for a civic center of some type. The supervisors have been moving in an orderly, constructive fashion toward that end. We hope they continue toward their goal. We hope that the general public will get behind them so that there will be no unnecessary roadblocks placed in the way.

WHERE THE COUNTY DOES BUSINESS

Marin County does business in 13 offices in San Rafael. Four of the buildings, including the courthouse, are owned by the county (cross-hatched). Nine of the offices (solid black) are rented at a cost this year of $46,380. The offices, as numbered, are: 1—County Counsel; 2—Welfare Department; 3—Purchasing Department and Weights and Measures Department; 4—Administrator's Office and Civil Defense; 5—School Department; 6—Probation Office; 7—Medical Office; 8—Public Defender; 9—County Courthouse; 10—County Garage, Veterans Service Office, Agriculture Department, Communications; 11—Public Works Department, Planning Commission, County Library; 12—Health Department; 13—Audio-Visual Division, School Department.

Larkspur Folk Don't Act As Predicted; Library Has Phone And New Problem

Sometimes it seems like those folk down in Larkspur just enjoy making a liar out of this reporter.

We predicted heavy argument in discussions over development of the Rice family property in the Larkspur business district. The meeting however ended up with most everyone relatively friendly and willing to go along with the proposal.

Now they have done it again. The Larkspur merger study committee, we figured, would collide head on with the Corte Madera group. So, like "They'll Do It Every Time," the first joint session was comparative love making.

It seems this business of arguing up to the time of making a decision is one of the characteristics of the Larkspur people — and perhaps a good one at that.

OH, THESE governmental problems: Mrs. Helen Wilson, boss of Larkspur's fine library, says the establishment is now the proud possessor of one of those new-fangled Bell devices . . . a telephone.

Mrs. Wilson said the phone has proved an outstanding aid in getting overdue books returned, so much in fact that it may have backfired.

Says Mrs. Wilson, "I don't know if its so good or not, we are getting fewer fines now and still have to pay for the phone."

Gosh, and we thought the freeways were the only things causing problems.

WORTHWHILE ITEM not in the news: Plans of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission to start a "Tween-teens" group for kids in the two towns.

Asked for a definition, we were told tween-teens were kids "too old for playing with dolls and too young for teen dances."

Sounds like another good project for this active commission and its youth leaders.

HOW'S THIS for the title of an imaginary book? "Terror Stalks the Waterfront" by John Ehlen.

We might note that John, legal slayer of Sausalito arks and city attorney of Sausalito and Corte Madera, softened considerably the other night before the Corte Madera council.

John in pleading leniency for struggling merchants with sign violations, even brought prose to bear.

"The Letter Killeth, but the Spirit Bringeth Life" quoth the colorful barrister.

NEWS AND VIEWS: We're getting sort of used to the College of Marin trustees referring to some of their special meetings as "conferences," but found another or two this week. . . .

Corte Madera's Mayor William (Bill) Hansen suggested that the councilmen "get together over at my place Saturday night" to review the proposed format for this year's town budget.

We must admit we missed coverage too of the Friday night meeting of the Larkspur School District board. Apparently a meeting was called at the last minute on Friday, apparently without the usual day's written notice, to approve the withdrawal of the low bid for the third elementary school and award the job to the second lower bidder.

One public official who in several years of meetings had seen few members of the public reminded us, "You know, sometimes its hard to remember the public really is interested."

Adults Responsible For Hoodlums

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May a teen-ager be permitted to speak his piece?

I see by the papers that perhaps the hoodlums of Hillsborough may not be entirely to blame for the fighting that took place at a party given recently at a home there.

Now according to the press the hostess, a mother, permitted the party crashers to drink all kinds of liquor.

Isn't it still illegal to serve minors liquor and if you do aren't you, the adult, responsible for the actions of the juveniles?

An Old Friend Comes Back

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

An old friend of mine is back — Hurrah!!

This may sound like sentimental drivel, but we are so glad to hear our "fire horn" at eight, noon and five again. Like the old grandfather clock we didn't miss it — 'til it was silent.

My children were taught to come for meals "when the whistle blows," as was I, and although they are grown now, that whistle still makes them think of "home."

It is San Rafael's individual signature, as well as a mother's friend and a local alarm in time of disaster. Keep it blowing for us old San Rafaelites — We love it!

In Re Utilities, Aerial Or Buried

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

If the County Board of Supervisors would like an unanswerable argument in re aerial and buried utilities, let them compare the electric poles the highway commissioners gave the taxpayers for his money at the Tiburon wye, with the eyesore the utilities present along the highway leading toward Tiburon and what will eventually become the nucleus of a slum district, within a decade, and also a factor conducive to depreciated property values, lower tax yields, health menaces, police considerations and juvenile delinquency.

This is an integral part of a problem that is as age-old as housing and slum clearance. Three fourths of our white-collar and labor force live and work here. This new neighborhood is breaking down before it gets a chance to get old.

Our suburbia has the potential chance to grow old beautifully and attractively. Let this downtown approach to our homes, schools, downtown nerve centers, banks, food centers, etc., be a welcome on the doormat to tourists, new dwellers and taxpayers.

The level of leadership is the utilities themselves and the politicians whom they can not pass. Subdividers, planners, architects, economists and the public must recognize and respect this aspect of suburbia's growth and development.

Don't Raise Driving Age

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have heard much controversy concerning the age for a boy to get his driver's license, that that age, 16, is going to be changed to 18.

I am almost 15 and have over a year to wait for my license. That is long enough, but to add two years would make many boys impatient.

I think 16 is a good age for a boy to get his license for I think the average boy's reflexes are fully developed by then. This is my opinion, but I would be pleased to get more information and get other people's views on this matter.

Teen-Agers Only Want A Chance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I sincerely wish that people could institute a column or even devote front page space for the good works teen-agers do.

Juvenile delinquency is always spread over the entire paper. Nothing is ever said about teen-agers' good works.

If a teen-ager does something good, it rates a quarter of a column in the middle of the paper, but if a teen-ager does something wrong, it's on the front page.

All we teen-agers want is a chance to prove that we can do more than steal things and do harm to people. Please give us a chance.

Dufficy Tries To Do Best He Can

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Last week there was an article in your paper telling of another squabble and harsh words at a supervisors meeting, between Doctor Dufficy and the quarrelsome Mr. Fusselman. It seems that Mr. Fusselman doesn't like people and that he doesn't get along with the average person.

I have found in the past two years that Doctor Dufficy tries to please everyone, but there is no pleasing Mr. Fusselman about anything unless he thinks he is right. . . .

Mr. Fusselman said that he had just one vote and if he had five, Doctor Dufficy would be out. Thank God he has only one. . . .

He is always squabbling with Mrs. Schultz. It is monotonous to hear his NO votes. I hope Mr. Fusselman gets his five votes from his constituents at the next election. Doctor Dufficy does his best and he has a tough job, so stay off his back and give him a chance.

Laugh At Yourself—It's Healthful

Many of us become so wrapped up in the earnest daily race for dollars and security that we begin to take ourselves too seriously. We start to think that we are the axis upon which the world revolves.

All of us have our laughable sides, our weaknesses, our foibles, but some of us have lost the perspective with which to laugh at ourselves.

Sincerity is the catchword of our time. Implied is a picture of a dedicated, hardworking, intense fellow who doesn't waste his valuable time laughing or trying to find humor in everyday situations. Everyone seems to want to feel that he is a man of destiny.

Some of this heady wine may be a good thing. But for us ordinary mortals, it is wise to stop now and then and prick our self-inflated balloon with laughter.

Not only will it be good for our mental health, it will make us more bearable to our associates.

"Let's give this job to the Old Man. Even he can't foul up this one."

"Now Dad, you're too sensitive. Of course, we're glad to see you every time you drop in. What makes you think we're not?"

"It's hard to know what really will amuse them at that age."

"Stop arguing and put on your muffler. You know you catch colds so easily."

"You do? You should have seen how he looked when he was only 60."

"Sh-h-h-h! Don't talk so loud. Everything's gone but his ears."

"Of course he still likes that suit. After all it was fashionable in his time."

"But really, Grandpa, you must have at least SEEN some covered wagons."

"We've got too many older people working for us now. What this organization needs is young blood."

"Go ahead and have another drink. The doctor says it's good for you."

"Our paper is planning to run a series of interviews with the town's oldest citizens, and we thought you'd—"

"Sorry about the health insurance. You're beyond the age bracket. However, we can still sell you an accident policy."

"Wonder who left their false teeth in the men's washroom?"

"Let's give him something really useful for his birthday. How about a rocking chair?"

"THAT'S THE TROUBLE with men your age, Dad. You're afraid to gamble on the future. Now, if you'll just lend me—"

"He's so forgetful. If he tells the story just one more time, I'll scream."

"Wonder what he thinks about when he sits there just staring."

"It's not that he's underfoot exactly. He's just there."

The donkey, however, chose that moment to bray loudly in his stall. "You should be ashamed to lie at your age!" exclaimed the neighbor angrily. "Your own donkey testifies against you."

The landowner replied disdainfully, "I refuse to argue with a person who gives greater credence to the braying of a donkey than to the words of a fellow-man!"

Another neighbor approached the same doughty Turk with, "I understand, my friend, that you have vinegar which is 40 years old. Will you please let me have some?"

"Sorry," said the Turk, "you see, it wouldn't be 40 years old if I kept giving it away all the time."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Democratic Nominee Will Be Man Who Goes Out And Works For It

Now that the Democrats have picked Los Angeles for their 1960 national convention, there remains for them only the diverting task of picking their 1960 presidential nominee.

Selecting the convention site wasn't easy; there was quite a bit of wrangling. But selecting the nominee—that's going to be something. That's going to be the hottest, hardest political contest since John W. Davis won it in the 103rd round in Madison Square Garden in 1924.

Right now you can get odds on a dozen different candidates. They will tell you it is Kennedy against the field or Symington on the fifth ballot or Adlai by default.

IT IS USUALLY safer to bet against a candidate than for one. At this stage of pre-convention jockeying, it is possible to cite more arguments why each candidate can't get it than why he can.

I certainly do not know any reputable political writers who think they know how it's coming out or would pretend to guess with any degree of confidence.

But it is possible to lay down a few guide lines which can be useful in appraising the costest as it takes shape. The political professionals are not making any public forecasts, but they nearly all agree on one basic premise which has the effect of narrowing the field. Their premise is:

THAT THE 1960 Democratic nomination is going to be won by a man who contends for it and is not going to be won by default.

This is going to be pretty much a new experience for the Democratic party leaders because only once in the previous 28 years has the Democratic nominee had to fight to win the nomination. That was in 1956 when Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver had it out all over the country.

In 1936, 1940, and 1944 F. D. R. did not have to contend for the nomination. In 1948 President Truman had it all along and in 1952 Gov. Stevenson was the obvious, unopposed choice from the day Truman announced his retirement.

When the professionals say that the Democratic nomination is going to be won by a contender and not by default, they are referring to what they call the "dynamics" of the political situation.

They mean that Democratic party strength, which has mounted in Congressional election after election during the Eisenhower administration, makes the 1960 nomination a very precious prize.

BECAUSE IT IS a precious prize, because this time the Democrats will likely have a better than even chance of taking the presidency, they mean that the nomination is going to be sought and fought for as it hasn't been for a long time.

They mean that a side-line candidate — a candidate who is waiting around for the leaders to knock each other out — is not likely to be the recipient of this prize. The professional view is that if one contender can't win, another contender will.

ON THIS PREMISE Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey will head the list because they are going to be the most vigorous and probably the most effective campaigners. Sen. Stuart Symington and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson will have to get in the race or declare out. Adlai Stevenson recedes to the background. Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and Gov. Edmund Brown of California, do not look formidable.

If this is the "dynamics" of the political situation, it suggests that for the first time in a century the Democrats will choose their nominee from the Senate.

'Homemaker Service' Sought For Needy

By DIANA BRUCE

The blueprint for a Marin County Welfare Department "homemaker service" was unveiled this week by Betty L. Presley, county welfare director. Miss Presley described cases where a homemaker service would be "better and less expensive than what is possible now."

For example:

1. The mother of three young children in unexpectedly hospitalized for an indefinite period. The father works and must continue to do so to support the family and pay medical bills. Instead of sending the children to foster homes until the father can hire a housekeeper, the Welfare Department "homemaker" could step in for a short while and keep the household going.

2. An aged couple has managed without aid for years until one of them falls and breaks a hip. After the necessary hospitalization, the patient could return home if the spouse were able to carry on the normal household chores and care of the patient. His or her age prevents this. Instead of nursing home care for the patient, the homemaker would visit the home once or twice a week, shop, cook one adequate meal, keep the house reasonably clean and orderly, and help the spouse organize the house with a minimum of effort.

3. A working daughter's elderly mother, whom she has supported for years, becomes bedridden. Although willing to provide a home for her mother, the daughter cannot leave her alone all day, so requests nursing home placement. If a homemaker were to visit the mother an hour a day, fix a meal and report any change in her condition, the daughter could continue to keep her mother at home.

Miss Presley proposed to the county board of supervisors that two positions as "homemaker" be established at the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1, at a total salary cost of $7,260. If only indigent persons received the aid of the homemakers, the county would receive federal reimbursement for half the cost.

Miss Presley offered an alternate suggestion that persons with some ability to pay be allowed to use the service and pay, according to ability, up to a maximum of $1.85 an hour for the homemaker's help.

Miss Presley cited the mounting number of elderly convalescent cases which must be placed in private nursing homes (thereby costing more) because there is not room for them at the County Hospital in Lucas Valley..

During a three-month period that the Marin Council of Community Services studied the idea of a homemaker service with representatives of county departments, Red Cross, Family Service Agency and Catholic Social Service, 25 requests were made for this type of service. Sixteen of the cases involved families with children and nine were for aged and chronically ill persons, she reported.

The board put Miss Presley's report in its "budget file" for consideration later this spring.

THIS WILL BE MODERN APARTMENT HOUSE

An unusual remodeling project is under way on an old 14-room home on Fifth avenue at H street in San Rafael. The building is being converted into a four-unit apartment house for Mazza Brothers, the owners. A towering chimney, dormers and attic have been stripped off. When completed by May 1, the house will look brand new, and will have a complete coating of beige-colored stucco, said Walter Mazza. The house was purchased at auction last year from the estate of the late Annie Strain. Antonioli Brothers are general contractors on the remodeling, a $14,000 job. (Independent-Journal photo)

Solons Briefed On 'Herculean' Water Problem

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the Legislature got a thorough briefing on California's water situation last night.

Harvey O. Banks, state director of water resources, made a lengthy presentation of the state's water problems, programs and plans at the governor's suggestion.

Banks said that if the current session of the Legislature gives its go ahead, "it will be 1961 before we can start and a good 10 years before we get water to the south.

'TRULY HERCULEAN'

"And we don't even know if we can do it by 1971," Banks admitted. "This will be one of the world's greatest construction efforts—a truly herculean task."

The first stage starts in 1960 and would be complete by 1982 at a cost of at least $1,600,000,000.

"And we have to remember, too, that the construction industry is limited in what it can do.

"If we offer them too much work when they're busy with other things, construction costs will skyrocket far beyond the figures we've been working with."

COST STAGGERING

The cost for the aquduct system alone to the year 2020 is $1,900,000,000, Banks said.

Using figures "more conservative than the federal census bureau's estimates, there will be a population of 56 million in California by 2020," Banks said. "There'll be 28½ million in Southern California and 12 million in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"And as areas grow, water needs and problems continually increase.

"Our water problems right now can hardly be called sectional. We have them throughout the state from the Oregon border to Mexico. All kinds of problems—supply, quality, salinity and flood control."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Farmer Gets Deduction For Cost Of Conservation

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

A farmer is allowed to take a deduction up to 25 per cent of his gross income from farming for sums spent for soil and water conservation in 1958. If he has expended more than 25 per cent of his gross income from farming for soil and water conservation, then he can deduct the excess in later years.

Peter J. Wikel

In general, a taxpayer engaged in the business of farming may make expenditures during the taxable year for the purpose of soil or water conservation, or for the prevention of erosion of land used in farming. The expenditures shall be allowed as a deduction.

This is subject to the following limitation. The amount deductible shall not exceed 25 per cent of the gross income derived from farming during the taxable year.

If for any taxable year the total of the expenditures exceeds 25 per cent of the gross income from farming, such excess shall be deductible for succeeding taxable years in order of time; but the amount deductible for any one succeeding taxable year (including the expenditures actually paid or incurred during the taxable year) shall not exceed 25 per cent of the gross income from farming during that year.

This covers only expenditures paid or incurred for the treatment or moving of earth, including (but not limited to) leveling, grading and terracing, contour furrowing, the construction, control and protection of diversion channels, drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses, outlets, and ponds, the eradication of brush and the planting of windbreaks.

It does not cover the purchase, construction, installation or improvement of structures, appliances, or facilities which are of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation or any amount paid or incurred which is otherwise allowable as a deduction.

This does include any amount not otherwise allowable as a deduction, paid or incurred to satisfy any part of an assessment levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district.

The term "land used in farming" means land used (before or simultaneously with the expenditures described above) by the taxpayer or his tenant for the production of crops, fruits, or for livestock.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

Before World War II the coffee break was about as unknown as Whistler's father. (For the students who skipped art class this is a reference to the painting, Whistler's "Mother.") However, during the days of "Rosie the Riveter" the coffee break became as common as peanut shells at a ball game. Now I see that Everett Landon, General Chairman of the National Swimming Pool Institute, says that workers need an afternoon dip in the company pool. "The swimming pool break will one day take its place alongside the coffee break in modern industry," he said. He could be biased. For smaller businesses there could be showers or water pistols. Pretty soon there'll be so many breaks they'll have to have a work break.

New Sewer Cost Pegged At $61,500

Residents of Mill Valley's Corte Madera avenue in Blithedale Canyon were told Wednesday that reconstruction of the broken, inadequate ancient sewer line that traverses the wooded stretch is to cost $61,500.

Recurring breaks in the line and cloudy history of easements being used have kept the matter under study for many years, according to City Manager A. E. Almcrants. At the preceding city council meeting, he asked that City Engineer Albert H. Siemer make a cost estimate of replacing the line.

The matter was submitted at Wednesday's council meeting but no action was taken. Mayor Rober D. Huber indicated a future meeting will decide whether the cost should be classed as a capital outlay item, to be borne by the city as a whole, or financed by special assessment district.

Terra Linda Park Chairman Named

Donald Gordon Black of 710 Montecillo road, Terra Linda, member of a San Francisco law firm, was appointed chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District park and recreation commission on Tuesday evening.

He replaces Joseph R. Gunn, recently appointed as one of five directors of the district.

The directors accepted a quit claim from developer John Kenney for a parcel of land in Terra Linda Oaks 1 for park use.

Fire Commissioner Elmer Johnson reported that cars had been parked blocking the firehouse and that curbs in front of the firehouse would be painted red.

Adoption of bylaws for the district is scheduled for the directors' next meeting, March 17, 8 p.m., at Bernard Hoffman School.

Ross Players Announce 'Matchmaker' Cast

Casting has been completed for the Ross Valley Players' production of "The Matchmaker," announced Cliff Badger of Mill Valley, who will direct.

The fast-paced farce by Thornton Wilder will open April 9 and will run on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for four successive weekends at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center, in Ross.

Badger directed last year's production of "Squaring the Circle" for the Tamalpais Valley Players and before that had extensive experience with the Lakewood (Ohio) Little Theater.

Cast in the title role as Mrs. Dolly Levi is Iolanda (Mrs. Leo) Diner of San Francisco, a longtime member of the Players who returns to more active participation in this play. Her last previous appearance was as Tillie Sparker in "Strange Bedfellows."

Ralph Alden of Ross will be seen opposite her as Horace Vandergelder, the aging, widowed merchant who decides his wealth entitles him to collect another wife to keep his home in order. Alden will be remembered for supporting roles in the recent presentations of "No Time For Sergeants" in which he played two parts, and "The Desperate Hours." He was also in "Stalag 17" and "Mr. Roberts."

Vandergelder's three rascally clerks, who enjoy their own brand of fun when the boss isn't looking, will be played by Alfred Spalding of Ross, who was last seen in "No Time For Sergeants," Richard J. Webster of San Rafael, who previously played the romantic lead in "The Bad Man," and William G. Morrissey of Ross.

Vandergelder's niece will be played by Phyllis Meyer of Sausalito, and her fiance by Richard Brown of San Rafael. Jean Brown of San Rafael will be the milliner whom Vandergelder thinks he will marry until his mind is changed ,and her assistant will be Barbara Morrissey of Ross.

Others in the cast include Erminia Sayers of San Anselmo; Marjorie Ross of Kentfield; Don R. Wilson and George Shistar of Ross; Dorothy Schuster, Ben Borden and Rudi Golyn of San Rafael.

Alan Atkins of San Rafael will design the scenery, John Sarlatte of Mill Valley will construct the set.

New Service Station Opens

Donald Minto, service station operator for eight years in Kentfield, has opened a new Texaco station at 1119 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur.

Minto said his station will do minor tune-up jobs as well as perform regular Texaco services.

He resides at 104 Cascade drive, Fairfax, with his wife, June, and two children. He has resided most of his life in Marin County.

Minto said the hours for the new station will be 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Sundays. The station will close at 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Summer School Plans

The proposed children's summer school program will be discussed at a Reed Union School District trustees' meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Tiburon boulevard offices, according to administrative assistant Lloyd R. O'Connor.

A report on the status of the naval net depot land for a possible school site will be given, O'Connor said. New bus schedules will be reviewed in the superintendent's report.

Marin Citians To Paint Auditorium

A community "painting party tomorrow morning to refurbish the interior of the Marin City auditorium will require only a paint brush for admission, according to Harry N. Bailey, chairman. It will start at 10 o'clock.

The repainting job will be for the benefit of the Marin City Community Theater, Bailey said. Paint for the project is being contributed by the county housing authority. The county fire department is making extension ladders available.

SANTA VENETIA FIFTH GRADERS WATCH RESCUE

Sixty fifth grade pupils from John MacPhail School in Santa Venetia this week visited 12th Coast Guard District headquarters as part of a San Francisco trip. The youngsters called at the Coast Guard Search and Rescue Center in time to watch as Lt. Charles Haley and a quartermaster handled the distress case of the fishing vessel "Baby," which had just gone hard aground on rocks near the Cliff House. With the children are a teacher, Mrs. Ruth Reist, and a mother, Mrs. Betty Jorgenson.

Africa Missionaries To Speak In Fairfax

Four South African missionaries will speak at the Sabbath School of the Fairfax Seventh-day Adventist Church at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, announced Mrs. Alyce Pudewell, superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bradfield and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Inggs, all with teaching experience in South Africa, will also show slides and African wood carvings and basket work after a noontime potluck dinner at the church.

Inggs, who is assistant librarian at Pacific Union College at Angwin, also will be speaker at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield returned to this country two months ago after spending six years in Southern Rodesia. Inggs, a native of South Africa, and Mrs. Inggs came here two years ago.

The Sabbath School has collected clothing to send to the Inyazura Mission, where Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield were teachers.

More Pupil Guards Urged For Schools

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More school kids with signs and fewer adult crossing guards were proposed yesterday by the Senate Committee on Governmental Administration.

The committee said the school safety patrols would better protect children crossing streets, and their expansion would save $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

Many Grocers Plan Evening Meat Sales

Most major grocery stores in Marin County have decided to follow the lead of San Rafael's United Market by keeping their meat departments open evenings and Sundays for the convenience of shoppers.

United announced Wednesday that its meat department henceforth would be open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Fridays until 10 p.m., and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Previous closing time was 6 p.m.

"This has been in the works for a long time," James L. Painter, manager of the Purity Stores market in San Rafael, said today. "From the customer's standpoint, it's a good thing."

Painter said his store yesterday adopted the same meat department hours announced Wednesday by United. He added that the change drew "a lot of favorable comment from our customers."

The new schedule has not been adopted as yet for the meat departments of Purity stores in San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Sausalito. The Mill Valley store was expected to make the change momentarily, however.

Starting Sunday, the Mill Valley Safeway store will keep its meat department open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays and until 6 p.m. on Sundays.

The Safeway store in San Anselmo today adopted a new schedule for the sale of fresh meats, as follows: Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Thursdays and Fridays, to 10 p.m., and Sundays to 6 p.m.

San Rafael's Safeway store will have its meat department hours coincide with store hours, effective today. The store is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 9 p.m. on Friday. It is closed on Sunday.

Littleman markets in Corte Madera and Santa Venetia have adopted this meat department schedule, effective immediately: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Homer Rickards, owner of the Drake Market in San Anselmo, said his store will shift soon to late meat department hours and predicted that all other major independent grocers in the county will do likewise. He expressed doubt that smaller operators could bear the added expense. Rickards is president of the Marin County Grocers Assn.

At least one of the major independents, Bon Air Supermarket in Greenbrae, made the change yesterday. James W. Kilpatrick, Bon Air owner-manager, said his meat department now is open Monday through Thursday until 9 p.m., Friday until 10 p.m. and Sunday until 8 p.m.

Family Service Convention Set For San Rafael

Eight hundred representatives of Family Service Assn. of America will convene in San Rafael Nov. 11-13.

Mrs. Charles L. Schafer of Corte Madera will be general chairman and Family Service of Marin will be the host agency.

Keyntoe speaker is to be Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, internationally known semanticist.

Board members and executives attending the conference will represent family agencies in 13 western states, western Canada, Alaska and Hawaii.

Drop Kidnap Charge

ONTARIO (AP)—Betty Jean Yocum, 38, who took a 9-weeek-old Eric Leon Flores from his crib and kept him five days, is charged with child stealing.

The charge was reduced yesterday from suspicion of kidnaping.

"I just love children," the bleached blonde said, sobbing.

She offered to babysit for widowed Ruth Flores, 35, last Friday night. While Mrs. Flores was gone, she took the baby—a twin—to her home a few miles away.

Mrs. Yocom convinced her husband, a truck driver who frequently is away from home, the baby was her own.

"I wanted to have a son," she said. "It was the one thing I wanted more than anything else to give my husband."

Depot Land Seen Out As Library Site

Possibility that the site of the city-owned bus depot on Mill Valley's Lytton Square might be acquired for a new public library dimmed considerably at last night's meeting of the library trustees, when it was learned that the land is a part of the city's special parking assessment district which functions until 1970.

President Robert Jenkins of the library board said today the trustees will consult with City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to determine whether there are any circumstances under which the property may be legally used for library purposes. Trustees will also continue to investigate other sites to replace the current structure on Lovell avenue, built in 1910.

The board set for March 19 a special meeting to prepare recommendations for a five-year capital improvements program as requested by City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

Trustees also agreed to seek formal backing of the city council for proposed state legislation under the California Library Services Act. Jenkins said the legislation is designed to raise library standards through the use of some state funds.

Conrad Lands Plane In Rome

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ferry pilot Max Conrad landed today at Ciampino Airport, completing a 4,806-mile nonstop flight from Chicago. It was his 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane.

Conrad made the flight in 34 hours and 3 minutes.

The flight in a single-engine Piper Comanche did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by M. L. Boling. who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.

'Chalk Garden' Plays In Tiburon Tonight

The Cove Players will present the third and fourth performance of "The Chalk Garden" at the Tiburon playhouse tonight and tomorrow with the curtain at 8:30.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Donald Robinson of 741 Tiburon boulevard, and are reserved on a first-come, first-served basis, according to William Carter, Cove Players president.

No Music For Minors

Music for Minors has no production scheduled for tomorrow. Last week's Marin Datebook in the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine incorrectly listed "The House That Jack Built," which played Feb. 28.

Next performance will be April 4.

'Complete Reversal' Charged In Sewer Row

The Ross Valley Sanitary District board today charged the Corte Madera Sanitary District board with "complete reversal of your previous position" in the latest in a long-drawn-out war of communiques over enlargement of the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant.

Last week, the Corte Madera board sent the Ross Valley board a letter setting forth objections to the latter body's latest proposal on financing the plant enlargement to handle Corte Madera sewage. The plant belongs to the Ross Valley district.

Today, president Peter A. Ribar of the Ross Valley board released the contents of his board's reply. It said further negotiations between the two districts on the plant enlargement are unnecessary.

The Corte Madera board's letter "is a complete reversal of your previous position and in direct conflict with the original proposed contract and our negotiations of the past three years," wrote Ross Valley manager Ralph C. Noah at direction of the board of directors.

"On or about Feb. 20, 1958," the reply states, "your board met with ours and specified certain objections to the contract as originally proposed (in 1956).

"These objections were fully considered by our board and each and every such objection was removed by appropriate changes in the contract," the letter continues. "We feel that there is no necessity for further negotiation and that your board should act upon the revised contract."

The Corte Madera directors, whose proposed $850,000 bond issue was soundly defeated by the voters Jan. 13, now are faced with the problems of providing treatment of increasing sewage in their district.

Bids Opened On Hill School Construction

The Ed Eoff Co. of Richmond submitted the lowest base bid on building an addition to Novato's Hill School, but because there were 14 alternate items on the bids, there is uncertainty as to which of three bidders will be awarded the job.

Bids were opened late yesterday. The base bids were all within a range of less than $1,000. The Eoff firm's base bid was $141,980. Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross submitted a base bid of $142,407, while David C. Walker and Associates of Cloverdale bid $142,800 as a base figure.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said today that architects John Lyon Reid and Associates will present a summary of the bids, including alternates, to district trustees Tuesday night. Decision as to awarding the job will depend on which alternates are finally considered essential.

The project will add a music room, arts-crafts-shop room, boys' and girls' locker-shower room and administrative space to the 19-classroom Hill School. The expansion of the school includes adding eight acres to the site's present 12 acres.

Smith said the district hopes to have the addition completed by the opening of school next September, but a recent delay caused by rejection by the state of the first set of bids on the job may make that impossible.

Copper Mine Struck

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Two railroad unions called 225 members off their jobs yesterday and thus began a gradual shutdown of mining and smelting operations of the Anaconda Co., Montana's largest single employer.

As many as 8,000 workers may be idled by Saturday because of the jurisdictional dispute.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive, Firemen and Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen touched off the work stoppage. They claim jurisdiction over loading ore into railroad cars at an open pit here.

The work has been performed by Anaconda crews who are members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind).

Main Replacement To Cost $61,000

Directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District have accepted the low bid of $61,000 by the MGM Construction Co. of Concord for replacing a 3,000-foot force main from a pumping station near the Greenbrae Bowling Alley to the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant.

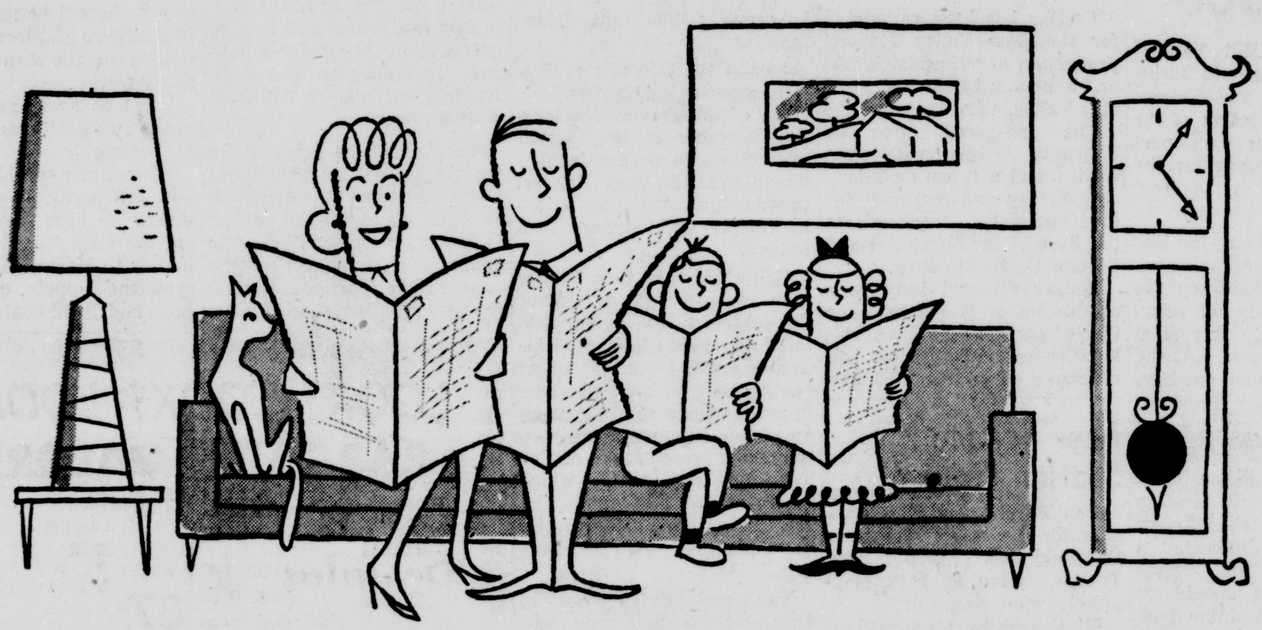

Work on the replacement should begin within two weeks and must be completed within 90 days under terms of the contract, according to Ralph C. Noah, district manager.

Five other bids were submitted, ranging to a high of $119,000, said Noah.

Nurses' Superintendent Gets Leave Of Absence

Mrs. Estelle A. McCall, superintendent of nurses at San Rafael General Hospital, has been granted a leave of absence to accompany her husband, Norman, to Florida because of illness in the family, John H. Prescott, newly appointed acting administrator, announced today.

She is expected to be away about two months. Mrs. Patricia Leonard of Novato is acting superintendent while Mrs. McCall is away.

MACHEN WINS 'COMEBACK' DEBUT

J.C. All-Stars Vie In Marin Tonight

The cream of the Golden Valley Conference basketball crop will be on display at Kentfield tonight when the champion College of Marin Tars take on a formidable array of all stars from the five other teams in the junior college circuit.

To start at 8 o'clock, the game is being staged to help raise expense money for Marin's trip to the California J.C. Tournament at Santa Monica beginning next week. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Marin Coach Cal Riemcke announced his starting lineup would include Bill Breuner at center, Larry Fulton and Jerry Reese at forwards and Claude Curley and Pat Anthony at guards.

Breuner, the 6-foot-8, 190-pound freshman from Marin Catholic, averaged 14 points a game this season and is expected to lock up in a big duel tonight with Bob Wright, the 6-5, 200-pound scoring machine from Sierra.

The balance of Marin's squad includes John Brookman, Dennis Slavich, Pete Stampa, Larry Trick, Junior Banuelos, Robbie Harvey and Milt Woods. ....

The All-Star squad will be coached by Woody Hutchison of American River J.C. and George Kutras of Shasta, whose teams placed second and third, respectively, behind Marin.

The All-Star lineup includes:

American River—Chad Germaine, 6-1, 173; Bill Witaker, 6-5, 200; Ray Vinall, 6-1, 171.

Shasta—Al Smith, 6-2, 190; Joe Brouillard, 5-10, 160.

Sierra—Bob Wright, 6-5, 210; Tim Burke, 5-10, 155; Terry Banderas, 6-0, 160.

Napa—Don White, 6-1, 175; Larry Hart, 5-11, 165; Joe Fuccy, 6-1, 185.

Yuba—Russ Mayfield, 6-3, 185; Harry Broumas, 5-10, 160.

Marin Athletic Director Harry Pieper said this morning that advance ticket sales indicate one of the largest crowds at Marin in recent years.

A preliminary game at 6:45 o'clock matches the Mill Valley Boys Club against St. Rita's of Fairfax.

S.R. Draws Unbeaten Macks In Champs Tourney Opener

San Rafael Bulldogs last night were selected to represent the North Bay League in the Tournament of Champions high school basketball classic next week at Berkeley.

San Rafael had tied Vallejo for the NBL championships, so the league's principals were called together in Sebastopol to vote for one representative. The secret ballot vote was 5-3 for San Rafael, presumably on the strength of the Bulldogs' two victories over Vallejo in NBL play.

With that good news under their belts, the Bulldogs went to school this morning only to be informed of some rather dismal news. That is they must face mighty, undefeated McClymonds High in the tournament's first round next Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

The Oaklanders, defending champs of the T of C, currently boast a 19-0 record for the season and are working on a 40-game victory streak over a two-year span. In one game this season the Macks ran up 100 points.

Said San Rafael Coach Bob Lincoln: "McClymonds plays a race horse style of basketball, but it doesn't scare us. We'll slow them down with our deliberate style."

San Rafael goes to the tournament with a 16-4 record. Its losses were to Santa Rosa, Tamalpais, Drake and Marin Catholic.

Lincoln said his tournament squad would include 15 players and a manager. He said Athletic Director Angelo Colombo, former head coach, would assist him.

Other teams in San Rafael's bracket besides McClymonds are Stagg High of Stockton (20 wins, 1 loss) and Richmond or Hayward of Alameda League.

All games will be played in University of California's Men's Gymnasium.

Other first round games next Thursday: Las Lomas (Diablo Valley League) vs. Poly or Washington (San Francisco); Santa Cruz (Coast Counties) vs. Sacramento (Metropolitan) and Stagg (Central) vs. Richmond or Hayward (Alameda League).

Last year the Drake Pirates represented the NBL admirably by winning the tournament's consolation champion. The year before Drake placed third.

Bam-Bam! S.F. Batsmen Murder Own Hurlers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants scheduled only a light drill today with no batting practice, presumably to give the pitchers a much-needed breather.

Three of the Giants' top hurlers—Johnny Antonelli, Stu Miller and Mike McCormick—had all they could do to protect themselves from the little white ball yesterday in the final intra-squad game of the training season.

Antonelli gave up two homers and six runs in two innings of work; Miller gave up another four-bagger, and McCormick dished up a three-run circuit clout in the one inning he pitched.

The six-inning game was won by Coach Wes Westrum's squad, 9-4, giving the second stringers a 2-1 edge over Coach Bill Posedel's crew.

Don Taussig accounted for much of the heavy belting with two homers and five runs batted-in. Hank Sauer had a three-run blast, and rookie Roger McCardell provided the varsity with its only round-tripper with a solo shot in the second.

Rookie pitcher Gaylor Perry and Ron Herbel, plus Phoenix veteran Dom Zanni, followed the three front-liners to the mound and were considerably more impressive, giving up only one run among them.

Manager Bill Rigney gave outfielder Leon Wagner a shot at third base in what was billed as the beginning of "Operation Late Inning Power." Wagner was fortunate to escape with his life, stopping two balls with his chest and ducking from a screaming liner off the bat of Jim Davenport.

Rigney said he plans to move Orlando Cepeda to third and put Bill White on first in future contests when the situation calls for more power in the lineup.

Another position switching experiment yesterday also had less than impressive results. Rightfielder Felipe Alou was tried out in left, where he booted one fly ball, then threw it way wide of home plate.

"I do believe that Felipe is a better rightfielder," Rigney observed.

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS

San Rafael American Little League will conduct tryouts for 11 and 12-year-old players tomorrow morning, 9 a.m. at the San Rafael Little League park. Younger boys will be tried out the following Saturday, it was reported.

Glover, Snow Star As Tam Swimmers Clobber Lincoln

Veteran freestyler Sid Glover and sophomore Rick Snow each won two events as the Tamalpais High School swimming team rolled up an impressive 78-17 victory over Lincoln of San Francisco yesterday at Tam's pool.

Glover won the 50-yard free in 26 seconds and the 100 in 59.7 while Snow swam the 400 freestyle in 5:00 3 and the 150 individual medley in 1:56.6. Tam won every event, including 100 butterfly, Mark Cory, 1:08.0; 200 free, Chris Coulon, 2:17.6; 100 back, Mike Harrison, 1:16.2; 100 breast, Kirk Laurie, 1:16.4; medley relay (Harrison, Jerry Gunn, Cory, Bill Emerson); 200 freestyle relay (Coulon, Stuart Anderson, Bob Mosher, Jack Lucas) and diving (Dennis Johnson).

Willie Discusses Past, Present, Future In Chat With Connolly

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — You can bet all the schmalz herring in Tel Aviv that Willie Mays will not wind up his baseball career on the inside of the nut cracker.

The big squeeze won't find Willie short. Not if he continues to play his future hunches like he played his past hunches.

And Willie, the Say Hey Kid, right now is mapping his plans for the day when he no longer hogs the spotlight in baseball. In the heat of this thriving Giant baliwick yesterday, I cornered Willie. And that is no cinch. He hardly has a minute to himself from the time he plants his feet on the diamond until he retires to the dressing room. And what's more, Willie doesn't like interviews of any duration.

"What I have to say, doesn't take long," was Willie's way of granting me the floor.

"Yep, baseball sure has changed since I busted in back in 1952," explained Willie.

"Ball players today are faster, smarter and more ambitious. And they have a distinct advantage. The older ball players help the young fellows. So the young fellow doesn't have to make so many mistakes.

"WHEN I broke in, the oldtimers were just starting to soften up and welcome kids.

'Today if a young player asks for counsel or for specific knowledge, he gets it without any strings attached."

Mays' comment on the biggest change since he came into the ranks is his own observation. He still ranks as one of the fastest men in the National League. But he says it isn't all due to speed.

"You got to use your own judgment in using your speed," he started off.

"I never have to be told I made a mistake. I know it the moment I make the boot. But I only make the mistake once."

"What are your plans when your playing days or over?" sezzi, explaining that I was asking the question only because I felt baseball people would like to know.

"I'M LOOKING right now for to get into some business," he answered. "I think this is very important. I would like a business of my own and one that wouldn't take too big of an investment."

Did Willie like San Francisco?

"That's a hard question for me to answer," stated the Giant outfielder.

"My wife and I were strangers. Still are, for that matter. I felt about San Francisco just like I felt about New York when I landed there. I was strange and nervous. My wife was the same. We're both getting over it now. But I can't just pick up stakes and quit New York all of a sudden. So it is going to take us another year or two to decide whether we want to make San Francisco our permanent home."

WHAT PLANS has Willie and his wife for the adopted boy?

"None right now," Willie laughs. "We ain't even really too much acquainted. But my wife and I feel that we are just going to try and let the little shaver grow up and if he decides to become an athlete it's okay."

Does Willie ever worry over getting hurt?

"I just never give it a thought," he explained. "I have only been hurt once and that was off the ball field. But I never even think of getting hurt, injured or spiked. And because I'm not thinking about it I just never seem to be unlucky."

Does he worry when he is in a slump?

"I never worry if I'm in a slump, just so long as the ball club is winning. But I do worry if I'm in a slump and we're losing at the same time. I worry because I can't help us win."

Did he play as hard as he is doing since getting into the high salary bracket?

"I GUESS I played harder when I was getting less money because I wasn't too sure of myself. But I've always played my best since I began baseball at the age of 8.

"Of course getting big money helps me work hard. I know I can earn more if I am able to please the baseball fans. They are the people who tell Mr. Stoneham how much I am worth to him. And I think he has been pretty much of a right guy with me ever since I joined the team."

What pitcher causes you the most trouble?

"All of 'em," yells Willie. "I can't ever think of a pitcher who can't trouble a hitter.

"BUT AS a general rule I'd say that the pitchers who have fluffy deliveries and sneaky slow stuff are the hardest to hit. With those kind of pitchers, the batter has to supply his own power. But with fast ball pitchers and curve ball pitchers, who are fast, they help a hitter deliver long drives."

How come you can run so fast and still be looking over your shoulder?

"I never watch the ball," explains Willie. "I just watches the player and move accordingly. I know if some outfielder fakes a throw and doesn't throw perfectly, I'll beat his throw."

WHAT CHANCE have the Giants of becoming world's champions in 1959?

"We've got a very young club and some of 'em are inexperienced," Willie replied. "But with our speed and our power hitters, we got just as good a chance as any club. In fact when we win the championship you can just say it is the start of a seven year span."

If I overlooked any questions to ask Willie, it isn't because I didn't think of them, but because it was his turn at bat and he just ran away and left me there getting sun burned in the hot Arizona weather.

Redl Favored Over Unbeaten Foe In TVer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stefan Redl has a burning ambition to win the welterweight championship. But he is not banking entirely on achieving that feat.

The Hungarian-born, German-reared fighter, now living in Passaic, N. J., meets unbeaten Eddie Jordan of Brooklyn in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jordan, 23, is subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. A victory over Ortega could have boosted the unranked Redl into the top ten. Fighting Jordan, a newcomer to TV fans, means just another payday for Steve. He is a 7-5 favorite.

A purse of $4,000-plus, however, is a big thing for the industrious European. He has taken his boxing earnings and his earnings as a truck driver and poured most of it into the purchase of a farm in Pennsylvania. He plans to raise beef cattle.

Redl's fight record is 22-3, including 13 kayos. He has failed in his major tests —against Gale Gerwin, Gil Turner and Vince Martinez. A loss to the unknown Jordan would knock him out of the big time main event class.

Jordan has plenty of incentive to win this one, too. This is his debut as a TV performer and Garden main eventer.

He stands 5-10 compared to Redl's 5-5. His record is 16 victories and two draws.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast—NBC, 7 p.m., PST.

Robertson Heads AP All-Amercan Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati—"A greater player this year than last."

Jerry West of West Virginia —"There's no one who can compare to him in all-around ability."

Bob Boozer of Kansas State —"Hardest to stop big man in college basketball."

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State—"Greatest player in the Southeastern Conference since Bob Pettit."

Johnny Cox of Kentucky — "Best when the going is tough."

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by The Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game.

Don Hennon of Pitt; Johnny Green of Michigan State; Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame; Leo Byrd of Marshall and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State were named as a second team. Hennon, a first team All-America last season, missed out this time because of Pitt's poor record. He and Pucillo, at 5-8½ and 5-9, respectively, are the smallest players on the squad.

Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech; Bob Ferry of St. Louis; Ron Johnson of Minnesota; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern and York Larese of North Carolina were chosen as a third team.

12 Go Tomorrow In Anita Derby

ARCADIA (AP) — Twelve 3-year-olds go to the post Saturday in the rich Santa Anita Derby and most eyes probably will focus on Silver Spoon, the lone filly in the field.

Upwards of 50,000 are expected to see the 22nd running of the event at a mile and one-eighth, out of which might develop a prospect for the Kentucky Derby and the other two gems of the triple crown.

Leading threats for the probable purse of $150,000 include Neil S. McCarthy's entry of Ole Fols and Finnegan; Royal Orbit from the estate of the late Jacques Braunstein, and C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon.

Others entered are Linmold, Prince Lewker, Tuleg, Fightin' Indian, Friar Roach, Mr. Deep Well, Die Hard and Jungle Dancer, son of Native Dancer and running companion of Silver Spoon.

Post time is about 5:05 p.m., PST.

Tanfo Opens To Hungry, Thirsty Fans

SAN BRUNO (AP)—Tanforan's 55-day thoroughbred race meeting opens today despite a strike of the Culinary Workers and Bartenders Union.

Management was assured by the union there would be no picketing.

Negotiations broke down yesterday between the union and Sports-service of San Bruno, Inc., which holds food and drink concessions. The strike is against the concessionaire, not the track.

Fred H. Ryan, vice president and general manager of Tanforan Co., Ltd., said "It looks as if our fans will have to bring their own coffee. We will operate without either bar or restaurant service."

Tanforan has its own contracts with the Teamsters, Pari-Mutel, Building Service and Operating Engineers unions. In 1957 a strike by the pari-mutuel clerks closed operations of a meeting here for 27 days.

Tanforan's opening means two major California tracks overlap. Santa Anita does not finish until March 11.

OPEN LETTER TO MARIN COUNTY CITIZENS!

Last year about this time everyone was talking recession. The Americans' morale was at low tide. In order to break the spell of recession talk the Automotive Industry put on an all-out drive called "YOU AUTO BUY NOW."

This drive was successful, it lifted Morale . . . Unemployment decreased sharply, people began to spend their money. It was successful enough to receive an outstanding tribute from the President of the United States.

Today as I see local business and residential people supporting the foreign trade I just wonder if it isn't time we take another look at our American economy. What would happen if:

1. Citizens in need of eye glasses would order them directly from Germany.
2. All new furniture customers ordered items from England.
3. Our auto manufacturers ordered their steel from Austria.
4. All the people desiring a new television or radio would order them from German or Italian exporters.

Wouldn't our country be in a sad state of affairs?

This very thing is happening every day right here in our back yard. You purchase your new radio, Hi-Fi or TV set and it's delivered to your door in a foreign vehicle. You buy your new set of eye glasses from our local doctor and he supports foreign economy by purchasing a foreign vehicle.

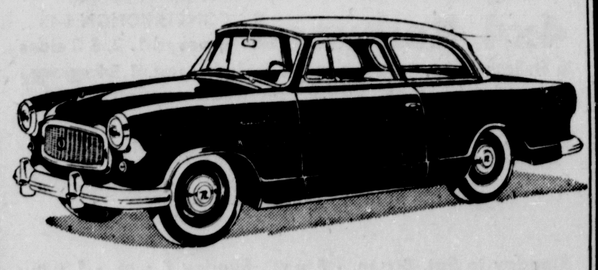

I appeal to you as good American Citizens to support your economy by purchasing American made merchandise.

We have a slogan here at Larry Brink Motors Inc., "Be An American, buy an 'American,' Made in America, by Americans for Americans."

We cordially invite you to visit our showroom at 450 Miller Ave., Mill Valley. We have "Americans" to suit your budget.

Cordially yours,

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

ANCHORS & ANCHORING

The most comfortable feeling in power boating is to have a power plant so efficient and well maintained that you know it will get you to your destination.

But next to that, I can think of no greater satisfaction than knowing that you have the equipment necessary to hold fast to the bottom when mechanical failure or other reasons make it necessary. There is nothing more helpless than a small boat (in a big sea) neither able to propel itself nor hang on to the bottom.

Fortunately, this helpless feeling need never be yours. For equipped with the proper ground tackle (anything used in securing a boat at anchor) you will be able to hold on and wait it out. Nor is ground tackle solely an emergency need. Anchoring is necessary under most ordinary conditions and therefore you should, as basic knowledge, know the why and how of it.

HERE THEN are some observations and the U.S.C.G.R. recommendations for ground tackle.

There are a good many types of anchors and we will not go into a technical dissertation, but you should know that the weight of an anchor rarely determines its holding ability.

Holding ability depends upon how quickly and efficiently the fluke (sharp holding points or blades on the anchor) dig into the bottom and how they react to surge and swell. Generally a new type patent anchor weighing 8 pounds will hold better than the old type anchors weighing 5 or 6 times as much.

It is not our intention to recommend any particular brand of anchor, but it would be difficult to discuss anchors without mentioning the names Danforth and Northhill, for these types of anchors revolutionized ground tackle thinking. They are lightest, most efficient, compact and certainly a boon to small boats. They do not depend upon their weight to hold.

FOR WHAT will fit your needs best, discuss your boat with your boat shop people.

No boat of any size should leave the dock without at least one anchor. If your boat is in the cruiser class, you certainly need two anchors. To be most effective, attach about 10 feet of chain to the anchor and then fasten the line to the chain.

Try to picture what happens when you lower your anchor: first the anchor itself touches bottom, lies down and will begin to dig in as soon as you start backing off. The chain now plays an important part because it is heavy and lies on the bottom, thus preventing the anchor from breaking out. The anchor line will float with the action of the water but the chain will not.

It is most important to know the depth of water in which you intend to anchor. For this you will need either an electronic depth finder (about $200.00) or a plain old lead and line (about $5.00).

LET OUT 6 times as much line as you have depth. Example: Depth—5 feet, anchor line 30 feet. That's a good average ratio. More line cannot hurt, but less line may prove ineffective, so stick to the 6 to 1 ratio.

Never, never throw your anchor out! It may get fouled up in its own line and it could also take you along with it! Lower the anchor straight down and as it touches bottom, go slowly astern (back up) until your slack has been taken up and the anchor has taken hold.

Under some conditions you will want to use two anchors forward in a V formation. Sometimes you will use your heavier anchor forward and a lighter one aft.

Before bringing in your anchor, start your engine and keep it at idling speed. Your anchor line should be taken in as you slowly go toward the anchor under power. Now when you are a few feet from the anchor, fasten the line to the bit, and give your engine a short burst of speed. This action will cause your bow to rise sharply and under ordinary conditions should break your anchor loose. Make it a habit to use your engine for the heavy work.

ANCHOR manufacturers have put out excellent small anchors and anchoring pamphlets that are yours for the asking. So get some from your boat shop.

Now just a word on care. When you have hauled in your anchor, give the line a chance to dry out before stowing below. Coil it loosely so that the air circulates through. And avoid kinking. A sharp pull against a kink will weaken the fibre and so lessen your holding potential.

Your ground tackle is an important part of your working gear. Give it the attention it deserves.

Schaefer's, a hustling quintet, kept the Dugout going all out during the entire game. Milt Hain, with 7 field goals and 2 free throws for a total of 16 points, led the Sports Shop attack. He was followed by Clark Muldavin and Don Munton, each with 10 points.

3 Marin Teams Vie Sunday In CYO Cage Semi-Finals

Three St. Raphael's Parish basketball teams trek to Berkeley Sunday afternoon to meet East Bay champions in the semi-final round of the San Francisco Archdiocese CYO Basketball Championships.

They are the 90 and 100-pound division teams that last weekend downed Sonoma County titlists in quarter-finals plus the 120's who were unopposed in quarter-finals. Two other St. Raphael's teams, 70's and 80's, were eliminated last week.

Sunday's semi-finals will be played in the St. Mary's High School gymnasium. San Rafael's 90's and 100's tackle St. Louis Bertrand's of Oakland while the 120's take on St. Elizabeth's, also of Oakland.

Eddie Malley scored five points to pace the St. Raphael's 90's to a thrilling 19-15 decision over St. Rose last Sunday at Marin Catholic. Field goals by Don Hanson and Bob Redding in the final minutes provided San Rafael's winning margin.

In St. Raphael's 23-22 win over St. Rose in the 100-pound class Ron O'Connell scored two key baskets and also led total scoring with 10 points to star for the victors.

New Shark Gun To Be On Display At Sports Show

A powerful shark gun will be among many new pieces of diving equipment on exhibit at the Marin Skin Divers Club booth at the Marin Rod and Gun Sports Show March 13-15 at Bermuda Palms.

The speargun, which is double-barreled, fires two steel shafts propelled by carbon dioxide.

It was made especially for hunting sharks by Alfred Giddings Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Marin Skin Divers Club.

He intends to take it on a forthcoming club diving trip to La Paz, Mexico, where he hopes to run into a shark or two.

The skin divers will display a large variety of other diving gear, including several new underwater cameras.

The Spanish gold plundered by Sir Francis Drake in the 16th Century would now be equal in value to Britain's total wealth if it had been invested at 6 per cent compound interest.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES

Former President Harry Truman and Britain's former prime minister Clement Attlee enjoy a laugh together during a chat yesterday at a downtown Kansas City hotel. Adlai Warns Russia U.S. Will Fight

BOSTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says the Soviets should understand that if they interfere with the West's freedom of access to Berlin they run the risk of war.

The two-time Democratic candidate for president advised the Soviet leaders in a speech last night "not to mistake the underlying temper of our people."

"When the President says we will not give in to force, he speaks for all of us. I pray there are no illusions in Moscow on this vital score."

Stevenson spoke at a dinner in honor of former Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody, a Democrat.

At an earlier news conference Stevenson said he agreed with Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that Stevenson would not seek the nomination in 1960.

"I agree with Mr. Butler. I am not a candidate in 1960."

In his speech Stevenson berated Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for "a tirade of abuse and threats" while British Premier Harold Macmillan was in Moscow.

The nation's largest fossil beds are in Sioux County, Neb.

Nikita Wisecracks Way Through Leipzig Fair

LEIPZIG, East Germany (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev swept through the East German Trades Fair today with a roving eye for German girls—"pretty, pretty, pretty"—and a series of off the cuff wisecracks.

He drank toasts to Alfried Krupp, the West German industrial magnate, and to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

He traveled at a pace that left his aides breathless but found time to call for stepped up trade between Russia and West Germany, to invite more Swedes to visit Russia and to plug the merits of plastic bathtubs over rockets.

He told the representatives of one big West Germany iron and steel firm which already is exporting heavily to the Soviet Union, "What you are sending us is not enough; we can buy your entire output of steel tubes."

A visit to the fair ostensibly was the reason of Khrushchev's visit here. But in two major political speeches he has offered to postpone a Berlin showdown beyond his May 27 deadline, but warned he will conclude a separate peace treaty wtih the East German Reds if the West continues to reject his cold war peace terms.

Western observers said his postponement of the May 27 deadline merely delays the crisis and does not ease it.

Russia's ambassador to East Germany, Mikhail Pervukhin, has scheduled a reception in Khrushchev's honor at the Soviet Pavilion tonight.

Tomorrow he goes to Berlin and reports here said he would make two speeches—to a mass rally at 9 p.m. Saturday in East Berlin's prinicpal street, the Stalin Allee, and a second in the big Werner Seelinbinder hall in East Berlin.

At the British exhibit Khrushchev was struck by the good looks of girls at a chemical booth. He asked if they were English. When told they were German he said, "pretty, pretty, pretty."

Then he turned to John Peel of Britain's Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., and said, "I do not want to offend your national pride but they seem to be better looking than English girls."

Anti-U.S. Riots Ease In Bolivia

LAS PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—The U. S. Embassy planned to reopen today after a letup in anti-American demonstrations.

The Bolivian Foreign Ministry said it did not expect any more trouble and advised embassy workers they could return to their homes in the capital. They were evacuated to the suburbs Monday to escape roters. None was hurt.

French Hunt Rebels Who Slew American

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — French troops fanned out in western Algeria today in an intense search for nationalist rebels who ambushed and killed an American and a German, and wounded another American.

The dead men were Homer Flint Kellems, 65, of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Airele Raimund Allen, 19, of Bonn, Germany, an interpreter. Kellems, was a brother of Vivien Kellems, tax-fighting Connecticut woman industrialist and unsuccessful aspirant to the U.S. Senate.

'Sealed In Easter Style' Theme For Tuesday's Fashion Luncheon

Fashionable outfits "Sealed in Easter Style" will be presented at Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus Luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, honoring Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc.

Seal of approval readied by R and M Style shops of San Rafael and Mill Valley which have seen twenty Easter parades go by and are well familiar with the needs of the fashion conscious Marin woman.

Not quite twenty years old is the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. whose Easter Seal drive is now underway.

Fashions stamped with approval by all age groups and figure types will be stressed in order that each guest may see herself in the "Easter Parade."

The spring of '59 is a hat year and hair styles created by Tone's House of Beauty will accent the spring bonnet. Beauty Counselor will coordinate spring make-up related to age, face and fashion.

This is the first time that the Marin Society and the other three groups working for Crippled Children and Adults have put their "Seal of Approval" on one event. It means a great deal for the Marin Society has just "sealed" some 40,000 envelopes which have been received by Marin residents.

Fashions will be modeled by Mrs. John Ehlen and Mrs. E. C. Brown of the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults; Mrs. A. C. Saul and Mrs. Ray Ehmke of the "Hobby Group," whose funds are used to further the work of the case policy committee, sending people to "Easter Seal Camp" and "Holiday House"; Mrs. Merton Preston and Mrs. Gunhild Brown of the "Recreation Unit" whose members operate a recreation program for adults, the year around, and for children during the summer, with funds provided by the Society; Mrs. Walter Moreno and Mrs. Donald Smith of the "Friends of Arequipa" whose many hours spent in volunteer work for funds raised to purchase equipment, put on parties, provide materials and for Case Work are greatly appreciated by the Society.

Handicapped members of the Recreation Program will be luncheon guests of John Rickey.

Table decor will be "lily" corsages made by various Units of the Friends of Arequipa; these symbols of Easter may be taken home by guests to be worn on milady's shoulder for a donation into the Easter Seal Can, placed on the table for that purpose.

These popular luncheons are open to the public and reservations may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

'PORTS OF CALL' TO BE THEME FOR SAUSALITO SCHOOL DANCE

Has your fondest dream been to sail to faraway islands? Your dreams can be fulfilled on Saturday, April 11, at least for one evening. You can board ship in the costume of the land you long to see and sail to the Corinthian Yacht Club for an evening of dancing and merriment via "Ports of Call," the Sausalito Nursery School's traditional dance.

Promising to be more exciting than ever before, this year two boats have been chartered to transport guests to and from the gala affair. A supper will be served at midnight.

The Nursery School's major fund-raising event of the year, the maintenance of the school's high standards is dependent upon the success of the dance. All interested persons in the county are invited to attend.

The price of the ticket to "Ports of Call," which is to be held on Saturday, April 11, will include dancing, midnight supper and the boat ride to and from the dance. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Berdahl in Sausalito, reservations chairman.

The weekend of March 6, 7 and 8 has been set aside for participating mothers of the school to sell tickets to the dance and to receive donations for the fund drive. The awards include a round-trip ticket for two to Lake Tahoe by Commodore Aviation, two dinners at the Alta Mira Hotel, a case of Masson Vin Rose, two dinners at the Ondine Restaurant and many others.

Square Dance Class

A beginners' square dance class will be formed on Monday, March 9, at Hammond Hall, Church of Our Saviour, Lovell and Old Mill streets in Mill Valley. The class, sponsored by the Redwood Rompers, Square Dance Club, with Al Malone as caller-instructor, is open to all couples who wish to receive instruction in basic square and round dance figures, and to progress through the intermediate stages.

Reed School District Holding Book Drive

Currently underway in the Reed School District is a drive for books of all kinds and in any condition. Purpose of the drive, which is being sponsored by the Reed Parent-Teacher Club and the Belvedere Nursery School during the month of March, is to round-up good titles, many of which are out of print, for both student and teacher libraries, to increase the supply of reference books and to complete the Reed District's set of topical bindings of articles in the National Geographic Magazines which are also being solicited.

Surplus books will be sold to defray handling costs. Many books have worn covers but the text and illustrations are still worthwhile and these can be salvaged by repairs and rebinding at minimum costs.

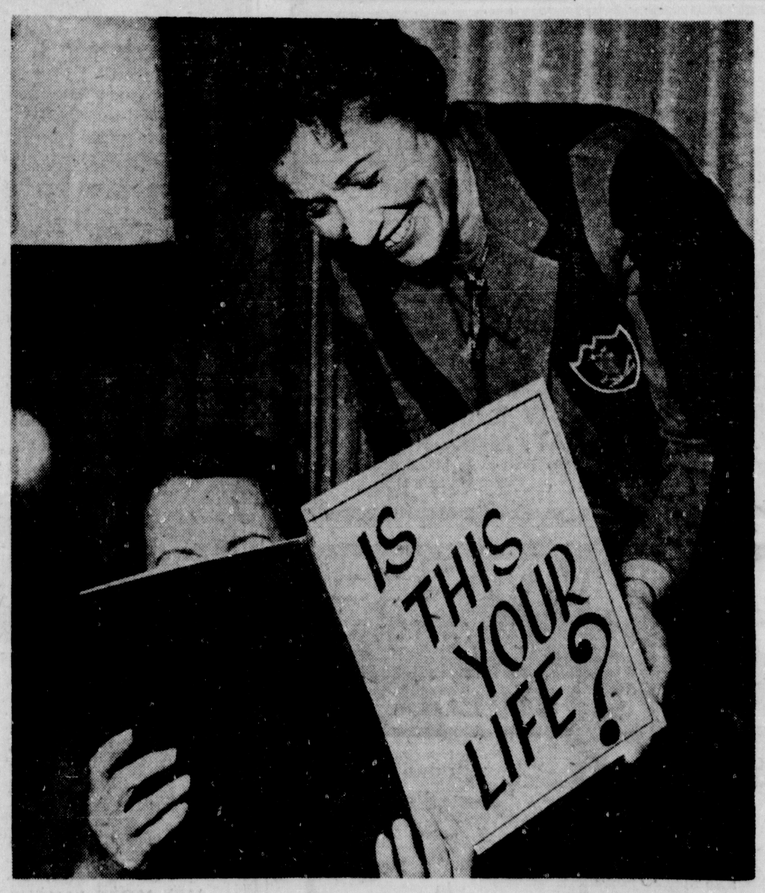

Any book, including paperbound editions, will be received, sorted for suitability and sent to the bindery for repair if necessary. Juvenile books for all ages are particularly desirable with pre-school level going to the nursery school which will pay its own charges for repairing damaged books.

A collection center and workshop has been set up on the Belvedere Boardwalk which is being staffed on a weekly basis by the four Units of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. This week Belvedere school mothers will staff in the morning under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Peterson and Tiburon mothers in the afternoon with Mrs. Harry Winblad in charge. Next week the Reed school mothers will be in charge, headed by Mrs. George McKegney; final week will be handled by the Bel Aire unit as arranged by Mrs. Lester Gorsline.

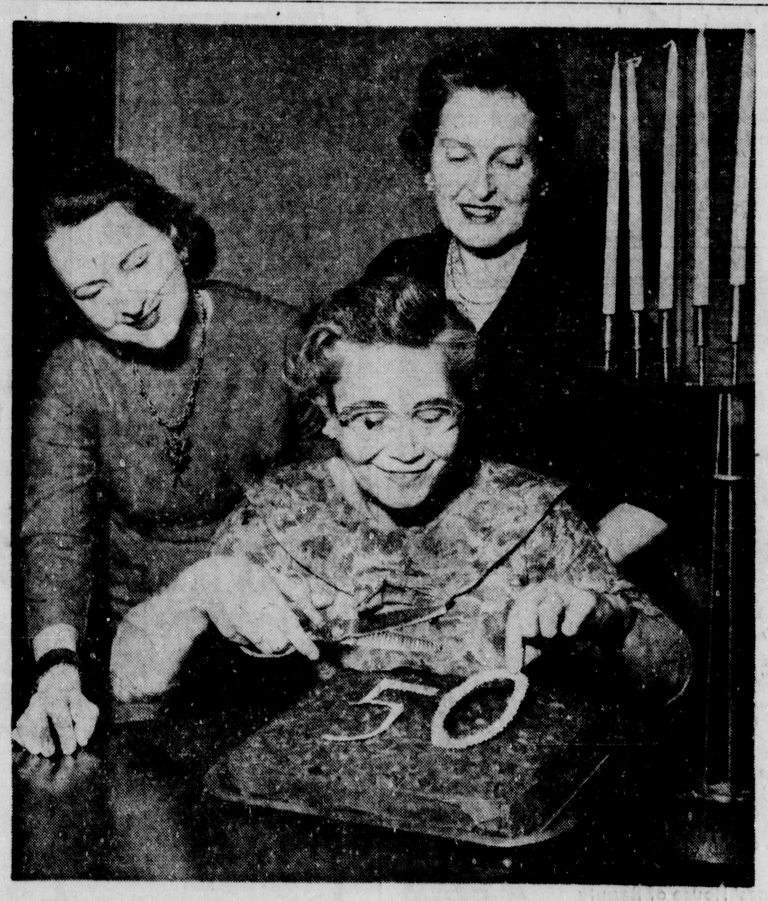

In addition to the Boardwalk collection center, books may be left at the four district schools, the Belvedere Nursery School and the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon.

Already donated are several sets of books including an encyclopedia of ten volumes which, although 20 years old, will be useful for many social studies and historical references. Art books, historical novels, detective fiction and current novels are among the first donations according to Mrs. Ralph Meyers, chairman of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club's library committee which has arranged the drive.

Assisting Mrs. Meyers are members of her committee composed of representatives from the four units: Mesdames McKegney, Reed; Gorsline, Bel Aire; Winblad, Tiburon, and Robert Bastian, Belvedere; school principals, Mrs. Edna Wessell, John Fitch and Robert Gaw; Mrs. William Polhemus, Book Fair chairman, who will solicit special donors; Mrs. Erwin Farley; Mrs. Stanley Dick, in charge of pick-up; Miss Joyce Wilson and James Wilson, Reed District teachers. Also assisting are Mrs. Melvin Gautier, posters; David Allen of the Boardwalk and the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department which has furnished tables.

Stewart-Futrell Nuptials Read Sunday In First Presbyterian

The First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael was the setting Sunday for the wedding of Marjorie Ann Futrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Futrell of Novato, and Edwin Duane Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Stewart of Corte Madera.

Officiating for the 2 o'clock ceremony was the Rev. Herrick J. Lane.

Arrangements of snapdragons and gladioli were at the altar and special nuptial music was sung by Mrs. Robert Marshall of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin ending in a chapel train. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline and fitted bodice and long lace sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a sweetheart shaped coronet of lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Shirley C. Wright of Napa, as matron of honor for her sister, wore a waltz length gown of emeraid green satin. An emerald bandeau of lace over satin matched emerald shoes and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Mrs. Roger de La Montanya and Joanne Locati of San Rafael, as bridesmaids, wore ensembles which matched the matron of honor's.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Futrell wore a blue brocade sheath with matching three-quarter length coat and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige taffeta dress with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

John Stewart of Omaha, Neb., the bridegroom's cousin, was best man and ushers were Richard Foster of Corte Madera and Harry Loftus of San Francisco.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony at the Corte Madera Recreation Center where gardenias were used on the bridal table and arrangements of snapdragons and gladioli in the rooms.

For a wedding trip, the bride wore a beige sheath with blue accessories.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Charles C. Baker of St. Louis, Mo., who was present at the wedding.

The bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is employed at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mr. and Mrs. Einar Hansen of Sioux City, Iowa, close friends of the bridegroom attended the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside in Corte Madera.

Marin Whirl-Aways Plan Activities At Kaffee Klatsch

Hosting Marin Whirl-Away members, folk and square dance group, attending the "first" business kaffee klatsch meeting of the year, were Nina and Emil Nelson, vice president of the club, at their residence in San Rafael recently.

Plans for future spring activities, including a "Beginners" class in folk and square dancing, to commence in the immediate future were formed.

Also, under forthcoming activities, was the enthusiastic acceptance for instruction, by Joe Angeli, on Wednesdays, 8:15 p.m., at the Greenbrae School, to which all folk and square dancers are invited, of the newly released Swiss dance, "The Chilbitanz," and "Las Virginias," newest of old Mexican dances, plus requests of old favorites.

Immediately following the business meeting, the attending members, Joe and Marie Angeli, Helen Buckle, George Ennis, Les and Violet Hennesey, J. B. and Diggins John, Al and Vera Preston, Hazel and Ralph Shera, enjoyed buffet refreshments served by the hosts.

West End P-TA Presents Award To Mrs. Cardoza

The West End Parent Teacher Assn. held its Founders' Day meeting recently with Mrs. Richard Webster, president, presiding. The salute to the flag was led by Den 4, Pack52.

During the buiness meeting Mrs. Douglas Godfrey, representing the nominating committee, read the slate of officers for the coming year as follows: president, Mrs. Richard Webster; first vice president, Mrs. Douglas Godfrey; second vice president, Miss Edwina Codoni; secretary, Mrs. George Mezzera; treasurer, Mrs. Bryce Anderson, and historian, Mrs. Louis Yuvan.

Past presidents who attended the Founders' Day program were Mesdames John Sauter, William O'Shaughnessy, Albert Chiaroni and Allen Kinsel.

Mrs. Avery McClurg, program chairman, introduced the school choir under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Unruh. The choir sang a selection of four numbers concluding with "The Orchestra Song."

Mrs. McClurg spoke on the meaning of Founders' Day and several of the projects undertaken by the Marin units.

Sixth graders, Marta Hayes and Linda Anderson gave a skit which explained the meaning of the Life Membership award and why it is given each year. Mrs. Eva Longley then presented the Life Membership to Mrs. Thomas Cardoza for her outstanding work in the school library.

Refreshments were served with the executive board acting as hostesses. Mrs. John Sauter and Mrs. Cardoza poured.

SHORT P-TA PAYS HONOR TO TEACHER

Mrs. Catherine Broadway, vice principal of Short School in San Rafael, was honored with an honorary life membership in California Congress of Parents and Teachers by Short School Parent Teacher Assn. at its recent meeting. Ross School P-TA Announces Dates For Two Events

As a public service the Ross P-TA is sponsoring the showing of a film released by Walter Reed Hospital and concerning oral resuscitation, the new method of life-saving, on Wednesday, April 1, at 8 o'clock in the school's activities room. The public is cordially invited.

Dr. Joseph Guthrie will be present to answer questions along with members of the American Red Cross and the Marin Medical Assn.

With swimming season close at hand the film takes on tremendous importance and may well be the means of saving a life. Oral resuscitation is the mouth to mouth method of breathing life into an unconscious person and received wide attention recently when a San Francisco doctor saved the life of a child by this method.

At the meeting of the P-TA Tuesday night, March 10, 75 Ross students will participate in the school's annual Spring Concert under the direction of Thompson Chesnut. One band and two orchestras will take part.

Preceding the concert the election of P-TA officers will be held and in honor of Girl Scout Week, members of Girl Scout Troop 121 of Ross will perform the flag ceremony.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Music Box Boasts Fine Pianist; Sun Lures Diners To Alta Mira

Last Wednesday Mrs. C. and I went to the Music Box to sample one of Gene Pah's fine stakes and also his crab Newberg and what did we find but that Leo Cramer had engaged a bambino called Nino at the piano, and he is something to give meaning to the restaurant's name.

What Nino Delgado does to the keyboard is matched by what he does to people. I dare you to spend an hour or two and not discover you're an undiscovered entertainer. He's that good.

He has Eddie Knott, the mixologist, singing Irish tenor songs and it wouldn't surprise me any if Leo himself started practicing crooning on the side.

Nino breezed in one day and talked Leo into signing him for four nights a week, Wednesdays through Saturdays. He places an innocent looking pair of maracas on the piano bar and once you pick them up you're lost in your own talent.

That same night a nice little chap named Jimmie Schmidt got in the act with an old Cudahy's ham can and a pair of jazz brushes, and Spence Watkins coming in to pick up his wife, Emma, who handles the tables, stayed to sing "Compare."

Nino, by the way, is recently from the Gangplank in San Francisco; was formerly with Ciro's in Los Angeles, and Ted Fiorito. No wonder.

OVER COFFEE with Harry Abras, whose finger is in more than one transfer of restaurants and liquor licenses, I learned that the Red Fox in San Rafael is due to be taken over March 15 by two French chefs, Paul De Vaux and Pierre Frobert. Present operators Don McLaughlin and Peggy De Mars will assume management of restaurant facilities at the new Greenbrae bowling lanes on that date.

Hard to tell yet exactly what changes will occur in the Red Fox cuisine. Presumably it will go continental.

Nature of the service at the Greenbrae Lanes is such that Don and Peggy will be handling mostly short orders.

SUNSHINE in Sausalito always means one thing for sure—luncheon crowds on the Tree Top Terrace of the Alta Mira Hotel.

Difference this year seems to be a heavier representation of the male element — business groups from both San Francisco and Marin .

Last Tuesday was a good example. The day was bright and clear, and attendance at the time I showed looked to be somewhere between 150 and 200. Probably 40 per cent were men. This was past the peak hour. Biggest run seemed to be on Max Huigi's salads.

THE BRICK LODGE on San Rafael's Fourth street, acquired by Guido Farina in a swap deal for Novato Joe's continues as before serving lunches daily—Guido handling the cooking himself while Mario Gattorna does the same at San Rafael Joe's, Guido's other eatery a few doors down the street.

Look for possible future expansion in space and service at the Brick Lodge—dinners probably, in which case Guido will set up a menu to attract all comers, including Teriyaki steaks, lobster tails and such.

Meanwhile he can handle banquet and group dinners for up to 50 by reservation. Nice place for color and atmosphere, and a fireplace which isn't used much in this kind of weather, but it's good scenery.

Starting Sunday, the Lodge will be open for gin fizz breakfasts at 10 a.m.—ham'n eggs, steaks—whatever you like at that hour.

FRAN O'NEILL, waitress at The Cellars, let the cat out of the bag. Marin old-timer Charlie Hutchison, who leaves for Tulsa next week on a fortnight's vacation, does so thanks to Fran's boss, Johnnie Mangini.

Johnnie found out that Charlie had a condition which has been growing worse as the months go by. Charlie's 65th birthday came up, so a dinner was held with Johnnie donating the food. All proceeds went for Charlie's trip home, and an unnamed donor provided round trip airplane tickets.

Good thing to look into is the Cellars' $1.25 lunch—steak sandwich with paste or salad. Also the New York cut on Thursday and Friday night dinners.

ONE PARTY who is not pleased with San Rafael's "Big Circle" one-way street traffic plan is ex-restaurateur Hector Rubini.

Hector bought the Yacht Club tavern on Irwin street and he claims the northbound one-way setup past his door does anything but help business. He was all geared up to remodel and serve food, too, but now—I dunno.

Fireman Can Park Truck Until June

County Fireman Loren A. Hall of Larkspur can continue parking a fire truck in the carport of his home at 60 Diane lane until June as far as the city of Larkspur is concerned.

The city council Wednesday night voted to delay decision on Hall's request for a zoning ordinance variance until July. In effect, this gives Hall the right to continue parking the truck in his carport until that time.

A new fire county station, to be constructed by June, will then house the truck, reported City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

Several New Films Opening Sunday At Marin Theaters

By LESLIE DARD

Several new movies are opening in Marin Sunday. Here are the details, along with capsule comment on other weekend fare:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Clifton Webb takes a firm stand for bigamy in a new comedy (color and CinemaScope), "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," which comes to this theater on Sunday. His views are not meant to be taken seriously, of course.

Webb has settled into a happy marriage, with a large and noisy family, in Harrisburg, Pa., around the turn of the century. He likes the set-up so much that he establishes a similar household in Philadelphia, where he frequently spends time on business.

He insists, when he's discovered, that he was merely a generation or two ahead of his time and calls on the children of his first marriage to be his judge, which sets up a mad trial scene.

It adds up to a spoof of family life in the Gay 90s, with Clifton Webb running the show.

Through tomorrow night, the feature is "The Big Country," starring Gregory Peck, Burl Ives and Jean Simmons.

RAFAEL THEATER

Gary Cooper is a combination of frontier psychiatrist and fast gun in "The Hanging Tree" (color), an offbeat Western which will sprout on the Rafael screen Sunday.

Cooper's co-star is Maria Schell as a girl confronted by illness, both mental and physical, after being abandoned to die during a stagecoach robbery.

She was burned and blinded by the sun, and while Cooper is able to cure these ailments, he still must overcome her shock at seeing her father slain in the holdup. His devious therapy throws her into a prospecting partnership with Karl Malden, the village bully, which leads, in turn, to a full-scale shooting match as well as an animated lynching bee.

Through tomorrow night, the feature is "Separate Tables," just nominated for an Oscar as best film of the year. It stars Burt Lancaster, Deborah Kerr and David Niven (the latter two were nominated in the best performance category).

LARK THEATER

Currently showing at the Larkspur theater is "Albert Schweitzer," a worshipful film biography of the great humanitarian who has combined music, philosophy, theology and medicine to become a contemporary hero.

It is composed of two parts: an examination of the haunts of Schweitzer's youth in the picturesque Alsatian village of Gunsbach, and a study of his famed hospital community in Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa.

Schweitzer himself prepared the narrative, which is spoken by Frederic March. It adds up to a film which shows a great man at work.

FAIRFAX

"Houseboat" (color and CinemaScope) is a sophisticated fairy tale, full of the hokum fairy tales are made of, but with some entertaining types on hand. The cast is headed by Cary Grant and Sophia Loren.

Cary plays a widower whose only problems are his three kids, all straight from the pages of Dr. Spock. Sophia is the daughter of a visiting Italian musician who is out to Find a Man. Instead, she finds one of Grant's offspring (all are slightly mad), and winds up as the family maid.

The houseboat of the title comes in after the house in which Grant plans to live is hit by a train! Because of the Washington, D.C., housing shortage, the family moves into the broken down ark on the Potomac, which provides the setting for the capture of Grant by the luscious Sophia.

SEQUOIA

Tonight and tomorrow, the Sequoia will be showing "The Robe" and "Demetrius and the Gladiators." The first-named was the first CinemaScope movie ever made and still stands up as a rousing hit of biblical film-making.

On Sunday, "Separate Tables" is slated to move over from the Rafael.

Basically, this is two stories, both set at an English resort hotel. The first deals with an American writer (Burt Lancaster) whose ex-wife (Rita Hayworth) trails him to the place and, by her presence, evokes memories he'd rather forget.

The second tale tells of a very British major (David Niven) who talks constantly of the good old days when he fought in Africa, and a spinster (Deborah Kerr), who hangs on to his every word. Then the major is arrested for molesting a woman, and unmasked as a former lieutenant who never saw action.

How the relationships of these people are resolved makes up the gist of this surprisingly frank film, which was scripted by playwright Terence Rattigan.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

Gary Cooper in "Man of the West" (CinemaScope and color) is the weekend feature. In it, he portrays a reformed outlaw turned pillar of the community who is entrusted with the town's savings to go east and hire a schoolteacher.

His train is robbed, and Coop winds up stranded with a somewhat tarnished dance hall singer (Julie London) and a con man (Arthur O'Connell). His gun and the money are gone.

We won't reveal the details, but suffice that Cooper winds up returning to outlaw status in company with his chums from the past, a rugged crew headed by Lee J. Cobb. Cobb, gone soft in the head, decides to stage a bank holdup, with Cooper helping out.

The hair-raising scenes are frequent before Gary is safely back in the saddle once more, the proper number of gunmen dispatched to Boot Hill.

'AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS'

Phileas Fogg, intrepid adventurer, right, and his antic servant use a balloon as a means of transportation for their trip around the world. Fogg is played by David Niven and the Mexican comedian Cantinflas is the servant in the technicolor production of "Around the World in 80 Days," which will open at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael Wednesday. A special matinee has been arranged for opening day and three complete shows may be seen Saturday and Sunday and nightly at 8 p. m.

Red Cross 'Roll Call' Under Way

The Marin County Chapter of American Red Cross this week launched its annual "roll call" by mail.

By agreement with the Marin United Fund, letters were mailed only to a selected list who did not include their total gift for Red Cross in their Crusade donation.

When the Red Cross became a member of the United Crusade the door-to-door solicitation in March was discontinued. "This agreement still stands," said Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, chairman of the Marin County Chapter, "but we are charged by National Red Cross to hold an annual 'roll call' during 'Red Cross Month.'"

Mrs. William R. Eastman Jr., fund chairman, adds anyone who would like to send an additional gift earmarked for the recent disasters would be serving where the need is great. During January and February, 10,731 families applied for help from the widespread floods.

Work Starts Soon On Catholic School Faculty Building

Preparation of the site for a new two-story and basement faculty building for Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School in Mill Valley will begin next week, Rev. John J. O'Brien, pastor, announced today.

Contract for the work was let to Edward W. Burgar, Inc., of San Rafael at $96,000, lowest of 10 bidders.

"The structure will be used essentially as a residence hall for the Sisters who are teachers at the school," Father O'Brien said. "There will also be a chapel, visiting rooms and complete maintenance facilities.

The new structure will be located on Buena Vista avenue opposite the school and directly to the rear of the Mill Valley Post Office. An old residence on the property will be demolished to provide space, Father O'Brien said.

San Rafael Skier Hurt In Squaw Valley Mishap

Peter Stragnola, 21, son of San Rafael bail bondsman James V. Stragnola returned home from Squaw Valley Wednesday night on crutches.

He suffered a long gash below his right knee while on a slalom course with several buddies Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-six stitches were taken to close the wound.

A student at University of Oregon, young Stragnola was serving as a member of the ski patrol at the "Junior Olympics" at Squaw Valley.

New Set Of Experts In Schools Make Difference In Delinquency

We've a new set of experts in our schools, teachers of classes for the mentally retarded. Until recently, inferior teachers were often assigned the classes for the retarded. Usually they hated the assignment. Everybody suffered.

Those days are going, thank goodness. We know now that nearly all of the children labeled "retarded" will make good citizens. Almost all of them will earn their own way. They may not play chess, and they won't read the tragedies of Aeschylus. But they'll build homes, raise families, vote and pay taxes. They'll live normal lives.

We're learning how to teach them. We don't set up impossible goals for them in class, then punish them for failing. We set up goals they can reach if they really try. We teach them at their own slower speed. That's why we need special classes. They thrive in them and they don't hold back the kids in the regular classes.

Their teachers need special preparation. Some of our best teachers now are going back to college for training. Good teachers are asking for the job of working with retarded children. Many schools pay them a salary bonus. They earn it. Textbooks for their pupils are few and far between. They rewrite or adapt other books. Their classes usually stress hand activities. Gardening and woodwork for the boys, homemaking for the girls. Teachers of retarded children need to know how to do practically everything.

I helped bring special classes for mentally retarded pupils to one big city. Previously a shocking percentage of the kids were delinquent. Now very few of them are. Their special class teachers made the difference

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "A psychologist says our girl has an I.Q. of 75. Do children of her ability ever learn to read?" —M.I.

(A) Yes, they do. They should not start to learn to read until they're 8 or 9. Most of them can learn readily then.

Rockefeller Assailed By NAACP Aide

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has refused to support civil rights legislation the NAACP favors.

"That's completely untrue," the Republican governor replied in a statement.

Herbert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, headed a group of 40 state NAACP representatives who met privately with Rockefeller yesterday.

Hill told reporters that Rockefeller would not pledge support for bills to fix minimum wages for migrant workers, give added power to the State Commission against Discrimination, authorize a study of alleged segregation in New York City schools, and ban bias in private housing.

Rockefeller denied that he said he would not support the programs.

"I expressed complete sympathy with the objectives discussed by the NAACP representatives," he said.

The governor said he asked for specific additional information on the first three proposals and reaffirmed his support of the objectives of legislation to ban discrimination in private housing.

Tight Budget Best Solution To U.S. Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — How can Uncle Sam finance the record national debt without inviting a fiscal crisis or fostering the inflation he hopes to avoid?

President Eisenhower and his top advisers on money matters argue that a balanced budget offers a basic solution. They say a budget in the red threatens financial stability on two counts:

1. Directly, by forcing the Treasury to borrow more cash. This promotes inflation of the money supply because the government must rely heavily on bank credit when it borrows.

2. Psychologically, by increasing inflation fears.

NOW'S THE TIME

Officials say that if the budget isn't balanced in the coming fiscal year, in a time of relative prosperity, people will doubt that red ink spending can ever be controlled.

People who expect continued budget deficits are less apt to save and lend, lest the value of their savings be whittled by inflation.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson recently told Congress: "If we ever reach the point where people believe that to speculate is safe but to save is to gamble, then we are indeed in trouble."

He was unquestionably thinking (1) of the present reluctance of many people to save through investment in government securities (treasury I.O.U.'s) and (2) of the rush of money into the stock market.

Anderson and other administration policymakers have made the balanced budget a major article of faith because they believe even a small deficit would do great harm. They think any unbalanced budget would have a psychological impact that would promote gambling and discourage saving.

Besides hoping to balance the budget, the administration sees another possible solution to the Treasury's debt management problems: more borrowing on an intermediate and long-term basis.

No one will guess when the government will be able to do this. Officials say they expect to have the chance later in the year.

Right now, because lenders are motivated by fear of rising interest rates and inflation, the Treasury has to do most of its borrowing for short terms.

Long-term loans generally are much less inflationary because a smaller proportion of long-term money is provided by the banks. Bank credit means inflation of the money supply.

ONLY ONCE

Since last July, the Treasury has gotten only one loan which comes due in more than five years. It borrowed 885 million dollars in January on a 21-year bond priced to yield 4.07 per cent interest.

This brings up another problem. By law, the Treasury can't pay more than 4¼ per cent interest on a bond.

Some people want the ceiling raised. They say the Treasury should obtain more long-term loans even if it has to offer record interest rates to get the money.

SINCE 1918

The present interest ceiling has been in effect since 1918. The Treasury is determined to avoid asking Congress to increase it except as a last resort.

Many congressional Democrats would tear into any such request. They would accuse the administration of trying to line the pockets of the rich at the taxpayers' expense. There would be, no doubt, an investigation of Treasury policy and interest rates.

Interest on the debt now totals more than eight billion dollars a year and is second only to defense as the largest single category of federal spending.

The administration wants to avoid a donnybrook over the interest ceiling. However, if the Treasury has to continue relying on short term loans, and sees real trouble ahead, an increase may be requested.

ANOTHER CHOICE

Still another suggestion is to have the Federal Reserve System peg the price of government securities at pre-determined levels. When prices fell below these levels the reserve system would buy; if prices rose, it would sell.

While this would increase confidence in the stability of bond prices, it might also touch off an inflationary rise in bank credit if the Federal Reserve were forced to buy vast amounts of Treasury securities.

The Treasury is opposed to this plan.

Anderson and his aides hope, in fact, that they can avoid any drastic solution. They say they are optimistic the problem won't get acute enough to require this.

Hearing Held On Methods Of Builder

A hearing on alleged failure of George Edward Kupka of 104 San Gabriel drive, Fairfax building contractor, to pay certain bills to suppliers and subcontractors and also his alleged failure to follow building plans exactly, was continued until April 7 after a long session Wednesday.

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on April 7 before Jerome P. Herst, hearing officer of the State Contractors License Board, at 507 Polk street, San Francisco.

One of the accusations concerns a three-year-old bill for $245 owed to Ongaro Plumbing Co. of San Anselmo on a Larkspur job.

The hearing officer has the authority to dismiss the charges or to order Kupka's contractor's license suspended or revoked.

A British war correspondent and world traveler, William Courtenay, will present two lectures at Fts. Baker and Berry on Tuesday.

Courtenay will speak on "The Role of Man in Modern War" at the Ft. Baker theater Tuesday at 9:15 a.m., and at the Ft. Berry theater at 1:30 p.m.

In addition to Army missilemen, military dependents and civilian guests are invited to attend either of Courtenay's presentations, said Maj. Gen. E. J. McGaw, commander of the 6th Region, Army Air Defense Command.

Rogers Won't Run Again For Post On Sausalito Board

Robert E. Rogers, senior member of the Sausalito School District board, announced today that he will not file for re-election to his post. He was first elected in 1953.

The term of Mrs. Minnie Sievers, board chairman, also expires. She has announced that she will seek re-election.

"It is my firm conviction that no member should serve more than two successive terms," Rogers said. "New blood should take over at that time."

Rogers is an executive of Mark-A-Line Co. of Sausalito.

Fairfax Recreation Director To Resign

Fairfax Recreation Director James Gallagher is quitting at the end of May because of conflicts with his work as a San Rafael real estate agent.

Gallagher told the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission Wednesday that he would stay as recreation director until the spring boxing matches are over at Fairfax Pavilion.

"We are in the process of finding a new recreation director," said Ralph E. Ford, chairman of the commission.

KTIM's Dixieland Man Got His Drawl In Maine

LEE CROSBY
Led first band at 10

Lee Crosby, the Dixieland jazzman of radio station KTIM, has a deceptive Southern drawl. He was born and educated in Bridgton, Maine.

Lee's interest in music began early. He was 10 when he organized his own band. This little five-piece outfit was kept busy on weekends playing Grange halls, bean suppers and county fairs.

During World War II, Crosby flew with the Air Transport Command in the Pacific Theater and upon his return from combat duty was stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base. After his discharge, he returned home to attend the University of Maine where he was in the well-known Bearcat Band.

He completed his education at San Francisco State College and he received a bachelor's degree in marketing advertising in 1951.

Lee came to KTIM in 1952. His current programs are heard in the early morning and late afternoon. A Dixieland musician as well as a disc jockey, Lee and his band of "disgruntled Confederates and outcast Northerners" ply the trade as Dixieland music makers around the Bay Area.

Timothy Crosby, Lee's 2-year-old son, has broken 14 guitar strings to date. It is a record, Lee proudly claims, that not even Elvis can match.

Radio Man With Big Prize Coming To Marin Tomorrow

Owen Spann, KCBS radio personality, will make an appearance in Marin tomorrow morning, and the person lucky enough to spot him first will win 52 weeks of free entertainment in Bay Area amusement spots.

How can he be found? Elementary, my dear readers—he's been spouting clues all week.

The opening contest was won last week by a San Francisco couple, Barbara and Dick Rosenberg, who found the elusive Mr. Spahn at Seals Stadium.

Sometime between 9 and 10 a.m. tomorrow Spahn will appear at the Marin mystery spot. The clues he has given include these couplets:

"Near the water, near the hill
Outside busy, inside still."

"Just over the ridge,
After crossing the bridge."

"Where children play and buses park,
You'll find me an easy mark."

"Palm trees sway, though just a few,
Water spouts, sometimes on you."

"Two circus pets side by side,
And in the center, those who died."

Prizes include dinners at 11 restaurants, tickets to five movie theaters, three plays, to concerts, lectures, and sporting events as well as night club admissions and special events.

SHOPPING CENTER GROWS IN TERRA LINDA

Marinites who shop at the Terra Linda Shopping Center are readily serviced by as many as 12 different businesses, each providing separate goods and services in a modern setting. The center, first store in which opened for business less than three years ago, today serves residents from throughout the Las Gallinas Valley. Several new stores have opened recently. Fire, Explosions Cause Fear Of Nike Disaster

The combination of heavy smoke and the sound of repeated explosions near Ft. Cronkhite yesterday afternoon caused a rash of telephone calls as frightened residents called to inquire whether Nike installations were exploding or being threatened by fire.

Neither was the case.

The coincidence of controlled burning on the Dean Witter ranch immediately north of Ft. Cronkhite territory just as Army ordnance details were exploding "outdated and deteriorated" ammunition near the Ft. Cronkhite lagoon combined to raise fears in Marin and San Francisco.

Spokesmen at 6th Army headquarters at the Presidio and Army Air Defense Command headquarters at Ft. Baker confirmed that the entire operation was routine and that no installation was in trouble

The Marin County Fire Department sub-station at Marin City said the ranch operators had obtained permission for the burning from the Air Pollution Control District. Fire Capt. Frank Machado from Marin City was on the scene observing the operation.

No fire equipment was present, firemen said.

Drake Senior Play Set For March 13, 14

Sir Francis Drake High School's term play, "Nuts in May" by Cornelia Otis Skinner, will be presented March 13 and 14 at the high school little theater. It was originally scheduled for this weekend.

The play revolves around the confusion on opening night of a Broadway play. The curtain wil rise on the production at 8 o'clock both evenings.

On Engineer Panel

Carlton E. Cherry, who heads the department of engineering at College of Marin, has been elected chairman of the tripartite committee recently formed by the state Department of Education and regents of the University of California to replace the former university-junior college pre-engineering liaison committee.

200 Entries Expected In Marin Science Fair

At least 200 scientific entries —one-third more than last year, are expected for the second Marin County Science Fair at Tamalpais High School on March 17 and 18.

Andrew McClain, Tam science instructor who is directing the fair for the second time, has again opened the contest to pupils from seventh through 12th grades of public, private and parochial schools.

Invitations for entries have been issued to science teachers in schools throughout the county. Contestants will vie for blue ribbons in three grade classifications and for a sweepstake prize.

Deadline for entries is next Monday, McClain said.

Members of the Tam Science Club will set up the exhibits in preparation for the judging, scheduled March 16 at 7 p.m., with the following two days to be open to the public from 7 to 9 p.m.

Judges have been chosen from representatives of Bay Area scientific and research installations.

The judges are Dr. Paul Wilson, professor of biological sciences, College of Marin; Gregor A. Vincent, chemical engineer, Bechtel Corp.; Dr. Joe Gustafson, San Francisco State College, professor of biology; Dr. Florence Haimes, professor of physical science, San Francisco State; Mrs. Marion Page, teacher of biology at San Mateo High School; Dr. N. W. Mellars, research dentist, in San Francisco; Rev. John Cunningham of Marin Catholic High School; Robert Rice, director of the Bay Area Science Fair and head of the science department at Berkeley High School; Dr. Richard A. McGinnis, general chemist, Spreckels Sugar Co.; Howard A. McGill, board of trustees, Tamalpais High School; Jane H. Adams, teacher, Edna Maguire School; Edward L. Hanchett, teacher, Pacheco School; Robert Prather, teacher, Drake High School; Cliff Bunds, teacher, Drake High School; Charles Reneau, teacher, Tamalpais High School; John Burke, chairman of science department at Washington High School, and Dr. William G. Toland, Dr. George Benoit, Dr. R. O. Bolt, Dr. George Dension, Dr. Paul C. Condit, Dr. Leonard E. Miller, all chemists at California Research Corp.

The famous coffee houses in Vienna sprang into popularity only in the 18th Century when newspapers were supplied along with a pot of coffee.

France, Russia, Morocco and Sweden have organized mobile schools to travel with gypsies and give their children some education.

"Zoonoses" is the technical name for those diseases which can be transmitted to man from animals. Since 1956 the Pan American Zoonoses Center at Azul, Argentina, has been studying this health control problem.
